The 'squire also promised to look after his family, and also see if he can get bail for him.

Finding that the crowd of tramps was too large for him, he came back to town for assistance. He hunted up a party of his friends and with them started back to the creek, where a fight took place and Brimmer regained his ring. Several of the tramps were armed with revolvers and immediately began firing at the town men. A bullet from one of the sweapons hit young Brimmer in the left the use of her Vegetable Compound. After the fight the tramps fled. Word was sent to this city and Officers Daily, Kautz, Shay and Coyle started in search of them. Two of them named Charles Remington and Wm. McHenry says that he was at Ziegler's hotel, on East

They were taken to prison and they gave their names as follows: James Hart, Thomas Harding, John Hogan, John Reilly and Daniel Donavan. London, July 19 .-- The blast furnace men at three of the iron works in the Cleveland district, have struck against a reduction of 24 per cent. in their wages, and 24 furnaces are idle. The stoppages of these furnaces will reduce the total make of pig iron in Cleveland by about 1703 tons daily and will throw 4000 men out of employment. If the strike is not settled in a few days the consequences will be serious, as some of the furnaces will be blown out

MEDICAL. DEIGART'S OLD WINE STORE.

The following article was voluntarily sent to · Brandy as a Medicine.

Mr. H. E. Slaymaker, Agent for Reigart's Old Wine Store, by a prominent practising physi-cian of this county, who has extensively used the Brandy referred to in his regular practice. It is commended to the attention of those af-Indigestion and Dyspepsia. BRANDY AS A MEDICINE. This now much abused Alcoholic Stimulant was never intended as a beverage, but to be used as a medicine of great potency in the cure of some of the destructive diseases which sweep away their annual thousands of victims.

With a purely pelianthropic motive we pre-sent to the favorable notice of invalids—espe-cially those afflicted with that miserable disease Dyspepsia, a specific remedy, which is nothing more or less than Brandy.

The agest, with feeble appetite and more or less debility, will find this simple medicine, when used properly, A Sovereign Remedy or all their ills and aches. Be it, however strictly understood that we prescribe and use but one article, and that is

REIGART'S OLD BRANDY. Sold by our enterprising young friend, H & SLAYMAKER. This Brandy has stood the test for years, and has never falled, as far as our experience extends, and we therefore as our experience extends, and we therefore give it the preference over all other Brandles no matter with how many law-breaking French titles they are brandled. One-fourth of the money that is yearly thrown away on various impotent dyspepsia specifies would suffice to buy all the Brandy to cure any such case or ases. In proof of the curative powers of · Roigart's Old Brandy, in cases of Dyspepsia, we can summon numbers of witnesses—one case in particular we effe:— A hard-working farmer had been ullicated with an exhaustive Dyspepsia for a number of years; his stomach would reject almost every kind of food: he had soor eructations constantly—no appetite—in fact, he was obliged to restrict his diet to crackers and stale bread, and as a beverage he used McGrann's Root Beer. He is a Methodist, and then, as now, preached at times, and in his discourses often declaimed earnestly against all kinds of strong drink. When advised to try

Reigart's Old Brandy, In his case, he locked up with astonishment, but after hearing of its wonderint effects in the cases of some of his near acquaintances, he at last consented to follow our advice. He used the Brandy faithfully and stendily; the first bottle giving him an appetite, and before the second was taken be was acquaint near title. the second was taken be was a sound man, with a stomach capable of digesting anything which be chose to eat. He still keeps it and uses a lit-tic occasionally; and since he has this medicine he has been of very little pecaniary be fit to the doctor.—A Practising Physician. H. E. SLAYMAKER, Reigart's Old Wine Store, Established in 1785,
