Lancaster Intelligencer. petition. WEDNESDAY EVENING, JULY 27, 1881. LANCASTER MOUSEHOLD MARKET. THE OWL AND THE SPIDER. In an old beltry tower, A dry, cozy bower, Dozed an owl by the hour. But the bell's sly old clapper Was a mischievous rapper, And soon waked the napper. "Mr. Owl, don't you mind him; With cobwebs I'll bind him. And round and round wind him." Thus spoke up the spider, Strip'd like an outrider; The owl sharply eyed her,

And said: "If he cheat you. I'll not scold or beat you, I'll just merely eat you.' The owl saw her spin Her web, frail and thin Round the bell, out and in. But, next Sunday morning, Without a word of warning, The bell went a-storming ! With a cling and a clang.

With a boom and a bang, The old clapper rang!

The owl didn't chide her, Rebuke nor deride her, But he ate up that spider!

Here is a moral, dear children, for you: Never promise a thing you're not able to do —Frank II. Stavffer in Si. Nicholas for Au-

Governor William D. Bloxham, of Florida, is visiting his old college professor, George G. Butler, at Pottstown. The governor is journeying North for the double purpose of business and pleasure. The former has reference to the large sales of lands by the state of Florida to Hamilton Disston and others of Philadelphia.

Ohio is always a trifle in advance of the humdrum world, and the latest innova-tion in style is at Cincinnati. While a wedding procession was filing down the aisle a young lady stepped up to the bride and presented her with an engagement ring and package of letters she had received from the groom.

A device has been invented in the West for laying ties and iron direct from the cars. The ties are taken from an inclined plane and placed in position by means of a movable derrick. The iron is run out by means of a windlass, placed upon the ties and spiked down. It is claimed that this invention will save much valuable time in the construction of railroads.

Every Evening is authorized to say by the shipbuilders of Wilmington, Del., that iron steamers of any capacity will be built by them at the same prices charged at the ship yards on the Clyde. This statement is a set-back to Johnny Roach's extrava gant idea of ship building, and rather knocks the props from under his subsidy schemes, about which Congress has been bothered for some time part bothered for some time past.

Those who are in the habit of being bitten by mad dogs will find consolation in the subjoined extract from an exchange "According to the physicians, not more than 11 per cent. of persons bitten by mad dogs are attacked by hydrophobia. On the other hand, the bite of a dog which was not rabid, and did not become so afterwards, has been known frequently to cause fatal hydrophobia. The moral is that people who keep pet dogs cannot be too careful."

They have a very decided way of "stamping out" small-pox down in Sugar Notch. A young man named William Albert had contracted the disease and Dr. S. S. Pace was called in to treat the case ; the board of health closed the door upon the doctor, causing it to be securely locked, compelling the physician to remain in the room with the sick man until he died; after which the doctor was required to bury in earth all the clothing he had on him during his enforced professional call, before he would be permitted to come out and mix with the people.

MEDICAL. DEIGART'S OLD WINE STORE. Brandy as a Medicine.

The following article was voluntarily sent to Mr. H. E. Slaymaker, Agent for Reigart's Old Wine Store, by a prominent practising physician of this county, who has extensively used the Brandy referred to in his regular practice. It is commended to the attention of these afflicted with Indigestion and Dyspepsia. BRANDY AS A MEDICINE. This now much abused Alcoholic Stimulant was never intended as a beverage, but to be used as a medicine of great potency in the cure of some of the destructive diseases which sweep away their annual thousands of victims.

With a purely philanthropic motive we pre sent to the favorable notice of invalida—especially those afflicted with that miserable disease Dyspepsia, a specific remedy, which is nothing more or less than

Brandy. The aged, with feeble appetite and more or less debility, will find this simple medicine, when used properly,

A Sovereign Remedy or all their ills and aches. Be it, however strictly understool that we prescribe and use but one article, and that is REIGART'S OLD BRANDY, Sold by our enterprising young friend, H E SLAYMAKER. This Brandy has stood the test for years, and has never failed, as far as our experience extends, and we therefore give it the preference over all other Brandies no matter with how many jaw-breaking French titles they are branded. One-fourth of the money that is yearly thrown away on various impotent dyspepsia specifics would suffice to buy all the Brandy to cure any such case or ases. In proof of the curative powers of Reigart's Old Brandy, In cases of Dyspepsia, we can summon num bers of witnesses—one case in particular we cite:—

A hard-working farmer had been afficted with an exhaustive Dyspepsia for a number of years; his stomach would reject almost every kind of food; he had sour eructations constantly—uo appetite—in fact, he was obliged to restrict his diet to crackers and stale bread, and as a beverage he used McGrann's Root Beer. He is a Methodist, and then, as now, preached at times, and in his discourses often declaimed carnestly against all kinds of strong drink. When advised to try Reigart's Old Brandy, In his case, he looked up with astonishment, but after hearing of its wonderful effects in the cases of some of his near acquaintances, he at last consented to follow our advice. He used the Brandy faithfully and steadily; the first bottle giving him an appetite, and before the second was taken he was a sound man, with a stomach capable of digesting anything which helplose to eat. He still keeps it and uses a little occasionally; and since he has this medicine he has been of very little pecuniary benefit to the doctor.—A Practismo Paysician.
