AT ALBANY.

Another Day of Fruitless Balloting.—ALBANY, N. Y., June 16.—The joint convention met at 10. The following is the vote for Mr. Conkling's successor, combined vote: Jacoby, 51; Conkling, 35; Wheeler, 38; Rogers, 1; Cornell, 11; Lapham, 12; Bradley, 1; Folger, 3; Tremain, 3; Crowley, 4. Mr. Wheeler took nearly all of Mr. Rogers's vote.

The convention then proceeded to vote to fill the long term vacancy with the following result: Combined vote: Depew, 54; Kernan, 52; Platt, 57; Folger, 2; Cornell, 12; Crowley, 5; Lapham, 1; Wheeler, 1; Tracy, 1. The presiding officer declared that no choice had been made in either case.

Mr. Brooks asked consent to offer a resolution that the committee on the subject of a new constitution be authorized to make a report on Monday, June 20, this convention will adjourn on that day after one or more sittings have been taken and with the understanding, on the part of the convention, that the two houses of the Legislature will adjourn at 3 p. m., June 20.

Mr. Husted raised the point of order that it was not in the power of this joint convention to adjourn.

Mr. Gov. Hinkins decided the point of order well taken. This joint convention is a session of the Legislature and the Legislature adjourns.

The convention then adjourned until tomorrow at noon.

Hit With a Hoe.—At Dr. Richard White's farm, in Pittsylvania county, on Tuesday an altercation occurred between Obadiah Tatts (white) and Walter Carter (colored), both laborers in the field. Tatts struck Carter on the head with a hoe, striking him instantly. Without waiting, however, to ascertain the effects of the blow, Tatts took a horse and went full speed to Chatham for Dr. White whom he informed of the occurrence and then left. Since then Tatts has not been seen.

No Fence Even on Shipboard.—BELLING, June 16.—News from St. Peterburg states that the officers and crew of the guard ship lying off Peterhof, in the Russian Gulf, are to be shortly taken up its residence, having been changed in consequence of the discovery of a number of revolutionary proclamations on board, and there have been many arrests in connection with the affair.

Cowboys Cleaning Out a Town.—TUZSON, June 16.—Three weeks ago four Americans, three of them cowboys, were killed near Frutvates, in Chihuahua. Three well-armed cowboys left Wilcox yesterday for the purpose, as they threatened of clearing out the town of Frutvates. Mexican federal troops have been notified and bloodshed is anticipated.

J., June 16.—Henry Lane, a clerk in the Metropolitan bank, of New York, and a resident of this city, was drowned last evening in the city reservoir, where he had been fishing when he was taken with it and fell into the water. He leaves a wife and four children.

The Cornel Crew.—LONDON, June 16.—The friends of the Cornell university crew in London are very confident that the stewards of the Henley regatta will to-morrow revise their decision relative to the entry of the Cornell four in the race for the visitors cup.

An Unlucky Venture.—NORFOLK, Va., June 16.—Chas. Feag, employed in the engine room of the Seaboard cotton compress attempted to-day to clean the path of the piston rod of one of the boilers with a file and the piston rod and disassembled. He died instantly.

Summer Leisure Near the Equator.—PANAMA, June 7.—On the afternoon of April 26, without any warning, a furious whirlwind rushed over a part of the town of Valdivia, and in a few minutes wrecked an entire block and killed and wounded several persons.

Trying to Count Us Out.—ASCOT HEATH, June 16.—A report is current here that the certificate of Mr. Keene's colt Fox Hall had not been lodged in Paris previous to the decision of the judges in the race for the grand Prix de Paris.

Triumphal Troicous.—LONDON, June 16.—At the Ascot meeting to-day the race for St. James stakes was won by Lorillard's Troicous.

A TORN MARRIAGE CONTRACT.—A Staid Old Quaker's Hens Making Trouble.—Up to 1879, when he died, David A. Irish, a staid old Quaker, ro 10 years on Quaker Hill in the town of Walling, Dutchess county, N. Y. About 10 years ago he married Miss Hallock, daughter of Jos. Hallock, also a Quaker. Irish's wife lived only about a year, and early in 1875, it is alleged, he married his housekeeper, an uneducated woman named Margaret Hankins, who was widow of a Quaker. This marriage did not take place in presence of witnesses, but was rather a mutual contract, drawn up by Mr. Irish, which both signed. A boy, William Henry, was born of this marriage, January 25, 1876. After the birth of this child the parents did not lead a very pleasant domestic life, and when the baby was about three weeks old they had a quarrel, took their marriage contract, each separate half, and separated, Irish taking the boy and placing him in the care of Mr. Miller, a neighbor. Irish, according to Miller's statement, gave his wife Margaret $1,000 to leave him and never trouble him more. She then went to Brewster and soon married a man named Dooley, and still lives with him at Harlem.

On June 20, 1878, Irish was married to Miss Nettie Hallock, a sister of his first wife, and took the child away from Miller and carried it to the farm of Chas. R. Binion near Chatham Four Corners, Columbia county. Irish lived happily, apparently, with his third wife until April 23, 1879, when he died very suddenly, leaving no will and making no provision for the disposal of his property, which was estimated at $30,000. Mrs. Irish No. 3 was made administratrix and her father administrator of the estate and they settled up and received the benefits. Early in August 1879, the child disappeared from Mrs. Robinson's and inquiry by Mr. Miller elicited the information that a strange woman, claiming to be an agent of the child's mother, had taken it away. Mr. Miller went in pursuit of the child and finally succeeded in finding it in a charitable institution in New York city, where it had been left by Mary Ho, a resident of Quaker Hill, who, it is alleged, represented to the authorities at the above institution that the child had been abandoned and gave his name as Walter Camp, instead of William Henry Irish. Mr. Miller took possession of the Death of William Albert.—Our mortuary column reports the death of William Albert, which occurred about noon to-day at his residence, No. 235 West Lemon street. The illness, which has had this fatal termination was of long standing, beginning with a bronchial affection, which rapidly developed into that most dreaded disease, consumption, and though the victim of this fell destroyer, with the tenacity and determination that were prominent characteristics of his character, clung to life by the exertion of sheer will power, the question of his death has been only one of time. Whilst therefore this final consummation of the inevitable will occur but slight, if any, surprise among those acquainted with the nature of the illness which has kept him confined to the house since before Christmas, and during the late period as an invalid in his bed, the blow is none the less keenly felt by those nearest and dearest to him.

Mr. Albert was a native of the great lumber region of the State, he being of Clearfield county. He removed with his family to this city in January, 1875, and entered into the lumber trade in which he had previously been engaged, and in which after acquiring a handsome competency he continued his business until he was removed by his own accident, but associated with Messrs. Thomas Baumgardner and Edward Eberman under the firm name of Baumgardner, Eberman & Co., engaged very extensively in the lumber trade. He remained in this connection up to the time of his death, and was in reality the practical manager of the large business of the firm.

Mr. Albert was in all respects a warm-hearted, thorough-going gentleman, whose loss will be sincerely mourned by all who were acquainted with him. His sterling integrity was recognized by all who were thrown into contact with him in business relations, while his generous impulses won for him the friendship and esteem of a large circle of acquaintances. In the home he was kind and affectionate to an uncommon degree and the stricken wife and daughter who are called upon to sustain this sad visitation of Providence are assured of cordial and universal sympathy.

Mr. Albert was in the 52d year of his age, and his funeral will take place on Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

The private picnic to be held at Chickies rock to-day promises to be a successful one. It is held in honor of Miss May Britain, of Harrisburg, who is now the guest of the Misses Wann.

fluency of ideas had been excused, owing to sickness. "Tovesty a Social Form"—J. Calvin Meyer, of Harrisburg, writes: "I poverty be an evil, as necessary evils. It compels individual exertion. Luxuries and even necessities have been placed beyond our reach in order to occasion the exercise of God-given faculties. To-day we stand a nation towering above its adversaries, a brilliant sun in the zenith of its glory, and we know with pride that our exalted position is due in large measure to the work of men in the humble walks of life. No class of society is more miserable than those who live entirely upon the products of others, and whilst the impoverished classes are a fruitful source of crime and should pay the penalty of their transgressions, the universal tendency to immorality in those who possess great wealth is well known. The orator closes with an earnest appeal to the social fabric by the honest labor that poverty necessitates.

This was the final oration of the morning, and while the orchestra played the "Gloop and Wild Hunt" (Bullik) the audience, which consisted of about 1,000 persons, presented the beauty, intelligence and culture of the city, dispersed. The above abstracts are necessarily meagre and imperfect, presenting but the barest outline of the line of thought pursued by the several speakers. The orations were well written and most of them ably delivered, and the floral rewards showered upon the graduates were liberal and elegant. The exercises were resumed at 2:30 this afternoon, and a full account of them will be given in to-morrow's paper.

SEVERAL ACCIDENTS.

Two Men Thrown from a Carriage—Two persons fell from a scaffold.

On Tuesday evening Wm. Smith, of the firm of Cogley & Smith, met with a very serious accident, which may result in the loss of his left leg. In company with Jacob Bitner he had driven to the Printers' paper mill, on the mill on the river, and on returning to Eden Mr. Bitner recollecting that he had forgotten something at the mill and proposed to drive back. In making a short turn both men were thrown from the wagon and Mr. Smith's left leg was caught between the spokes of one of the wheels. Both bones of the leg were badly broken above the ankle and protruded through the flesh. Dr. S. T. Davis was sent for and set the broken bones and took Mr. Smith to his home, 124 South street, this city, and turned him over to his family physician, Dr. Geo. King. The smaller bone of the leg is broken close to the ankle joint and the larger one is broken in two places and is badly crushed and split, rendering it very difficult to treat.

Feet From a Scaffold.—Wm. Carlow, of this city, and John Howey, of Willow Street, carpenters in the employ of John Baughman, contractor, were precipitated from a scaffold 22 feet in height, on Tuesday last, while engaged in putting a cornice upon Mr. Weaver's new house in East Lampeter, and both were severely injured internally, though neither of them had any bones broken. The accident was caused by the breaking of the scaffold upon which they were working. Dr. I. H. Mayer attended them and they were conveyed to their respective homes.

Sale of Imported Stock.—The sale of imported Jersey cattle yesterday at Herkness's bazaar, Philadelphia, was the largest ever held in America. Fifty-five head of cows, averaging 2000 lbs. per head, were sold at $22,274.50, the cows averaging $341.45, and calves $116.18. The importation was the second of Mr. Samuel C. Kent, and the cattle were selected by Mr. Willis P. Hazard, from among the famous milk and butter makers on the Channel Islands. Uncle Sammy Tilden bought a $1,300 bull, and a $1,300 cow; Colin Cameron was a bidder, and among the sales were: bull calf, dropped February 23, by Byron—A. W. Morris, Oak Hill, Lancaster county, Pa., $23,500. No. 41, Gloria (foundation stock), aged 3 years, color, solid dark gray, bred by Francis Le Brock—G. M. Steinman, Lancaster Pa., $70,000. No. 42, young Lilly, aged 2 1/2 years, color, solid light grey-blue, bred by Francis Le Brock—G. M. Steinman, Lancaster, Pa., $24,000.

BRICKERVILLE ITEMS.—The Fride of Speedwell Farm—Improvements, Crops, &c.—Purity will be given a full mile on Friday. Our correspondent will be present and may have more to say about "Purity."

Mr. Urias Demmy is making great improvements about his farm near Brickerville. He is building a fine large barn, one of the largest in the neighborhood, and expects to have it completed in season for all his crops.

Haymaking will make its advent next week. The farmers are getting their implements in order. Hay is fair but a little short. Wheat is good. Some is injured by the fly. It will ripen before all the hay is cut.

Death of an Old Colored Woman.—On Tuesday Mary Salsbury, said to have been the oldest colored woman in Hart township, died suddenly at her residence near Nine Points. Deputy Coroner Harvey Baumgardner, accompanied by a jury of twelve named gentlemen as a jury and held an inquest on the remains of the deceased: Harrison Graham, Alexander Gantgar, John McGowan, Daniel McGowan, Sr., Robert A. Ferguson and Walter McDonald. The jury returned a verdict of death from natural causes. Deceased was about 90 years old and lived alone. She owned a little property of about ten acres of land.

A Four-Legged Chicken.—We were yesterday shown a curiosity in the shape of a chicken, belonging to J. P. & D. W. Echterbach, of Paradise township. It was born with four legs, two of which are at the "old accustomed place" while the two extra ones protrude from under the wings and are as perfect as the chicken is but three weeks old but is alert and hearty and runs with the brood which it belongs. The only trouble experienced by the chick is that it sometimes gets its extra legs caught in the grass when it will have to be loosened.

Beautiful Flowers.—Mr. George O. Hensel the Orange street florist, had on exhibition last night two large night blooming cereus plants containing five full grown flowers. They were very large and perfect in shape. During the evening quite a number of persons visited his conservatory, admiring their beauty and inhaling their fragrance, which permeated the entire place. One of the plants has also a bud which will probably open this evening.

Matrimonial.—A brilliant wedding took place at Bird-in-Hand on Tuesday, the high contracting parties being Miss J. Rhoads and Mr. Harry C. Lintner. The event came off at the residence of the bride's parents. The guests were numerous and the gifts presented valuable. The young couple started at 10 o'clock a. m. on a six weeks bridal tour. May joy with them.

The Shipper Fair.—The fair was largely attended last evening, and many handsome articles were chanced off. This evening the Union fire company will attend in a body.

The evening the florist will have on exhibition at the fair a night blooming cereus which will be open after six o'clock.

Have Accommodations.—The Empire hotel and ladder company have secured the services of the ladies in Reading, when they attend the women's fair in September. The company will shortly receive new and beautiful fatigue caps and shirt shields which will be worn for the first time in Reading.
