MEETING OF THE AGRICULTURAL AND HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY.

Papers on the Crop Prospect—Essays and Papers Read—No Fair this Year—Hon-erary Members Elected.

The June meeting of the Lancaster County Agricultural and Horticultural society was held in their room in city hall yesterday, having been postponed because the regular meeting day fell on Whit Monday. The following members were present : Jacob F. Witmer, president, Paradise; M. D. Kendig, secretary, Cresswell; Calvin Cooper, Bird-in-Hand; Johnson Miller, Warwick; S.P. Eby, esq., city; C. A. Gast, city; F. R. Diffenderffer, city; J. C. Linville, Salisbury; J. Bollinger, Warwick; William Bevis, Safe Harbor; Henry Kurtz, Mount Joy; W. W. Griest, city; W. L. Hershey, Chickies ; J.M. Johnston. city; John G. Resh, Willow Street; C. L. Hunsecker, Manheim; Peter Hershey, esq., city; Isaac Broomell, Christiana.

Crop Reports. Reports on the condition of the young crops being called for, a number of members from different sections of the county responded. From their reports we learn that the late copious rains have greatly forwarded the growth of almost everything. The early sown wheat is a good deaf damaged by the fly and rust, and will not, perhaps, yield more than 15 bushels to the acre, on an average, while the later sown will yield a full crop. The grass, which early in the season was so backward and unpromising, has improved greatly, but the hay crop on the whole will be short. Corn has been much damaged by the cut worm, but has been replanted and is growing finely. The young tobacco, nearly all of which has been planted, never looked better. Potatoes look well, but in some sections have been visited by the Colorado beetle; and Calvin Cooper has found that tobacco leaves steeped in water and sprinkled over the plants, is a specific against their ravages. There will be very few peaches in any section of the county; the cherries have fallen off greatly and there will be a rather short crop of apples; pears and grapes promise a large yield, and small fruits of all kinds are abundant. Notwithstanding the severity of the past winter insects of all kinds appear to be more numerous than

M. D. Kendig read a paper in which was given the results of his experiments in cultivating corn.

When this society offered a premium for the largest and best yield of corn from five acres' crop of '80 I concluded to give it a trial, but getting no competition (as no ope entered) I will here, with your indulgence, give the result of my experience. The land was a sandy loam, lying in clover two years, the first crops of which were mown and taken off each year while the second were allowed to remain to enrich the roil. About 12 tons of barnyard manure scattered over the poorest spots were ploughed the beginning of March to the depth of seven inches. 100 bushels of fresh lime per acre was then applied, evenly distributed over the surface, and thoroughly incorporated into the soil with a d over four times, making the ground in a most excellent condition for planting.

It was then marked off with a scorer both ways, or chequered, rows 3 feet 4 inches apart, and planted with the hoe on the 3d and 4th day of May, three grains to a hill. The soil being very loose, the roller was passed over lengthwise to firm it down and in six days it was up nicely. When about a foot high it was thinned out to two stalks to the hill, always removing the inferior, which made it very uniform, giving each stalk an equal chance. The ground having being thoroughly worked up and pulverized before planting after cultivation was very easy and simple. An occasional harrowing, to keep the ground loose and mellow, was all it received. No hoe in the field all season except in planting time. The plot contained 6 acres and 122 perches and yielded 6051 bushels of dry, shelled corn, actual measurement, or at the rate of 891 bushels to the acre. It is only fair to state here that two sides of it were bordered by locust about 40 feet high, which reduced the entire yield at least 25 or 30 b ushels.

Casper Hiller, who was prevented from being present, sent in an interesting paper on "Forestry" which was read. The essay was discussed by Dr. Greene,

J. C. Linville, Calvin Cooper and others. Johnson Miller read a paper on the sub-ject of a proposed agricultural fair, which he thought could be made a success if proper means were taken to enlist in its behalf the material assistance of the business men; but he was utterly hostile to permitting horse racing, liquor selling, pool selling, or any kind of gambling on the ground. He thought a higher premium should be offered for a good cow than for a fast trotter. We are a conscientious Christian community and take more interest in the productions of our good old housewives than in the time made by horses driven almost to death.

Dr. Green endorsed what Mr. Miller had said and believed a great fair could be gotten up without any of the objectionable features referred to. But the work must be undertaken energetically and carried out methodically. He had spoken to many of our people, and they would no doubt subscribe liberally to make it a success. The people wanted a fair and if the project were once got under way it would take like wild fire.

President Witmer said that what the society needed was some one or more who would take hold of the matter, work vigorously and get money to carry the fair through. Talking will do no goodmoney is what is wanted.

After some further discussion by Messrs Cooper, Linville, Miller and Green, the last named gentleman moved to postpone the consideration of a fair until next year, and the motion was agreed to. Honorary Members.

After a long discussion as to the best means of securing a larger attendance at the meetings of the society and a greater interest in its proceedings a motion was interest in its proceedings a motion was adopted that the editors and publishers of the Intelligencer, **Reaminer*, New Era, Inquirer* and **Volksfreund* be elected as honorary members in consideration of the valuable services they have rendered that valuable services they have rendered the society by publishing its proceedings so fully.

The president suggested that certificates of honorary membership should be procured and presented. A motion to that effect was carried. On motion of Mr. Linville Isaac Broomell of Salisbury was elected an active member of the society.

Adjourned. Patents Granted.

On Saturday, June 11, a patent was granted to Peter L. Epler, of Elizabe h-town, for an "Automatic railroad switch." The novelty consists in the manner in which cars open the switch in passing out | Only Vegetable Compound that | Notice. main track to the siding.

On the same day a patent was also granted to C. W. Myers, of Lincoln, for an "automatic cut-off for rain cisterns." These cut-offs prevent the dirty water which has washed the dust from the roof, being carried into the cistern, and after the roof is thoroughly cleaned turns the water into the cistern. They also enable SANFORD, 162 Broadway, N. Y. the supply of water to be regulated, These patents were secured through Wm. R. Gerhart, solicitor of patents.

DEUMORE NEWS. Our Regular Correspo

We have an attack of strawberry festi-Eliza Hutton, of New Texas, died last Thursday morning and was buried at Chestnut Level, Saturday.

Last year at this time we were cutting wheat. Now it is as green as a Millersville student, and the crop from present indications will be much better than it was last year. The corn had too much rain last week, likewise the tobacco and neither are doing much good. The oats—is or are—which?—promising a good crop and the grass is only middling.

Rev. Parry's four days' meeting at Wrightsdale closed Sunday night with very little converting success. He thinks that the good seed has been sown and will sprout, but if seed is taken right from Eden it can't, no matter how good, make up for a barren soil. Mr. Parry is a young evangelist, a reformed lawyer, for which the law should be thankful, and as a preacher is not a success.

The river was pretty high last week and a number of the rafts that have been lying at Peach Bottom since the last flood were run out. On Saturday afternoon logs were running in great quantities and many of them were caught by the industrious watermen for whom a high river has no terrors. Said one man: "Saturday afterneon the logs were running so thick at Fite's Eddy, that one could have walked on them from the shore to Sicily island. We don't vouch, we merely record.

Brandy as a Medicine.

The following article was voluntarily sent to Mr. H. E. Slaymaker, Agent for Reigart's Old Wine Store, by a prominent practising physi-

Indigestion and Dyspepsia. BRANDY AS A MEDICINE.

This now much abused Alcoholic Stimulant was never intended as a beverage, but to be used as a medicine of great potency in the cure of some of the destructive diseases which sweep away their annual thousands of victims. With a purely philanthropic motive we present to the favorable notice of invalids—especially those afflicted with that miscrable disease Dysnepsia, a specific remedy which is ease Dyspepsia, a specific remedy, which is nothing more or less than

Brandy. The aged, with feeble appetite and more or ess debility, will find this simple medicine, when used properly,

A Sovereign Remedy or all their ills and aches. Be it, however strictly understood that we prescribe and use but one article, and that is REIGART'S OLD BRANDY,

Sold by our enterprising young friend, H E SLAYMAKER. This Brandy has stood the test for years, and has never falled, as far as our experience extends, and we therefore give it the preference over all other Brandies. give it the preference over all other Brandles no matter with how many jaw-breaking French titles they are branded. One-fourth of the money that is yearly thrown away on various impotent dyspepsia specifics would suffice to buy all the Brandy to cure any such case or ases. In proof of the curative powers of Reigart's Old Brandy,

In cases of Dyspepsia, we can summon num bers of witnesses—one case in particular we ELY'S CREAN BALM, having gained an enviable local reputation, displacing all other preparations in the vicinity of discovery, is, on its merits alone, recognized as a wonderful remedy wherever known. He is a Methodist, and then, as now, preached at times, and in his discourses often declaimed carnestly against all kinds of strong drink. When advised to try Reigart's Old Braudy, In his case, he looked up with astonishment, but after hearing of its wonderful effects in the cases of some of his near acquaintances, he at last consented to follow our advice. He used the Brandy faithfully and steadily; the first bottle giving him an appetite, and before the second was taken he was a sound man, with a stomach capable of digesting anything which hetchose to cat. # SHALL WE SELL THEM?

There is in Philadelphia a clothing house which has no double in all the world. The world is full of clothing houses; and it is a good deal to say that one is unlike all the rest.

First, in its dealing; and it is surprising that one house should differ much from another. Selling clothing is so simple a matter, that it is likely, one would suppose, to be done in very much the same way in Philadelphia, New York and London. But Philadelphia is ahead; and, curiously enough, one house in Philadelphia is ahead of all the rest.

To be ahead in dealing is to deal on a higher plane in a more liberal way, to give the buyer more well founded confidence without loss of the merchant's safety. This Philadelwhia clothing house says to a stranger : "We want to deal with exact justice. We want what belongs to us, viz., a fair profit; and we want you to have what belongs to you, viz., a liberal money's-worth. Our way to arrive at a result is to mark the price on everything we sell, which price is absolute; and to let you buy what you like, go away and think the bargain over, and come and trade back, if you want to. We find by experience that this liberality is harmless to us. Of course, you like it. And it makes quick and ready dealing. We don't want you to bring back what you buy-it would cost us money every time; but we would rather you would bring back, than keep, what you don't like. So, we try to see that you get at first what you will like the better, the more you know of it. This is really the whole philosophy of our dealing."

Second, in its goods-the amount and variety of them. There are other houses where excellent clothing is kept, and a great deal of it; but there is none, anywhere, that keeps so much. The dealing related above has won the largest trade the world has yet seen. To supply such a trade great quantity and variety of clothing are required; and these in turn increase the trade, because everybody likes to choose out of many things, rather than out of a few.

This is the country of ready-made clothing. Great Britain makes the most of any European country; but there is not in all London any clothing business a quarter as large as that of Oak Hall. New York has several large clothing businesses; but no one nearly equal to that of Oak Hall; Boston likewise.

Look back twenty years! Have we done you good service, or not? But that is not what we had in mind; we were thinking of the clothes you are going to buy. Shall we sell them ?
