

COLUMBIA NEWS.

OUR REGULAR CORRESPONDENCE.

Blackberries in large quantities have made their appearance in our market.

A small party of Columbians spent part of yesterday afternoon and evening at Wrightsville.

The E. E. Lutheran church will take tickets and run the Columbia party for the Y. M. C. A.'s excursion of Lancaster, on Aug. 4.

A natural curiosity was seen in the dispatcher's office at the west yard of the P. R. R. in the shape of a winged hawk.

The red bridge near the cut is being repaired, and all trains are forced to run on the south track.

Mr. John Friedrich's horse, becoming scared, broke the hitching strap and started to run off, but before he could get very far he was cut off.

A large number of Columbia families left this morning to attend the Lauderbach campmeeting, which begins to-day.

This morning Mr. W. H. Moore drew a dog of the Golden Eye breed.

It was chased off last evening by Mr. Harry Long, who was the owner of the dog.

To-morrow at 6 a. m. the excursion to Pine Grove park will pass through here.

Tickets can be bought at Richards' book store for $1.50.

The fights on Saturday last have ended with several law suits, which were heard before Squire Frantz, who placed the lighter under bail for a further hearing.

At the last meeting of the town council it was decided to purchase one of Noyes' horse-drawn engines.

The engine is now at the Columbia house, in a few days it will be given a trial, and if proved satisfactory it will be bought.

A special train containing Messrs. Chas. Pugh, S. M. Prevost, J. B. Hutchinson, Wm. Latta and James L. Lee, officers of the Pennsylvania railroad, passed through here at 6 p. m. last evening.

Two large water leaks occurred this morning in the main water pipe of Second and Walnut, and the other between Second and Third streets.

Workmen are busily engaged in repairing them.

A cigar box manufactory will be started in a few days under the management of Mr. J. R. K. K. K. K. K.

The company is to be foreman at Hershey's manufactory. We wish him success, as he is now for the first time working for himself.

At her home in Harrisburg, the wife of Abraham Lindsay, an old Columbia, died yesterday of cholera.

The remains will be brought to Columbia to-morrow morning and buried from the residence of Mr. Harvey McFadden.

The Columbians who attended the encampment of the G. A. R. at Gettysburg returned home on Monday, and express themselves as highly delighted with their trip.

About a thousand men of the G. A. R. are in encampment.

On account of the heat G. C. was taken out on the street for drill last evening.

The company was drilled on Monday, and drilled today. After drill a business meeting was held, and Messrs. Himburg and Struck elected members of the Co.

The citizens of Perry street are forced to listen to distressful cries nearly every evening.

A bruit is called man, abusing his poor wife, and if a neighbor interferes he tells them that she is his property.

The poor woman does not know, probably, that there is a law in this country for beating and if does not soon take the matter in her own hands, the neighbors will, and then the brute will get the full benefit of our law.

The old members of the Our Boys baseball club are trying to get organized to play the Lancaster, York and Harrisburg nine, all of which have sent the O. P.'s challenges.

If they mean to reorganize they had better begin at once or the season will be over before they start.

On Saturday evening at Newtown, the election for 7th Lieutenant Colonel for the 6th Regt. was held.

Major Washburn, formerly of the 11th Regt., was the lucky one, receiving twelve out of seventeen votes.

The election of the major gives entire satisfaction to everyone here. He is deserving of serving under him. He is deserving of the office and he performs his duty in the 6th as well as he did in the 11th, his new men will soon be as devoted to him as much as the old ones.

Mr. David Crompton has returned from the north to the seashore this a. m. Miss Madge Kaussy, who for the past month has been the guest of Miss Jane Patton, returned to her home in Lebanon this morning.

Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Crotwell and Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Hogenobler leaves to-day for a week's vacation at McCall's Ferry; Mr. Harry Oehme, of Litz, was in town yesterday; Miss Hertz, of Middle-town, is the guest of Mr. Robert Sneath; Miss Nellie Galt, of Reading, is visiting Mrs. J. M. Hoffer.

The jewel box, belonging to Mrs. H. M. North, and which was stolen one day last week, has been recovered. "Son" Hoisinger, a colored man, was doing on one of Bachman's lumber piles, and was hit by a rat running along under the pile. He rose to his feet and went for the rat, but could not see it.

Under the pile was a basket containing some broken dishes. "Son" pulled it out and there lay the jewel box, and as the key was sticking in it opened and found a collection of gold and silver. A picture of Mrs. North, a couple of boxes containing lead for pencils, some cards and papers and two glasses for spectacles.

All the valuable jewels had been removed and these few articles of no account left. The box was returned to its original owner.

Serious Accident. Yesterday afternoon, about 5 o'clock, two little boys, Eddie Frain and Charles Schoenmaker, were playing near the water, standing at the corner of Water and Walnut streets, waiting for a north bound train on the Quarryville railroad to pass.

At the same moment a team belonging to a country man named Bowers, and in charge of two country boys, took fright at the train and dashed furiously towards the point at which Frain and Schoenmaker were standing.

Having their backs towards the approaching team they could not see it, and the noise made by the team prevented them from hearing its approach.

In an instant both were knocked down by the frightened horse and Frain was hurried violently against the side of the car, his head being badly cut by striking a car wheel, and his ankle badly sprained.

Schoenmaker escaped with less serious injuries, though he too made a narrow escape from being thrown under the cars.

Dr. A. J. Herr attended Master Frain's injuries, after which he was sent to the home of his father, Mr. George Frain, who has a house on the down Water street to Chestnut, and up Chestnut to Harberger's machine shop, where it was caught.

The horse was somewhat out about the legs, and the wagon was broken, but the country boys who occupied it escaped unhurt.

Child Run Over. Last evening as some children were playing on West King street and had among them the eight months old infant of Mrs. Mary Hudson, No. 453 West King street, an omnibus driving Mr. John S. Wagner's team, of Bernard Place, ran over the baby and she was slightly injured about the head.

The gentleman, who had been driving carefully, was very anxious about the child, hurried Dr. B. B. Bowers to his home, where a necessary attention showed the child, which was not seriously hurt. Its position, however, was very perilous and it might easily have been trampled to death, had not the horse, as if recognizing its position with almost human instinct, cleared its body with his feet, only grazing its lip with his shoe.

Local Events.

Dr. F. F. Frantz, graduated from Jefferson and Hahnemann medical colleges, Philadelphia, has "registered."

At the request of the defendant the hearing in the case of B. F. Henderson, charged with embezzlement, has been postponed by Alderman Spurrier until Monday next.

A large number of Philadelphia members of the Grand Army of the Republic passed through this city this afternoon on their way from the encampment at Gettysburg.

Harry Brown, arrested for assault and battery and malicious mischief, on complaint of Mrs. Rothweier, has entered bail for a hearing before Alderman P. Donnelly.

John Trewitz, of this city, will go to New York next week and will attempt to channel off the feet of playing a band and month long for twenty-four hours without stopping to eat, drink or sleep.

The trial will be made in Orway Goeghan's saloon.

Complaint is made that the Lancaster and Litz trolley, which has been in the country is now in a terribly bad condition, abounding in chucks, loose stones, dangerous ruts, &c., &c. Kiesel Hill which used to be the only bug bear on the road is now the best part of it.

A Brutal Porter. This morning as George Burton, the colored porter of the Grape hotel, was conveying his wheel-barrow load of baggage from the Pennsylvania railroad depot, he knocked down and ran over a little German girl, who was standing on the sidewalk in front of Knicker's shoe store.

The wheel of the barrow passed over the little girl's ankle, hurting her badly and causing her to scream with pain.

Burton did not stop to ascertain how badly he had hurt her, and when his attention was called to the matter he said, with an oath, that it was a pity he hadn't run over her neck—that people ought to keep their children at home.

Mister Burton is evidently too big for his boots. The police should sit down on him and read to him that part of the city ordinances which provides that the sidewalk shall be kept open for foot passengers and not for wheelbarrows.

Reckless Children. There is a family of children living just east of the Pennsylvania railroad depot that cause the railroad officials a great deal of annoyance and dread.

They jump on and off passing trains almost every hour of the day, and frequently crawl under the cars standing in the depot.

This morning as the Niagara express was entering the depot one of these youngsters rushed in front of the locomotive and came within an ace of being crushed beneath its ponderous wheels.

The officers could not see the child in time to prevent a fatal accident which would have happened.

Colored Picnic. The colored picnic at What Glen yesterday was largely attended by people of all colors, white men and black women being in the majority.

There was the usual amount of fun, fighting, drinking and dancing, and on the whole, most of those present enjoyed themselves.

Miss Susan A. Rhodes, carrying her arm in a sling and her mother, Mrs. Fry, were invited to participate, they say, but to see the girl, Susan in some way gave offense to a colored woman named Cal. Patterson, who "bounced her" and beat her badly.

Miss Rhodes has brought suit for assault and battery against her assailant.

The Fleet Footed Pedestrians. Frank J. Scheidt will walk Albert Parriaux a 75-hour match, square heel and foot, for $75. The race will come off some time in September, either in York or Lancaster.

Geiter has accepted J. P. Malone's challenge. There will be a 60-a-yo challenge race, and will come off at the same time and place as the other.

Thieves' Plunder Found. Mr. Morris Cooper, who resides at Cooper's mill, about a mile southeast of Georgetown, Barr township, has found in his mill a collection of stolen goods, including rubber blankets, carriage curtains, whips, &c., which indicate that they were the booty of thieves who "went through" the vehicles at a festival, party, religious meeting or some other public gathering at night time.

Postponed. The meeting of the American fire company, which was to have been held last evening for the purpose of hearing the report of the committee of twenty-five, relative to the reorganization of the company, was not held—the committee not being ready to report. The committee will meet at Alderman Barr's office this evening.

A Child Beaten. This morning a little girl named Minnie Kemner was seen on the street with her arm broken and otherwise badly bruised. She said that the injury was inflicted by her mother when she was beating her in a broom handle. The family reside in Breckenham's court.

Cars Wrecked. Late last night an accident occurred on the Pennsylvania railroad near the Little Conestoga Bridge, by which several freight cars were wrecked, both tracks blocked and freight and passenger trains delayed for some hours. No body was hurt.

Bay Fever. For twenty-five years I have been severely afflicted with Hay Fever, and have tried many remedies without relief. I pronounce Ely's Cream Balm a cure for Hay Fever. WILLIAM T. CARR, Presbyterian Pastor, Elizabethtown, N. J. Write to me for a circular.
