

tendance was large and the exercises solemn and impressive. The dead in whose memory these services were held are Hannah B. Sapp, aged 21 years; Lora Etta Johnson, aged 22 years; Annie Lizzie Will, aged 21 years; Sarah J. Muselmeier, aged 12 years; Eva Lizzie Adams, aged 6 years; J. M. Haworth, ten years of the school, aged 41 years; and Lillie Derfer, aged 3 years, all of whom were members of the school, and Samuel Gardner, who was a member of the church. The casket is to be photographed, before the flowers are removed, at the urgent request of the friends of the dead.

Lutheran.

The observance of the day in Trinity Lutheran church comprised the administration of the holy communion to a large congregation, in which were included a class of about thirty who were confirmed on the preceding Friday evening. The pastor, Rev. Dr. Greenwald, was assisted at this service by Rev. E. L. Reed, of Christ church. There was no sermon. In the evening the pastor preached an impressive sermon on the descent of the Holy Spirit. There was no attempt at elaborate decoration here, though the pulpit and baptismal font were neatly adorned with ferns.

Grace Lutheran church, Rev. C. E. Houppermeyer, was decorated with ferns. On the altar was a pyramid of flowers surmounted by a large floral lyre, surrounded by smaller devices. On the pulpit and reading desk were crosses, anchors and bouquets. The baptismal font contained a pyramid of white flowers, and from it trailed a wreath of smilax. In front of and above the pulpit was suspended a white dove. Rev. Houppermeyer conducted the service. There was a large communion in the morning at 10:30, and sermon in commemoration of the day in the evening.

In the German Lutheran churches—Zion and St. Stephen's—there were no special decorations, but there were large communions in both, and sermons preached in commemoration of the descent of the Holy Spirit.

—PFINGST.

Wednesday Celebration.

To day opened pleasantly with alternating sun and cloud, and an atmosphere just cool enough and just warm enough to be pleasant. At an early hour the country folks began to pour into town, and by ten o'clock the streets were well filled but not crowded to the extent that prevailed in "and lang syn." Of course the boy (there are dozens of him) who gets drunk or on glasses of soda water was on hand and became very hilarious. His glib tongue, his broad smile, his hands open with hooked little fingers, until he became boorish, and then she wanted to go home. The countrymen who get drunk on beer and whisky, were also early in the field and some of them were early in the lock-up. The city played swell, sharp and burrmer were on hand to get free beer at the expense of their green country cousins. Pretty country misses with rosy cheeks, bright eyes, innocent-looking faces, and generally bad-fitting dresses ent in imitation of those worn by their city sisters, promenaded the streets, ate ginger cakes and peanuts, and occasionally indulged in a glass of "ice cold lemonade," which was to be found at tables all around Centre Square and along the principal thoroughfares. It was especially noticeable that nearly all the tempestuous flings have dissolved the coquettish raspberry, "and when I stand a steed a woman semi-savant dual yelped, lemonade, but most of which was guiltless of lemon juice. The peanut vendor was on every corner and sold his peanuts red hot at an enormous sacrifice. The organ-grinder played unceasingly while his ancient assistant passed around the hat with a studied self-abnegating smile so child-like and bland that none except those having hearts of stone could fail to drop a penny in the hat. A greater musical attraction was a little German band that has been playing in the streets for a few days past, and a still greater; one was the Marietta band, dressed up in new blue uniforms and straw hats and accompanied by a major domo with immense staff and a bear skin hat two feet high and mounted by a lofty pompon red and white. The man with the top-hat would be the conductor and did their business, selling his red, white and blue balloons to all sorts of people. The fighting men were also on hand and took an early occasion to show the development of their muscle. Those from the country were honest enough to stand up and take a square knock down or a rough and tumble, but the city roughs, both black and white, as usual demanded odds before they pitched in. The taverns and saloons did a good business, but the "business men," as called, those engaged in legitimate trade complain that the country folks have come to town to have a spree and not to purchase staples. On the whole, Pfingst is deteriorating and is not now to be compared with what it was in "the good old days of old," when great fairs, and first class shows, and flying dances, and gaudy games and colorful dresses formed prominent parts of the festivities.

About noon to day several white countrymen were attacked on Middle street by a party of darkies. One of the countrymen had his face cut and he fled, leaving his hat behind. The others escaped unscathed.

A fight occurred at the Cross Keys hotel; two of the combatants were gathered in by the police, and a fresh young man who interfered with the officers was taken with the fighters. Bail was furnished.

Taylor's orchestra is holding its fourth annual picnic at Telt's Hain to day, and another is being held at the Green Cottage.

A boat race took place at Potts' between Abraham Stauffer, J. S. Miller, W. Maloney, B. D. Dailey and H. Goff this morning. Mr. A. Stauffer won the race in 15 minutes. The wager was for a five dollar hat.

A Game of Baseball.

Following is the score of a game of baseball played on the college grounds this morning. It will be seen that it is a good one:

IRONSIDE		P. & M. COLLEGE
Zucker, c.....	1	Miller, 2 b.....	1 2
Hook, c.....	1	Franklin, 1 b.....	2
Kautz, 2 d.....	2	Sheffield, H., s.....	2
G. W. Miller, 3 b.....	2	Sheffield, J., s.....	1
Humbright, r. t.....	1	Sheffield, W.	1
Weinberg, l. t.....	1	Bitter, c.....	1
King, 3	1	Traynor, c.....	1
Miller, 1 b.....	2	Dutton, 6, l.....	1
Miller, 1 b.....	2	Randolph, 3 b.....	3 0
F. Witmer, p.....	4
	27 1
	1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9
Ironside.....	1 0 2 2 0 2 0 2 1	1 2 12
Umpire's decision.....	0 0 3 2 0 0 2 1	3 11
Time of Game—2 hours.

Awarded a Medal.

At the late Westminster kennel club bench show, in New York, Jos. R. Trissler, of this city, was awarded a silver medal, the second prize, for his Irish red setter "Rapid Star."

A Horse Badly Hurt.

As Mr. Jac. Hart, of Mt. Noho, was turning around his horses hatched in a spike harrow became entangled in the harness and one of them was terribly hurt by the spike harrow.

Cows Killed by Lightning.

In a storm last week Sam'l Miller, farmer, on Isaac Wentz's farm, near Beethesia, had two cows killed by lightning as they were standing under a locust tree.

COLUMBIA NEWS.

OUR REGULAR CORRESPONDENCE.
Excursion tickets to Lancaster over the Pennsylvania railroad sold briskly. Whit-Monday not observed here to any extent. The country people and many from town went to the county seat. Rev. J. Witmer, of Mountville, officiated last evening in the United Brethren church. The pastor of the church, Rev. C. S. Melley, was out of town.

Mr. John Strine, a brother of Sheriff Strine, who has been ill for the past five or six months, is convalescent, and is visiting town.

Mr. S. S. Detwiler's two horses ran away with his wagon from Second and Locust streets this morning. They cut across Second street to Walnut and up Walnut to Third where they were caught before demolishing things.

The frontville band passed through town this morning on its way to Lancaster. Its music shows that it is still on the road to excellence.

Salem Union Sunday school of the Presbyterians church was the first to change its meeting hour to meet the warm weather of summer. Its session of yesterday was held at six o'clock in the evening. During the winter months it met at 1:30.

Chiquesalunga tribe No. 29, L. O. R. M., are holding a picnic to-day at Heise's woods—their 25th annual. The committee of arrangements announce that dancing will take place in German and English.

The box sheet for Carvers minstrels, now open at Richards book store, indicates that Columbians will extend to the company a warm greeting on their appearance here to-morrow evening. They come under the management of General Welsh post of the G. A. R.

Rev. E. Wolfe, D. D., of the Gettysburg theological seminary, preached in the E. E. Lutheran church before a large congregation yesterday morning and evening. Dr. Wolfe was the guest of Mr. F. A. Bennett.

Mr. Gus. Kilian and wife, of York, spent yesterday with friends in town. Both of them formerly resided in Columbia.

Mrs. Daniel Rhodes, of Belfonte, is visiting in Columbia, the guests of W. H. Haldeman. Mrs. Rhodes is a sister of Mr. E. R. Smith, the banker.

Rev. F. Bauerbecker, formerly of Columbia, now pastor of the Heidelberg Reformed church, York, has returned from his absence at the general synod, at Tiffin, Ohio, and brings with him a bride.

Rev. W. P. Evans, of Colfax, N. J., will be in town to day to consult with the vestry of the E. E. Lutheran church on matters pertaining to the church and its organization. He will be remembered as that Rev. F. W. Staley. He will probably come to some decision to-day and it will be given in to-morrow's letter to the INTELLIGENCER. While here Rev. Mr. Evans will be the guest of Mr. Samuel Filbert.

The funeral of Wash Supplee, who was killed while coupling ears at 524 street, Philadelphia, on Thursday night, took place yesterday afternoon from his late residence on Walnut street, below Third. A large funeral cortège proceeded to Mount Bethel cemetery, where the interment of the remains was made. The body of the deceased did not reach Columbia until 6:20 p.m. on Saturday.

Rev. J. F. Shanahan, bishop of the Harrisburg diocese, administered the rite of confirmation in St. Peter's Catholic church last evening, about fifty persons. With the exception of one woman all of those confirmed were children. The girls were dressed handsomely in white. The services opened with solemn vesper. Bishop Shanahan was assisted by Rev. Father Russel, of Columbia, and two others whose names we cannot learn. The congregation entirely filled the church.

Mr. L. W. Richards, the well known Columbia correspondent of the NEW ERA, has received an appointment to a remunerative position at St. Louis, Mo., and will leave here to accept it next Monday. We number Mr. Richards as one of our most intimate friends and are very sorry that he is to leave town, but glad to know that he has secured a permanent and good position. We hope he may do well in his new field of labor.

Dr. John W. Richards is a lawyer by profession. He is very popular with his associates and will leave behind him a host of friends, each of whom, with us, wish him continued prosperity in life.

Dr. John A. Miller, and Dr. Dr. McKinney, who has been playing in the streets for a few days past, and a still greater; one was the Marietta band, dressed up in new blue uniforms and straw hats and accompanied by a major domo with immense staff and a bear skin hat two feet high and mounted by a lofty pompon red and white.

The city played swell, sharp and burrmer were on hand to get free beer at the expense of their green country cousins.

Pretty country misses with rosy cheeks, bright eyes, innocent-looking faces, and generally bad-fitting dresses ent in imitation of those worn by their city sisters, promenaded the streets, ate ginger cakes and peanuts, and occasionally indulged in a glass of "ice cold lemonade," which was to be found at tables all around Centre Square and along the principal thoroughfares.

It was especially noticeable that nearly all the tempestuous flings have dissolved the coquettish raspberry, "and when I stand a steed a woman semi-savant dual yelped, lemonade, but most of which was guiltless of lemon juice. The peanut vendor was on every corner and sold his peanuts red hot at an enormous sacrifice.

The organ-grinder played unceasingly while his ancient assistant passed around the hat with a studied self-abnegating smile so child-like and bland that none except those having hearts of stone could fail to drop a penny in the hat.

A greater musical attraction was a little German band that has been playing in the streets for a few days past, and a still greater; one was the Marietta band, dressed up in new blue uniforms and straw hats and accompanied by a major domo with immense staff and a bear skin hat two feet high and mounted by a lofty pompon red and white.

The city played swell, sharp and burrmer were on hand to get free beer at the expense of their green country cousins.

Pretty country misses with rosy cheeks, bright eyes, innocent-looking faces, and generally bad-fitting dresses ent in imitation of those worn by their city sisters, promenaded the streets, ate ginger cakes and peanuts, and occasionally indulged in a glass of "ice cold lemonade," which was to be found at tables all around Centre Square and along the principal thoroughfares.

It was especially noticeable that nearly all the tempestuous flings have dissolved the coquettish raspberry, "and when I stand a steed a woman semi-savant dual yelped, lemonade, but most of which was guiltless of lemon juice. The peanut vendor was on every corner and sold his peanuts red hot at an enormous sacrifice.

The organ-grinder played unceasingly while his ancient assistant passed around the hat with a studied self-abnegating smile so child-like and bland that none except those having hearts of stone could fail to drop a penny in the hat.

A greater musical attraction was a little German band that has been playing in the streets for a few days past, and a still greater; one was the Marietta band, dressed up in new blue uniforms and straw hats and accompanied by a major domo with immense staff and a bear skin hat two feet high and mounted by a lofty pompon red and white.

The city played swell, sharp and burrmer were on hand to get free beer at the expense of their green country cousins.

Pretty country misses with rosy cheeks, bright eyes, innocent-looking faces, and generally bad-fitting dresses ent in imitation of those worn by their city sisters, promenaded the streets, ate ginger cakes and peanuts, and occasionally indulged in a glass of "ice cold lemonade," which was to be found at tables all around Centre Square and along the principal thoroughfares.

It was especially noticeable that nearly all the tempestuous flings have dissolved the coquettish raspberry, "and when I stand a steed a woman semi-savant dual yelped, lemonade, but most of which was guiltless of lemon juice. The peanut vendor was on every corner and sold his peanuts red hot at an enormous sacrifice.

The organ-grinder played unceasingly while his ancient assistant passed around the hat with a studied self-abnegating smile so child-like and bland that none except those having hearts of stone could fail to drop a penny in the hat.

A greater musical attraction was a little German band that has been playing in the streets for a few days past, and a still greater; one was the Marietta band, dressed up in new blue uniforms and straw hats and accompanied by a major domo with immense staff and a bear skin hat two feet high and mounted by a lofty pompon red and white.

The city played swell, sharp and burrmer were on hand to get free beer at the expense of their green country cousins.

Pretty country misses with rosy cheeks, bright eyes, innocent-looking faces, and generally bad-fitting dresses ent in imitation of those worn by their city sisters, promenaded the streets, ate ginger cakes and peanuts, and occasionally indulged in a glass of "ice cold lemonade," which was to be found at tables all around Centre Square and along the principal thoroughfares.

It was especially noticeable that nearly all the tempestuous flings have dissolved the coquettish raspberry, "and when I stand a steed a woman semi-savant dual yelped, lemonade, but most of which was guiltless of lemon juice. The peanut vendor was on every corner and sold his peanuts red hot at an enormous sacrifice.

The organ-grinder played unceasingly while his ancient assistant passed around the hat with a studied self-abnegating smile so child-like and bland that none except those having hearts of stone could fail to drop a penny in the hat.

A greater musical attraction was a little German band that has been playing in the streets for a few days past, and a still greater; one was the Marietta band, dressed up in new blue uniforms and straw hats and accompanied by a major domo with immense staff and a bear skin hat two feet high and mounted by a lofty pompon red and white.

The city played swell, sharp and burrmer were on hand to get free beer at the expense of their green country cousins.

Pretty country misses with rosy cheeks, bright eyes, innocent-looking faces, and generally bad-fitting dresses ent in imitation of those worn by their city sisters, promenaded the streets, ate ginger cakes and peanuts, and occasionally indulged in a glass of "ice cold lemonade," which was to be found at tables all around Centre Square and along the principal thoroughfares.

It was especially noticeable that nearly all the tempestuous flings have dissolved the coquettish raspberry, "and when I stand a steed a woman semi-savant dual yelped, lemonade, but most of which was guiltless of lemon juice. The peanut vendor was on every corner and sold his peanuts red hot at an enormous sacrifice.

The organ-grinder played unceasingly while his ancient assistant passed around the hat with a studied self-abnegating smile so child-like and bland that none except those having hearts of stone could fail to drop a penny in the hat.

A greater musical attraction was a little German band that has been playing in the streets for a few days past, and a still greater; one was the Marietta band, dressed up in new blue uniforms and straw hats and accompanied by a major domo with immense staff and a bear skin hat two feet high and mounted by a lofty pompon red and white.

The city played swell, sharp and burrmer were on hand to get free beer at the expense of their green country cousins.

Pretty country misses with rosy cheeks, bright eyes, innocent-looking faces, and generally bad-fitting dresses ent in imitation of those worn by their city sisters, promenaded the streets, ate ginger cakes and peanuts, and occasionally indulged in a glass of "ice cold lemonade," which was to be found at tables all around Centre Square and along the principal thoroughfares.

It was especially noticeable that nearly all the tempestuous flings have dissolved the coquettish raspberry, "and when I stand a steed a woman semi-savant dual yelped, lemonade, but most of which was guiltless of lemon juice. The peanut vendor was on every corner and sold his peanuts red hot at an enormous sacrifice.

The organ-grinder played unceasingly while his ancient assistant passed around the hat with a studied self-abnegating smile so child-like and bland that none except those having hearts of stone could fail to drop a penny in the hat.

A greater musical attraction was a little German band that has been playing in the streets for a few days past, and a still greater; one was the Marietta band, dressed up in new blue uniforms and straw hats and accompanied by a major domo with immense staff and a bear skin hat two feet high and mounted by a lofty pompon red and white.

The city played swell, sharp and burrmer were on hand to get free beer at the expense of their green country cousins.

Pretty country misses with rosy cheeks, bright eyes, innocent-looking faces, and generally bad-fitting dresses ent in imitation of those worn by their city sisters, promenaded the streets, ate ginger cakes and peanuts, and occasionally indulged in a glass of "ice cold lemonade," which was to be found at tables all around Centre Square and along the principal thoroughfares.

It was especially noticeable that nearly all the tempestuous flings have dissolved the coquettish raspberry, "and when I stand a steed a woman semi-savant dual yelped, lemonade, but most of which was guiltless of lemon juice. The peanut vendor was on every corner and sold his peanuts red hot at an enormous sacrifice.

The organ-grinder played unceasingly while his ancient assistant passed around the hat with a studied self-abnegating smile so child-like and bland that none except those having hearts of stone could fail to drop a penny in the hat.

A greater musical attraction was a little German band that has been playing in the streets