FELL DEAD.

A German Dies of Apoplexy. This afternoon about 2 o'clock, a man named Christian Kuhnly, known in the eastern section of the city as " Burgomaster" fell dead upon the side walk in East King street, near Lime. He made a precarious livelihood by trimming trees, grapevines and shrubbery and other garden work in and about the city. For a week past he had been boarding at Hagelgan's hotel, East King street.

Inea Pit.

This morning a horse belonging to John Welsh fell into a manure pit alongside the stable of the Cross Keys hotel. By throwing stable manure and straw into the pit the horse was finally raised so near the surface that he could step out. He was not hurt in the least by his fall.
