SUDDEN DEATH.

Coroner's Inquest and Verdict, This morning about 8 o'clock Mrs. Sarah Spriggle, residing at No. 231 Mifflin street, died, after premature birth to a still-born child. Coroner Mishler, being notified, empaneled a jury, viewed the body and took the testimony of several witnesses, from which it appeared that deceased was in her usual health up to yes terday morning, when she was taken with severe pains in her chest and abdomen which continued all day. Dr. Westhaeffer was sent for and remained with the pa tient some time during the night, and in the morning delivered her of a still-born child. She lived about an hour after the birth of the child, being carefully waited on not only by Dr. Westhaeffer, but by Mrs. Spriggle, Susan Wagner and others. Deceased was the wife of John Albert Spriggle, a laboring man, who was absent at the time of her death, having gone to Strasburg to work. She was about 29 years old, and has given birth to six children, only one of whom is living. The family are in poor circumstances, and Mrs. Spriggle assisted in maintaining it by washing, having continued at work almost up to the day of her death. After viewing the body and taking the testimony of the family the jury adjourned | firemen's convention, that they misunderto the coroner's office, where they heard the testimony of Dr.J. A. Fitzpatrick, cor- it would be next Tuesday evening instead oner's physician, and of Dr. H. E. Westhaeffer, physician in charge, and rendered a verdict that death was caused by internal hemorrhage, after having given premature birth to a still-born child.

The jury in the case of Michael Shreiner. before reported, met last evening, heard additional testimony and rendered a verdiet that Mr. Shreiner came to his death from injuries received on the Reading railroad, and that the railroad and its employees are exonerated from all blame.

Pienes at What Glen. The pupils and teachers of St. Mary's orphan asylum had a picuic at What Glen yesterday. Father Hickey and the sisters in charge made it very pleasant for the little people. The Sunday school of St. Paul's reformed church are holding their picnic at What Glen to day. It is being very largely attended. Lutheran Excursion.

The excursion from Laneaster to Pine Grove, Cumberland county, gotten up under the auspices of Trinity Lutheran church, this city, was very largely attended, there being over 800 persons aboard the thirteen passenger cars when they left the depot of the Pennsylvania railroad company at 6 o'clock this morning. So great was the crowd in the depot that it was 20 minutes behind schedule time when the cars steamed out. A telegram announced that the excursionists arrived safely at Harrisburg at 7:40, only 10 min utes behind time.

A rather awkward and at the same time amusing incident connected with the excursion is the fact that David Bair, the East King street merchant, who is one of the excursionists, carried along with him the key to the store door; and conse quently the clerks and salesmen could not get in. Locksmiths were sent for and worked at the door for hours, but could not pick the lock. Finally a card was put up in front of the store, stating that "this store will be open July 15th, at 7 a. m. The keys have gone to a picale." Quite a crowd gathered in front of the store to unconsciously placed the palm of his right watch the locksmiths trying to pick the hand over the muzzle and the trigger was Western Avenue, Lynn, Mass., for pamphlets

A telegram was sent to Mr. Bair, re questing him to send back the keys, and he answered that he would do so by the next train.

From Columbia to Lititz. The Methodist Sunday-school left this morning to picnic at Lititz. About three hundred of its scholars accompanied it. The tobacco and other county products along the Reading railroad are in a flourshing condition.

The excursion train this morning only made two stops between Columbia and Lititz, and these were necessary. The young men accompanying the picnic

SCENES ABOUT THE WHITE HOUSE.

Cheerfulness Takes the Place of Gloom and

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 14.—There is marked change in the scene about the executive mansion this morning as compared with that which has prevailed coninuously since the president was wounded. Bright and cheerful expressions have taken the place of sad and mournful ones, and the encouraging statements made by the attending physicians relative to the recovery of the president have had the effect of relieving the terrible anxiety which has prevailed for nearly a fortnight. Heretofore the attaches of the White House as well as those who were there on busi ness in connection with the president's illness, and those calling to make personal inquiries, might have been seen in groups conversing in monotones, while to day the sadness occasioned by the attempted assassination and the fears which have been entertained that recovery was doubtful have given place to brighter hopes and the general drift of conversation is more cheery and pleasant, indicating the satisfaction which prevails concerning the patient's condition. Especially was this manifest in the expressions of the members of the cabinet leaving the White House this morning, each of whom made pleasing and satisfactory replies to all interrogatories regarding the president's condition. The day is bright and pleasant with a very refreshing breeze, being the result of a heavy shower which occurred last night. The guards are still kept about the White House grounds on patrol duty, and will probably be continued until the president is able to be about. The refrigerating apparatus under the supervision of Maj. Powell is practically finished, and all noise caused by its construction has ceased, leaving the mansion and surrounding quiet. Sympathy From Paris.

LONDON, July 14.-A dispatch from Paris to the Datly Telegraph says : "The American colony in Paris held a meeting yesterday for the purpose of drawing up an address of sympathy for President Garfield. The address will remain here ten days for the purpose of receiving signatures. It will be forwarded to Washington on the 24th inst."

One of them, Franklin Burns, the foreman, was on the timbers, and the others were below in the bottom of the tunnel. The sliding earth knocked Burns off and threw the timbers down on the men. Burns and David Hunter (colored) were killed and four others were more or less injured. The first report that the tunnel itself had fallen was incorrect.
