ANOTHER PAIR.

For St. Mary's Orphan Asylum. A fair for the benefit of St. Mary's or-phan asylum, to be built on the site of the old stone church, was opened in the old stone church on Saturday evening and will be continued every evening this week. The fair will be a very interesting one from the fact that it will be the last entertainment of the kind held in the venerable structure, which we understand will be torn down next week to make room for the new structure. The interior of the old church is quite as dilapidated as the exterior. Looking upward the light shines in through the rotten shingle roofing, and the walls are stained with the drippings of rain and snow that have found entrance through the broken roof and windows for many years past. The windows have had more than one half of the glass broken from them, and in some instances the sash itself has been shattered by stones thrown at the deserted temple, day after day, by the irreverent "small boy;" but still, in dim letters, almost obliterated by time, the large arch in front of the place where the altar used to stand contains the inscription, "The Lord is in His holy temple; let all the earth hear Him."

The worn out interior of the building has, however, been made quite attractive by the mangers of the fair. The black walls of the altar recess have been covered by large American flags, and smaller ones almost cover the broken and shattered windows. Those portious of the ruined walls not hid with the flags have been deftly covered with white printing paper, and in different parts of the auditorium are placed tables, surmounted by arches, trimmed in tarletan, evergreen and flowers, and laden with a great variety of articles such as are usually shown at ladies' fairs. Immediately in front of the altar-place, is a long table filled with fancy, goods, &c., in charge of Miss Lizzie Malone and a number of assistants. Near the centre of the north wall is table in charge of Miss Marie Bryant and assistants. It is devoted to the sale of confections, fruits, &c., and contains an attractive assortment of glass and chinaware to be voted away.

Adjoining it, near the door, is the eigar table in charge of Misses Kate Coyle and Kate Haberbush. On the opposite side is the ice-cream table, in charge of Miss Margaret Ma-

At convenient points in the room are placed tables, chairs and benches for the mmodation of the patrons of the fair. As is usual on the opening night of a fair, the exhibits were not so well arranged as might be. To-day the management is at work completing the arrangements and adding new attractions to the exhibition. Friends of the church and of the new asylum should not fail to visit the fair and take a last look at the interior of St. Mary's in which their fathers and fathers' fathers so long worshiped. The admission is in the southeastern and also in the northwestern part of the county. In this city, and south of it, to the west of Quarryville, it was not very great, not extending beyoud a good rain. East of Quarryville the rain was heavy and the lightning sharp. On the line of the Quarryville railroad, this side of New Providence, a tree in a field along the road was shivered by the lightning. In Bart township the barn on the farm of Thomas E. Franklin, esq., between the Green Tree and Nine Points, tenanted by Harrison Graham, was struck at 11 o'clock in the morning, and burned to the ground, along with the wagon shed and- pig pen. A calf in the barn was killed by the lightning, but no other stock was lost; nor was there in the barn any farm produce of much value. The fire began under the eaves of the roof in the plates. The barn had a lightning rod, put up in 1867 by the Cleveland lightning rod company, who gave a written guarantee to pay all damage by fire oc,

MARIETTA MATTERS.

The News From Up the River. A horse attached to a wagon ran off on Saturday evening. He went rattling through the streets of Marietta at a fearful speed. John Lark, the driver, was thrown out, but not injured. When the horse was caught he had pieces of the shafts hanging to him; the wagon was wrecked in his flight of a mile. He belonged to Frank Paules, tobacco merchant.

Master Willie Arms, aged 12 years, son of Mr. Samuel Arms, died very suddenly on Sunday afternoon. A few weeks ago he had the dipletheria, but recovered from that, and indiscreetly exposing himself caught a cold, which turned into chronic croup. Yesterday morning he ate a very hearty breakfast, and about 9 o'clock complained of feeling unwell. At two o'clock in the afternoon he was a corpse. The burial services will be held at the house to-morrow afternoon.

Last Saturday Mr. Samuel Filbert, coal and lumber merchant, celebrated his 47th birthday. For a number of years past attempts to give him a surprise party have been made, but in all cases he has been too sharp for the would-be surprisers. When he went home on Saturday night, about 9 o'clock he was surprised to find a large number of his male friends there to congratulate him. He had had the joke on his friends so often that he began to think that he could not be caught. The surprise was gotten up by his estimable wife, who makes a success out of everything she undertakes. Mr. Filbert acknowledged that he was fairly caught and the festivities were kept up until a late hour. At Bridge street on Saturday evening Charles Woodyard, colored driver for C. Hershey, was requested to move some cars which were blocking the driving road on Bridge street. He replied that he would do so when he was ready, whereupon Tobias Barge, driver at Bruner's coal yard, and the person who made the request, let the cars down himself. After standing a short time the animal started to walk off and turned down Christian. Mr. Goos ran after the team and attempted to get into the wagon. Just as he was getting in some one frightened the horse by hollooing at him. He started off on a run and Mr. Goos was caught between the step and the wheel. At Grant street his pantaloons gave way and he fell under the wagon, the wheels passing over him. One of his legs was badly cut and bruised be tween the hip and knee, and he soon be-came so stiff that he hel to be taken to his home where Dr. Hess attended him. To-day he is confined to his bed, but expects to be out in a couple of days. The horse ran to Christian and Vine streets, where the wagon struck against a brick house and one front wheel was broken off, The animal was caught some distance further down Christian street and was taken to his stable. The wagon was taken to Doersom's shop to be repaired.

A l'olice Officer's House Entered by Thieves At an early hour yesterday morning thieves broke into the house of Officer Henry Elias, at No. 460 Rockland street. They eff sted an entrance by opening the cellar grate and stole a lot of butter, bread, &c., which were in the cellar. They then went up stairs where they took twenty yards of muslin, twenty-tive yards of calico, several towels and three or four dollars in money. They then left by open-ing the basement kitchen. Officer Elias usually stops at his house about one o'clock in the morning for a lunch, but yesterday morning, owing to the noisy condition of the streets, he was unable to get home. He thinks that the theft was committed between 2 and 3 o'clock. When he arrived home after going off duty he found the alley gate, basement door and cellar grate open. He then saw that the house had been robbed. His wife heard

St. Stephen's choir, of this city, surnished excellent music during the afternoon and evening.
