

COLUMBIA NEWS.

OUR REGULAR CORRESPONDENCE. Company C's special drill last evening was poorly executed.

Large pipe and sound crab apples have appeared on market.

Sell's circus second brigade of bill posters are billing the town.

Mr. S. S. Dettler has a number of acres of tobacco, which defies competition in this county.

The Columbia Army association this morning declared a dividend of 4 per cent.

Mr. D. H. Dotwiler sold at private sale eight shares of the Columbia National bank stock at $140 per share.

Mr. Haysor, of York while riding his bicycle on First street, last evening, was thrown off and had an ugly gash cut in his forehead.

An attempt to rob the house of Mr. C. N. Adams, near Shawnee furnace, was made last night.

Mr. Ed. Hitesher, who had one of his fingers badly bitten on the fourth of July, and which has been getting worse since, will be under the painful necessity of having it amputated.

Mr. John H. Hines, student of Mr. Haney, telegraph operator at the Reading and Columbia railroad depot, while returning home from work last evening, had either a paralytic or stroke.

Mr. J. R. Hines, who was taken to the hospital at the corner of Third and Union streets, was picked up and carried home, and was forced to take to his bed.

A case of malicious mischief was heard before Squire Young yesterday afternoon, but the evidence was not sufficient to sustain the charge.

The suit arose from the following: The prosecutor was driving up the hill when the defendant drove past tearing off one of the wheels and breaking the axle of the former wagon.

Mr. J. R. Hines, who was taken to the hospital at the corner of Third and Union streets, was picked up and carried home, and was forced to take to his bed.

Mr. C. G. Pitt received the following order from T. C. Zanic, superintendent of the tide water canal, which he in turn sent to Mr. Chas. Nelson, shipping clerk of the Susquehanna coal company.

Please have all boats laden to pass through the canal on Wednesday night, and 5 feet draft of water, until further notice.

If boats exceed this and obstruct the full use of the canal the boats will be lightened up and boat and cargo held until the expenses are paid.

A gentleman riding a horseback, coming from the party at Marietta, this a. m., was thrown from his horse and badly stunned.

A horse plank in bridge No. 1 crossing the Chickies creek, caused the horse to stumble, while the rider fell over the horse's head, and was taken to the toll gate near where in a few minutes he regained his consciousness.

This morning he is all right with the exception of a severe headache.

To-day Mr. David Hanauer is holding his annual picnic at Waverly. For a number of years the gentleman has been in the habit of taking his family and a few intimate friends to this beautiful summer resort, where they spend the day in fishing, roaming through the woods, and tending the horses.

Mr. Hanauer had good entertainment, and all the large number of persons which went up this morning, will, if it lays in his power, have a fine time.

The party was increased in number by the 11:30 train.

Marietta has always been noted for holding fine parties, but the one last night held in the beautiful park of Col. James Duffly, and managed solely by the young ladies fairly surpassed any other that was ever given in that town, and by putting it in its right place, has never been excelled this side of Philadelphia.

The party was held in the park, and was a very fine affair, and the young ladies were very much complimented on the completeness of the party.

When we say "we" have another one very soon, we only express the sentiments of the large number which was present.

Sturgis's Sash Factory - Sten's and Frick's Houses Again.

The alarm of fire about 8 o'clock last evening was caused by the chimney of Sturgis's sash factory and planing mill, North Market street, between Lemon and James, taking fire from the accumulation of soot in it.

It soon burned out and did no damage whatever.

Shortly after 2 o'clock this morning there was a second alarm of fire caused by a bright light seen in the southern part of the city.

It was soon ascertained that the incendiary's torch had for the third time been applied to the two-story frame dwelling house Nos. 525 and 527 South Pine street.

The buildings were wrecks having been unfit for dwellings and unoccupied since the former fire. Mr. Stein's building did not sustain much additional damage by the fire last night, but Mr. Fink's was almost totally destroyed.

It is not likely that either of them will be rebuilt, as the incendiaries seem to have a special grade against them or their owners.

Street Incidents. One of the horse carriages, after starting for the fire last night, is reported to have put back to the house for want of men to draw it.

When the first alarm sounded last night the look and ladder truck started for two men at the rope, one the foreman and the other an outsider.

"Oh, don't hurry, boys," said one last evening, "it may be a false alarm." But then, again, it might not have been.

One of the sights this morning was an oyster boat grounded on North Queen street. Six men and a half man managed to get it under way again.

OBITUARY.

Death of George B. Showers. About 3 o'clock this afternoon George B. Showers, son of the late Samuel Showers, and himself a compositor of the INTELLIGENCER office died at the residence of Wm. A. North, South Queen street, whose guests he had been for a long time.

He entered this office at the establishment of the daily edition in 1864, as an apprentice, and having completed his trade remained here at the case until December, 1879, when falling heavily ill he was obliged to leave the office, and since then with varying physical strength he has steadily declined with the ravages of that fell destroyer, consumption.

As a compositor Mr. Showers was quick accurate and faithful, steady and reliable, having the entire confidence of his employers and the highest regard and affection of his fellow workmen. In the domestic and social circles he was of a most genial and courteous disposition and moved through life without exciting any of its antagonisms; and of him, with respect to his character, it may be said, "none knew him but to love him, none named him but to praise."

He was a member of St. James P. E. church, of the Lambert lodge, No. 476, of Masons, of Can-as-a-to-go tribe of Indians, and of the Cosmopolita beneficial society.

A Stranger who Thinks he was Robbed. Last evening a man who says that he is from Brownsville, Fayette county, claims that he was robbed of $65 in the neighborhood of the new market house. He was dressed in a blue coat, and to-day and refuses to give his name.
