ON THE WAY. Items of Interest Picked Up by a Traveling Correspondentia and Around

Prof. Zeller, of the Lancaster conserva tory of music, spent Sunday in Manheim, the guest of Mr. E. F. Hostetter.

Manheim industry was highly compli-mented this week. Mr. F. B. Brosey. "the artistic shoemaker," received orders from Kansas and Illinois. This is certain. ly speaking well for Mr. B.'s workman

A social basket picuic, under euphonious title of a "moonlight hop," was held on Monday at Millway park, a short distance from Lititz. Over swentyfive couples were present. A good time was had and too much credit cannot be given to the managers of the affair : Messrs. D. F. Hamaker, H. C. Pritz and J. S. Connelly. Dancing was the order of the occasion, which was kept up till an early hour-in the morning. Yetter's orchestra furnished the music.

That was indeed a fine pair of Lancas ians—a student and a typo—that visited Manheim on Saturday. They came there with the intention of "doing the great," but got into a slight difficulty in which they, two ladies, an irate father and a church service were principal actors

The Hope fire company of Manheim made a trial of their little suction engine in Centre square Monday evening, getting their water from the "town" pump. It worked to the satisfaction of all present. The water question is again agitating Manheim's mind, causing considerate illfeeling, and filling the "press" with dis-torted statements and extravagant comments. Some of its public spirited citizens have agreed to contribut part if councils give the balance Mount Hope is the spot from whence they gaze and gravita-tion is the mode adopted. Success to it Mr. J. P. Hostetter has sold to John McClain a fine drove of young steers, seven head in all. They were delivered at Summy's yard, Manheim, and when weighed reached in all over 8,500 pounds; an average weight of over 1.200. Mr. Fogg's statement to a Philadelphia Press reporter, that the Lititz Springs hotel landlord—who had dealt kindly with Fogg's wife-wrote to Fogg, calling him an "infernal brute," is denied by those who know that no such expression occurred in the letter. Mr. D. B. Brosey has received several new Indian arrow heads from near Ephrata to add to his already large collection of aboriginal curiosities.

The foundation is nearly up for Geo. Danner's new store room and residence, in Centre Square. The base will be of gran-ite, and the entire structure, three-stories, of brick with granite trimmings. When completed it will be the handsomest building in town.

THE LUTHERANS.

Lively Discussion at the Ministerium. Immediately after the opening of the Pottstown yesterday morning the president of synod announced the following committee on a synodical publication house : Revs. Wischan, Weiskotten, Early and Shantz and Messrs. Staake, File and Miller. The resolution in the report of the committee on the president's report to the effect that synod instruct its delegate to general council to urge upon that body the propriety of revising the German church-book and also that the committee having in charge the Wollenweber hymn-book be instructed to have the plates renewed for the purpose of keeping the book in the market, met violent opposition. This question consumed nearly the entire day. The triends of the Wollenweber hymn-book were successful and the committee was instructed to have the plates renewed. The tellers to conduct the election of trustees of Muhlenberg college reported the following persons elected as such: Revs. W. Rath, . A. Seiss, D. D., B. M. Schmucker, D. D., E. A. Ruvi, S. Laird, G. F. Krotel, D. D., C. W. Cooper, K. E. Wright, C. Pretz and H. Weinshemer. The committee on systematic beneficience reported the amount received for benevo lent purposes was $16,082.63. The copious rains during last week have caused all kinds of vegetation to brighten up wonderfully, though in some localities there are complaints of too much wet for the good of the newly set out tobacco plants. The past few days have been good "growing weather," and though the wheat in low places is a good deal lodged, there will be a fair yield, and ere long the clatter of the reaper and mower will be heard in the land.

It is reported that two carpenters, names not given, fell from the scaffold of a new house being erected by John Wissler, near Strasburg, and were severely inooper moved that the editors of THE jured. Dr. Weaver, of Strasburg, and Dr. II. E. Musser attended them.

Over 1,500 cubic yards of earth and rock were removed in the period named. The boats below the work will be started to-day, and active work will be resumed to-morrow at the Columbia wharf. Two boats were cleared at this point this morning, and the pockets con-tain upwards of 1,000 tons, which will be sent to Baltimore and points south. Mr. A. McManus, who left here a short time ago, has been heard from. At present he is in Pueblo, Colorado. He is working on the railroad and seems to like the job very much. He says that railroad men are in great demand, as the majority of the inhabitants out there are either miners or farmers. Last night a fight occurred at the five

On Locust street last evening a little three-year-old boy was playing in the street, when a horse and buggy, driven at a furious pace, dashed around the corner. coming straight for the little one. Mr. C. C. Kauffman seeing the child's danger sprang to its rescue. In a second, almost, he had the little boy safely on the pavement, and not any too soon, for in another moment the child would have been trampled to death under the horse's hoofs. On Monday morning a tramp, giving his name as James Campbell, applied for work at the tin shop of Mr. Samuel Miller on Locust street. Mr. Miller being absent, Neal McLaughlin, one of his workman, hired the fellow, as they were very busy. After giving him his dinner he was put to work. In the evening Mrs. Miller paid him off, and in return for the kindness he had received, he went back to the shop the same night, and stole a new set of soldering irons, a pair of shears and several other things. The stolen articles he tried to pawn for liquor, but was unsuccessful. Becoming disgusted he threw them away and jumped on a freight train bound east. One of the soldering irons was recovered last evening by Mr. Mc-Laughlin, but with this exception the other things have not yet been found.
