TRE COMET. About 40 years ago, when the astron had predicted the appearance of the comet which came within the observation of the people of the earth in 1813, Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes delighted the people of that day and generation with the following humorous poem, which served an excellent purpose at the time to allay the tears of the timid, and furnish intellectual enjoyment to those who could appreciate the wit and sentiment which it embodies, combined with an excellent moral lesson:

The comet ! he is on his way, And singing as he flies; The whizzing planets shrink before The spectre of the skies. Ah! well may regal orbs turn blue

And satellites turn pale, Ten million cubic miles of head. Ten billion leagues of tail ! On, on by whistling spheres of light He flashes and he flames ;

He turns not to the left nor right, He asks them not their names. One spurn from his demontac heel-Away, away they fly, Where darkness might be bottled up

And sold for "Tyrian dye," And what would happen to the land, And how would look the sea, If in the bearded devil's path

Our earth should chance to be Full hot and high the sea would boil, Full red the forests gleam ; Methought I saw and heard it all In a dyspeptic dream!

I saw a tutor take his tube The comet's course to spy; I heard a scream-the gathered rays Had stewed the tutor's eye;

I saw a tort-the soldiers all Were armed with goggles green; Pop cracked the guns! Whiz flew the balls! Bang went the magazine! I saw a poet dip a scroll

Each moment in a tub, I read upon the warping back "The Dream of Beelzebub;" He could not see his verses barn, Because his brain was fried. And ever and anon he bent To wet them as they dried.

I saw the scalding pitch roll down The crackling, sweating pines. And streams of smoke, like water spouts, Burst through the rumbling mines; I asked the firemen why they made Such noise about the town;

They answered not, but all the while The brakes went up and down. I saw a roasting pullet sit Upon a baking egg; I saw a cripple scorch his hand Extinguishing his leg;

I saw nine geese upon the wing Toward the frozen pole, And every mother's gosting fell Crisped to a crackling coal

I saw the ox that browsed the grass Writhe in the blistering rays, The herbage in his shrinking jaws Was all a fiery blaze; I saw huge fishes, boiled to rags, Bob through the bubbling brine

And thoughts of supper crossed my soul; I had been rash at mine. strange sights! strange sounds! O fearin' dream !

Its memory haunts me still, The steaming sea, the crimson glare, That wreathed each wooded hill: Stranger! if through thy reeling brain Such midnight visions sweep,

Spare, spare, O, spare thine evening meal, And sweet shall be thy sleep!

---"How are You my old Friend?" "How are You my old Friend?"

Asked a bright looking man. "Oh! I teel miserable, I'm billous and can't eat, and my back is so lame I can't work." "Why in the world don't you take Kidney-Wort; that's what I take when I am out of sorts, and it always keeps me in perfect tane. My doctor recommends it for all such troubles." Kidney-Wort is the sure cure for billousness and constipation. Don't fall to try it.—Long Branch News.

MEDICAL. DEIGART'S OLD WINE STORE. Brandy as a Medicine.

The following article was voluntarily sent to Mr. H. E. Slaymaker, Agent for Reigart's Old Wine Store, by a prominent practising physi-cian of this county, who has extensively used the Brandy referred to in his regular practice. It is commended to the attention of those af-dicted with Indigestion and Dyspepsia.

BRANDY AS A MEDICINE.

This now much abased Alcoholic Stimulant was never intended as a beverage, but to be used as a medicine of great potency in the cure of some of the destructive diseases which sweep away their annual thousands of victims With a purely philanthropic motive we pre sent to the favorable notice of invalids—espe cially those afflicted with that miserable dis ease Dyspensia, a specific remedy, which is nothing more or less than

The aged, with feeble appetite and more or less debility, will find this simple medicine when used properly, A Sovereign Remedy or all their ills and aches. Be it, however strictly understood that we prescribe and use but one article, and that is Brandy.

REIGARTS OLD BRANDY. Sold by our enterprising young friend, it E. SLAYMAKER. This Brandy has stood the test for years, and has never failed, as far as our experience extends, and we therefore give it the preterence over all other Brandies no matter with how many jaw-breaking French titles they are branded. One-fourth of the money that is yearly thrown away on various impotent dyspepsia specifies would suffice to bay all the Brandy to cure any such case or ases. In proof of the ourative powers of Reigart's Old Brandy, n cases of Dyspepsia, we can summon num pers of witnesses—one case in particular we cite:—

A hard-working farmer had been afflicted with an exhaustive Dyspepsia for a number of years; his stomach would reject almost every kind of food; he had sour cructations constantly—no appetite—in fact, he was obliged to restrict his diet to crackers and stale bread, and as a beverage he used McGrann's Root Beer. He is a Methodist, and then, as now, preached at times, and in his discourses often declaimed carnestly against all kinds of strong drink. When advised to try

Reigart's Old Brandy, Reigart's Old Brandy,
In his case, he looked up with astonishment, but after hearing of its wonderful effects in the cases of some of his near acquaintances, he at last consented to follow our advice. Be used the Brandy faithfully and steadily: the first bottle giving him an appetite, and before the second was taken he was a sound man, with a stomach capable of digesting anything which he chose to cat. He still keeps it and uses a little occasionally; and since he has this neclicine he has been of very little pecuniary benefit to the doctor.—A Practising Physician.
