OBITUARY.

Death of George W. Mason. George W. Mason, son of John Mason of White Horse, Salisbury township, this county, died after a lingering illness, from pulmonary consumption, at the residence of his father, at half-past two o'clock this morning, in the 26th year of his age. Mr. Mason was a young man of fine parts and was widely known and highly esteemed. He was born and educated at White Horse, and when not more than 13 years old began to write for the newspapers, frequently contributing to the columns of the Intelligencer the local news of his neighborhood. A few years later he became an apprentice in this office, with the intentention of learning the trade of printing. He remained about two years and then went to Philadelphia to take instructions in job printing in the office of Baker & Bicking. He remained there six months, or more, returned to Lancaster and finished his trade in the old Express office. His tastes, however, leaned more towards the literary than the mechanical part of printing and whatever else he might be doing, he never failed to devote a good portion of his time to the reading of standard literature and the preparation of interesting papers for the press. After the old Express was bought out and consolidated with the Exeminer, Mr. Mason accepted a position as local editor on the Inquirer, and retained it until the New Era was started, when he was offered and accepted a position on the editorial staff of that paper, retaining it until the time of his death, though often compeiled to give up active work on account of impaired health. During the winter of 1878.9 he went to Flerida in hopes that a milder climate would restore his health. Returning somewhat improved, he resumed his labors on the New Era, but in January last, taking a severe cold while attending a festival of the lodge of K. of P., to which he belonged, he suffered a relapse that finally ended in his death.

Deceased was a ready and careful writer, a firm and unflinching Democrat, a polite and intelligent gentleman, a true, warm-hearted friend, and an affectionate son and bro...er.

His funeral will take place from the residence of his father on Friday morning, July 1st, at vo'clock, the religious services to be Laid in the Episcopal church at Compassville, in the burying ground of which the interment will take place. Death of Jacob Stark.

Jacob Stark, aged 84 years, died under somewhat peculiar circumstances last evening at the residence of his daughter near Neffsville, with whom he had been living for a few months past. It appears that the old gentleman, who was hard of hearing, started from his daughter's residence on Sunday evening to go to church at Noffsville. While on the road he' was knocked down or fell down between the wheels of a carriage and was run over. The driver of the earriage, whose name we have not learned, stopped and picked up the old man, took him to his daughter's home and sent for Dr. Witmer to attend to him. The doctor at first supposed that Mr. Stark was suffering from concussion of the brain, produced by being struck by the carriage, but a more careful examination convinced him that he had been prostrated by apoplexy. This opinion is strenghtened by the statements of others who witnessed the accident. They say that Mr. Stark was not knocked down, but fell over against the carriage. They also contradict a rumor that there were several teams racing, and that the old man was caught between them.

Mr. Stark died last evening and his remains were brought this morning to Laneaster and taken to the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Amanda Kleiss, with whom he made his home prior to his going to Neffsville. His funeral will take place on to morrow afternoon at 2 o'clock, from the residence of his daughter, at the corner of North Queen and James streets.

The Normal School Appropriation. The Millersville normal school undergraduates have been disturbed by an announcement that the amount of the state appropriation to them has been reduced below the amount allowed by the law. Inquiry directed to the department of publie instruction has resulted in the information given in the subjoined letter, that the appropriation made by the Legislature was too small to meet the requirements of

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA, & DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION. HARRISBURG, June 27, 1881.

A. J. STEINMAN, Esq., Laneaster, Pa.: Dear Sir: Dr. Higbee has issued no order in regard to payment of appropriation to undergraduates. The money appropriated for that purpose ($32,000) was paid as heretofore. The mistake was in not setting apart a sufficient amount to meet the requirements of graduates and new orderly has done. The members say undergraduates when the appropriation say that if Sergeant Bennett makes as bill was passed two years ago. This year's appropriation bill, for which Dr. Higbee is in no way responsible and which was nearly passed when he came here, sets apart the same amount for graduates and undergraduates as last year, which will not, in my judgment, meet their legal demands, but all we can do is to pay out what money is appropriated, just as we have done this year. Respectfully yours,

WM. D. LINDSEY.

A Sorrowtut Visit, A few weeks ago, Mr. Frank Piercy, an extensive dealer in coal and lumber, left his home in Kansas City, Mo, accompanied by his wife and four children, to visit friends and relatives in this city. While cu route his wife became ill and on reaching Laneaster her disease developed into small-pox. Mr. Piercy being unable to secure a home for his family, because of the disease with which his wife was afflicted, was compelled to place his wife in the small-pox hospital, and his children in the almshouse, though he was abundantly able to pay well for a home for them in more comfortable and congenial quarters. At last he secured a home for his children with a family living on Orange street, and, his wife having recovered, he made preparations to return to his home in Kansas City, yesterday afternoon, when another afflic-tion fell upon his family. His youngest child, a babe, was attacked with cholera morbus and after great suffering died at 2 o'clock this morning. Mr. Piercy made

COLUMBIA NEWS.

OUR REGULAR CORRESPONDENCE. Miss Jennie G. Bachman returned home from the Kingston seminary this morning. Dr. Armor, who has been dangerously ill for the past few days, is, we are glad to say, improving rapidly.

Mr. Harry Pfahler was this morning appointed engineer at the Supplee engine works of this place.

Mr. Wm. Newmacher, formerly of Columbia, but now a resident of Newark, N. ., is here on a short visit. Yesterday afternoon a coal car was thrown from a siding, in the west side of the Pennsylvania round house, caused by the spreading of the tracks. It was half an hour before the workmen succeeded in removing the blockade. The streets of the Third ward are, for the first time in fifteen years, being repaired. That they need it, there is not the slightest doubt, as it was unsafe to drive in them. Unofficially, there is some talk about changing freight train crews of Columbia. The men say that the first who come in should be the first to go out. The signal bridge at the crossing of the Pennsylvania & Reading railroads will, in a short time, be torn down and a new signal, not in the shape of a bridge, will be put up. At the same place new "frogs" will be laid.

William Lawrence was sued last evening by his wife for beating her. The hearing came off before Justice Frank. The case will be continued. A regular women's fight took place rag town yesterday. One of them was ar-rested and arraigned before Squire Young, who, after hearing the full particulars discharged her. A great deal of confusion and trouble was caused by something being the matter with the telegraph wires between York and Wrightsville. All messages from down the Port Deposit road to the former place had to be sent by the way of Harris- Will you try it. See other column. burg. This morning a horse attached to a market wagon ran off. The wagon contained a number of baskets and buckets, but happily empty. The horse darted up Cherry street, spilling the contents of the all along the way. It was caught on Fifth street between Cherry and Union.

Yesterday afternoon a breakdown occur red on Union street. A wagon containing a large load of rags, struck a stone in the street and immediately "rags fell." wagon was taken to be repaired and the rags to the home of their owner.

Ulysses Poet, a young boy who works in the Shawnee rolling mill, had his car and head hadly cut by a pair of tongs flying out of another person's hand. The acci dent occurred yesterday afternoon.

Martin Hurgert struck another young boy name I Abe Markley in the arm with a thorn. It was thought for a time that lock jaw would be the result. Hurgert was arrested and had a hearing before Squire Frank and was committed to jail for 20 days.

Mr. Charles Grove, machinist in the Pennsylvania round house, met with what might have been a fatal accident yesterday afternoon. He boarded engine No. 331 to ride to his place of business. In the rear of the round house he jumped off or rather attempted that teat, but his coat caught, and, after running ten or fifteen feet he was thrown violently to the ground and dragged some distance He was picked up in an insensible condition and carried into the round house, where after a while, he recovered consciousness. He was pretty badly cut about the head and face, but not seriously. All agree in saving that it was a most narrow es-

The Oscola tribe, I. O. R. M., will run an excursion to Annopolis, Md., on the 3th of next month. Extensive preparations are being made, and if successful, the affair will be the grand event of the season. As the price is low, being only $2 for the round trip, we do not doubt that a large number of persons will avail themselves of this excellent opportunity. The train leaves Columbia at 5 a. m. and goes down the Port Deposit road. The scenery along the route is grand. Arriving at Havre de Grace, the party will embark on the fine excursion steamer "Chester" from Baltimore for trip on the bay. A full brass and reed band will accompany the excur-

Quartermaster Sergeant F. A. Bennett was appointed, last evening, by Capt. D. B. Case, of Co. II, orderly sergeant. The appointment gives universal satisfaction to the entire company, but at the same time the members are very sorry to lose so efficient and accommodating quartermaster as Mr. Bennett has proved him self to be. No other member of the company can and will do for the same what the good an orderly as he did quartermaster, Co. II. will have one of the finest noncommissioned officers in the national guard of Pennsylvania. Our Borough Police We reported last week the discharge of been sworn in, and since commissioned as a borough policeman. The fourth section of our borough charter vests the power of the corposation in a chief burgess and town council composed of nine members.

The tenth section gives them power to make such laws, ordinances, by-laws and regulations, not inconsistent with the laws of the commonwealth, as they shall deem necessary for the good order and government of the borough; to establish a nightly watch ; to erect a lock up house for the temporary detention of persons committed by the proper corporate officers; to appoint and fremove such officers, pre-scribe their duties and to enforce the ordinances and regulations of the borough.'

No ordinance or regulations for the appointment of policemen, or a nightly watch, nor any prescribing the duties of such officers, have ever been enacted by council, yet several have been sworn in as such. Justice Young holds that these policemen are appointed by councils and have no duties to perform, except such as council may prescribe; and as council has prescribed none they are acting without authority.

Election of Officers.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing term last evening by Lancas ter lodge, No. 68, K. of P.: Chancellor Commander-John S. Gra-

Brandy as a Medicine.

The following article was voluntarily sent to Mr. H. E. Slaymaker, Agent for Reigart's Old Wine Store, by a prominent practising physician of this county, who has extensively used the Brandy referred to in his regular practice It is commencied to the attention of those afficient with Indigestion and Dyspepsia.

BRANDY AS A MEDICINE. This now much abused Alcoholic Stimulant was never intended as a beverage, but to be used as a medicine of great potency in the cure of some of the destructive diseases which sweep away their annual thousands of victims. With a purely philanthropic motive we present to the favorable notice of invalids—especially those afflicted with that miserable disease Dysnewsia, a sweetife remedy, which is case Dyspepsia, a specific remedy, which is nothing more or less than Brandy. The aged, with feeble appetite and more or ess debility, will find this simple medicine, when used properly, A Sovereign Remedy or all their ills and aches. Be it, however out one article, and that is

REIGART'S OLD BRANDY, Sold by our enterprising young friend, if E SLAYMAKEE. This Brandy has stood the test for years, and has never falled, as far as our experience extends, and we therefore give it the preterence over all other Brandies no matter with how many jaw-breaking French titles they are branded. One-fourth of the money that is yearly thrown away on various impotent dyspepsia specifies would suffice to buy all the Brandy to cure any such case or ases. In proof of the curative powers of

A hard-working farmer had been afflicted with an exhaustive Dyspepsia for a number of years; his stomach would reject almost every kind of food; he had sour cructations constantly—uo appetite—in fact, he was obliged to restrict his diet to crackers and stale bread, and as a beverage he used McGrann's Root Beer. He is a Methodist, and then, as now, preached at times, and in his discourses often declaimed carnestly against all kinds of strong drink. When advised to try Reigart's Old Brandy,

Reigart's Old Brandy,
In his case, he looked up with astonishment, but after hearing of its wonderful effects in the cases of some of his near acquaintances, he at last consented to follow our advice. He used the Brandy faithfully and steadily; the first bottle giving him an appetite, and before the second was taken he was a sound man, with a stomach capable of digesting anything which he chose to eat. He still keeps it and uses a little occasionally; and since he has this medicine he has been of very little pecuniary benefit to the doctor.—A Practising Physician.

In the intercollegate boat race at New London, Conn., yesterday between the crews of Harvard university and Columbia college the signal for starting was given almost exactly at noon. Harvard was the first to grip the water, and they opened with forty strokes to the minute, Columbia doing a good forty-two when fairly at her best pace. For a minute or two the boats moved along nearly nose and nose, the Harvard's half a stroke advantage at the start, keeping hemahead only while her oars were in the water, and Columbia getting level with her on the even stroke. A most determined struggle ensued for half a mile, and Harvard, by the hardest kind of work, had secured half a length advantage at the finish of half a mile, her coxswain apparently laboring as hard as any man in the boat.

At half a mile Harvard was confident of success, and when at the close of a full mile, which was covered in just five minutes, she was clear of the Columbia boat, and still going well, there seemed to be no question as to how the race would result. Harvard now eased up somewhat, but the Columbia eight continued the same steady time and swing shown at the beginging, and it was evident that for two miles at time and swing shown at the beginging, and it was evident that for two miles at least Harvard could not afford to lose many seconds. The Harvard coxswain, after passing the mile flag, carried his boat over to the east shore and thereby lost some distance. Columbia was thus enabled to close up a gap of nearly two boat lengths, so that at one and three-quarter miles the New York crew were level with the Harvards, and just beyoud this point the prow of the Columbia shell went to the front. Brandegee called on his crew for a rally, and they responded with vigor, so that at the second flag Har-vard was again leading, having made half the journey in 10 minutes and 40 seconds. As the crew passed the navy yard a magnificent spurt took place, and the men were rowing for everything they were worth. The spurt at this point of the race could not last, however, and at two-and-ahalf miles Harvard had slackened to ing thirty-nine. From this point Harvard had the race in hand. At three-and-a-half form. As they approached Regatta Point 500 and 600 persons, Columbia made a final rally and put up the stroke to 44. Harvard responded with 42. Every ounce of effort was put into the finishing work, and both crews went past the line at a rattling pace amid the cheers of the spectators. Harvard's time for four miles being 21:45 ; Columbia's, 21:58-Harvard winning by five lengths. Directly the Columbia crew crossed the line, Eldredge, who pulled No 2 oar, was seen to weaken. He had rowed so plucky a race for his college that when the excitement of the contest had ceased he was completely exhausted and fainted. Restoratives were given him, but he did not seem to revive, and at last was removed from the boat and taken ashore in the Columbia launch. He was reported considerably better last night. It is said he sprained his back on the last stroke. His condition is not alarming.

DIAMONDS, &c.

DIAMOND

May seem a small matter in comparison with the value of the gem itself, but it is so important that the safety of the gem depends on its being done properly.

Many Diamonds are lost because not SE-CURELY mounted. Many Diamonds fall to exhibit their true beauty because not TASTEFULLY

Many Diamonds appear like cheap and common stones because not SKILLFULLY Our Diamond Mounting is designed with consummate taste, and executed with superior skill, by workmen of long experience, who are unrivaled in their specialty.
