CORONER'S INQUEST.

A Jury Investigates a Child's Death-This morning Coroner Mishler held an inquest on the remains of a child at the house of Zach. Boot, in Faegleysville, this city. The mother of the child, which died early on Saturday morning is Annie Shaub, a single woman, whose home is in Reading, but has resided in this city for some time past. The child's body was in the Lancaster cemetery buried on Sunday morning. Constable Lentz, of the Sixth ward, heard of the case and he informed the coroner. This morning the body of the child was taken up and the inquest held. The jury was com. posed of Jacob Heline, Jos. Samson, Jacob Frankford, George Lentz, John A. Schuh and Francis Hiemenz. Dr. Compton made a post mortem examination of the body but there was nothing to indicate foul play. Several witnesses were examined, and from the testimony of the mother of the child it appears that it was born on the 25 of May, it was taken sick about a week before its death and was unable to eat anything whatever. During its filness it was seen by a physician and it seemed to be suffering with something like dysentery. The jury adjourned without arriving at a verdict until to morrow evening at 7

The Lutheran Ministerium.

The fourth day's session of the Lutheran ministerium at Pottstown opened with the reading of the annual report of Muhlenberg college, which shows that there were in the institution during the last collegiate year 171 students, of which number 12 were admitted to graduation. Efforts are being made to secure $25,000 and endow the German professorship which was recommended at the last meeting of the ministerium. Six thousand dollars have been subscribed so far. The resources of the college over and above the buildings and furniture are $113,261. 87 and the total liabilities $74,282.91.

The offer of a eash endowment of $20,-000 from Messrs. Mosser & Keek, of Allentown, for the endowment of the professorship of the Greek language and literature was gratefully accepted, and, at at their request, was invested in the first mortgage bonds of the college, and Professor T. L. Scip, through whose efforts the endowment was secured, was made the incumbent.

The question of establishing a synodical publication house consamed the greater part of the afternoon and was finally entrusted to the hands of a committee to be appointed by the president and report at the next meeting of the ministerium. The ordination of the graduates of the theological seminary, thirteen in number, took place last evening in the church of the Transfiguration. Rev. Mr. Laird, of Philadelphia, delivered the ordination sermon. The ordination was conferred by the officers of the synod.

Many members of the ministerium having expressed a strong desire to have a copy of the able synodical sermon, delivered by Dr. Greenwald, on Thursday morning, in some permanent form, the Pottstown Ledger will publish the same in pamphlet form The Lost Eronauts. subject of " Future Ballooning," that the story building, reconn circumstances of the death of Professor mittee be adopted. Donaldson and those of his father were widely different. Donaldson, he says, went out out in an old leaky balloon, after it had already performed a voyage and ermore, the start was made direct months. So ordered, ly on the edge of Lake Michigan. In Professor Wise's case he says it was an entirely new balloon and the ascent was made at a distance of over two hundred miles from the lake. The compation of Professor Wise, so far from being inexperienced, was not only an aeronaut himself, but the owner of the balloon, which he had purchased from Professor Wise and agreed to pay the money, $375, when the descent was made. It is the belief of Professor Wise's son that the loss of their lives was due to Professor Wise placing the sailing of the balloon in the hands of his companion while he himself took a nap, telling the other to wake him up if necessary, which the latter failed to do.

SLIGHT FIRE.

A Printing Office Damaged. Yesterday evening, between 6 and o'clock, there was a slight fire in the job printing office of Park K. Fraim. in the second story of Zahm's building, corner of Centre Square and North Queen street. The fire was discovered by John II. Baumgardner, of the gas office, in the adjoining building. The door leading to the printing office was broken open and it was discovered that a box of "pigeon holes" some five feet in height and thre feet in width, and filled with fancy cards, bill heads, letter heads, and other papers, was in flames. A few bucketsful of water was sufficient to quench the flames. The building was very little damaged, and the loss to the printing material is slight. Two clocks in the room were ruined, but the whole loss will not exceed $100, and is fully covered with insurance. There was a great crowd of people attracted to the scene by the alarm of fire, but they were kept out of the building by the police. The cause of the fire is unknown. A Game of Billiards.

A stranger said to be named Palmer, from Philadelphia, and reputed a crack billiard player, was in this city last night, and a game of billiards was arranged between him and Lancaster's champion handler of the cue, Mr. John Cline, of Cline's billiard rooms. The game came off at Fulmer's rooms, and was witnessed by a number of admirers of the game. Both men played cleveriy, but at the out set Cline took the lead, and maintained it to the end. The game was three strings up (102 points), and when Cline scored his last button, Palmer had 51 points, just half as many. Cline's best run was 34

ALTOONA, Pa., June 14.—In the general synod of the Lutheran church this morning, it was resolved to raise $25,000 annually for home missions and $10,000 for church extension, to be apportioned among the district synods. The parent education and historical society reported. The latter resolved to take steps to purchase the valuable historical collection of Rev. M. Sheeleigh's library. The synod recommended the hymn book publishing committee to change if possible, its contract with the publication society looking to an increase of the royalty or the new hymnal from ten to twenty-five cents per copy. It was also enacted that $600 should be paid to Rev. N. F. Reimsburg for musical work in the preparation of the hymnal. The district synods were instructed to ake up a collection annually in the month of May for the general synod treasury. An effort was made to reduce the representation of the district synods in the general synod, but it failed.
