INDIA LINENS.

CLOIBING, UNDERWEAR, &C. IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT.

To-day we open a full line of Spring and Summer Goods for Men's Wear, which has never been eclipsed in this city or any house in the country for quality, style and high toned character. We claim superiority over anything we handled before during our experience of quarter of a century-in business, and our reputation is established for keeping the finest goods in our line. Our opening to-day is an invoice of Novelties captured from the wreck of a large Boston house, whose failure has precipitated these goods on the market too late in the season and consequently at a sacrifice, so they are within reach of all desiring a first-class article at a moderate price. The consignment includes a full line of the celbrated Talamon's French Novelties, the handsomest and finest goods imported to this country, a new feature-in Silk Warp ; Talamon's Tricot a-Long, Serpentine Tricots, Cork Screw Diagonals and Granite Weave. A full line of Taylor's English Tronserings of beautiful effects. Also a fine line of Choice American Suitings as low as $20 a Suit. All the Latest Novelties in Spring Overcoatings at moderate prices.
All are cordially invited to examine our stock and be convinced that we are making ne idle boast, but can substantiate all we say and respectfully urge person to place their order at once before the choicest styles are sold, for they cannot be dupli-cated this season. For further particulars

J. K. SMALING

THE ARTIST TAILOR.

121 N. QUEEN STREET,

Several Fine Coat Makers wanted,

DA VELAT COUNT ME HVAE

196 TRUNKS

TRAVELING BAGS

To select from. And here is more than a load of all kinds and a variety of

RUBBER CLOTHING

We keep for men is everyting they need, and at such prices as to GIVE EN-TIRE SATISFACTION.

We are receiving some of the latest

HATS FOR FALL,

And it you are tired of your straw hat we can show you some new and nobby

WILLIAMSON & FOSTER'S

ONE-PRICE HOUSE,

36-38 EAST KING STREET,

LANCASTER, PA. SPRING OPENING

H. GERHART'S

New Tailoring Establishment,

No. 6 East King Street.

I have just completed fitting up one of the Finest Tailoring Establishments to be found in this state, and am now prepared to show my customers a stock of goods for the SPRING TRADE.

which for quality, style and variety of Patterns has never been equaled in this city. I will keep and sell no goods which I cannot recommend to my customers, no matter how low in price. All goods warranted as represented, and prices as low as the lowest, at

No. 6 East King Street,

Next Door to the New York Store.

H. GERHART.

NEW STOCK OF CLOTHING

SPRING 1881.

D. B. Hostetter & Son's, No. 24 CENTRE SQUARE.

Having made unusual efforts to bring before he public a fine, stylish and well made stock of

READY-MADE CLOTHING,

most carefully selected stocks of Clothing in this city, at the Lowest Cash Prices.

MEN'S, BOYS' AND YOUTHS'

CLOTHING!

IN GREAT VARIETY.

Piece Goods of the Most Stylish Designs and at prices within the reach of all.

D. B. Hostetter & Son, 24 CENTRE SQUARE.

6-1yd

LANCASTER, PA.

DRY GOODS

TORN WANAMAKER'S STORE.

TOHN WANAMAKER'S STORE.

Dressmakers find advantage in buying satins, linings, trimmings and all the paraphernalia of their art where they find everything they use, great variety of everything, and liberal dealing as well.

All wool black buntings that began the season at 25 cents, end it at 12} cents; at 50, now 31; at $1, now 68 cents.

The gay little shawls of silk barege, chenille and tinsel are very acceptable for evenings out of town. Further marking down to-day in zephyr shawls of which we have a very great quantity.

Summer silk dresses, such as have been well received at $18, are now $15. Ladies' cloth, flannel, gingham and figured lawn dresses reduced about a third. White wrappers at from one-quarter to three-quarters recent prices; gingham and percale wrappers at one-quarter.

Quite a collection of boys' short trouser suits for $2; sailor and others; none of them made for any such price. Shirt waists at 40, such as bring 75. seersucker and polka-dot chintz ; fast colors. Men's seersucker vests 25 cents, trousers 50, coats 50; $1.25 for the suit.

White vests, soiled, 50 cents. Dusters $1. Stout trousers $1.50. Fancy worsted suits $15; lately $20. Woolen vests 25 cents, trousers $1, coats $2.50. All on bargain tables; and a great many more.

Made to measure; blue serge, $18; blue flannel, $15; Scotch Banuock-

MARKET STREET, MIDDLE ENTRANCE.

JOHN WANAMAKER,

Chestnut, Thirteenth and Market Streets, and City Hall Square,

PHILADELPHIA.

QIVLER, BOWERS & HURST!

QIVLER, BOWERS & HURST!

---IN OUR---

TAILORING DEPARTMENT

We are offering Bargains in SUMMER SUITINGS of all kinds to close out all Summer Goods.

GENTS' FURNISHING GOODS

We are offering very low to close the Stock of SUMMER WEAR. It mosquitos trouble you

MOSQUITO CANOPIES.

WE HAVE THEM IN PINK AND WHITE. NO EXTRA CHARGE FOR PUTTING UP.

GIVLER, BOWERS & HURST'S

Dry Goods and Carpet House.

25 EAST KING STREET,

LANCASTER, PA.

IRON RITTERS.

TRON BITTERS.

TRON BITTERS.

IRON BITTERS!

A TRUE TONIC.

SURE APPETISER.

IRON BITTERS are highly recommended for all diseases requiring a certain and efficient tonic; especially INDIGESTION, DYSPEPSIA, INTERMITTENT FEVERS, WANT OF APPE-TITE, LOSS OF STRENGTH, LACK OF ENERGY, &c.

It enriches the blood, strengthens the muscles, and gives new life to the nerves. It acts like a charm on the digestive organs, removing all dyspeptic symptoms, such as Tasting the Food, Belching, Heat in the Stomach, Heartburn, etc. The only Iron Preparation that will not blacken the teeth or give headache. Sold by all druggists. Write for the A B C Book, 32 pp. of useful and amusing reading—sent free.

BROWN CHEMICAL COMPANY, BALTIMORE, MD.

123-1yd&w] For Sale at COCHRAN'S DRUG STORE, 137 and 139 North Queen street, Lancaster.

PLUMBER'S SUPPLIES,

TOUN L. ARNOLD.

JOHN L. ARNOLD.

PLUMBERS' SUPPLY HOUSE.

—A FULL LINE OF— BATH TUBS, GUM TUBING, STEAM COCKS, BATH BOILERS, LEAD TRAPS. CHECK VALVES. WATER CLOSETS, IRON HYDRANTS, HYDRANT COCKS, GAS COCKS, IRON PAVE WASHES, CURB STOPS, GAS FIXTURES, WASH STANDS, GAS GLOBES, GLOVE VALVES, ROOFING SLATE, WROUGHT IRON PIPE, CENTRE PIECES, TIN PLATE, IRON FITTINGS, FRENCH RANGES FOR HOTELS AND RESTAURANTS.

JOHN L. ARNOLD,

Nos. 11. 13 & 15 EAST ORANGE STREET, LANCASTER, PA.

LIVERY STABLE

PHRST-CLASS LIVERY STABLE. LIEST-CLASS LIVERY STABLE.

HOUGHTON'S FIRST-CLASS LIVERY STABLE!

Five First-Class New Omnibuses to Hire at Low Rates, for Private, Public & Sunday School Picnics.

First-Class Driving Horses, Buggies and Phaetons to Hire, at No. 221 NORTH QUEEN STREET, FORMERLY ZECHER BRO.S' OLD LIVERY STAND.

Lancaster Intelligencer would be delighted Mr. Weed. whom he

MONDAY EVENING, AUGUST 8, 1891.

A WILD GIRL OF SUMATRA.

SHOWING AN ORANG-OUTANG AS THE

WONDER OF THE EARTH.

The Veterau Showman Graves Talks of the Dearest Friend of His Professional Days—How Thurlow Weeu Secame Interested in Her—Barnum's "What Is It." "Now you're talking sense," said A. J. Graves, or "Old Graves," as he is known to showmen in this country and in Europe, when a Times reporter yesterday suggested that the orang-outang was a wonderful ination of the animal, explaining with all animal. "Wonderful," resumed the aged but yet sprightly showman, "Is no term omist that it was one of the wonders of the earth "Marvelous!" said Mr. Weed. far-reaching enough to expresss the sagaeity and learing of that, I may say, fellow creature. You will pardon my show of affection for them as a class, because my with a spoon from a dish; 'marvelous! recollections of them are all pleasant and of the most endearing kind. They are more faithful, confiding and honest than men or women, and besides have helped me out of many a scrape when I wanted money badly. I quit the show business two years ago, and retired to a quiet life, merely floating through life, as it were, with my corn and bunion wafers, but I am half evidently written by Mr. Weed himself, inclined at times to go into business again with an orang-outang and make some money. I am now 71 years of age—a pretty "old boy," perhaps—but I am full of life and fun. Years ago Hayworth who was a partner of mine, and myself had a show where the Howard house, in Chatham street, now stands and where I now have rooms We were showing snakes and had a fine orang-outang. Al-though I have handled hundreds of snakes I don't fancy talking about them, but the orang outang always has a place in my mind. I talked about the 'missing link' long before Darwin ever thought of it, and have an idea that I can explain in my common, homely manner more about what | upon a footing with the aristocracy. is now called Darwinism than the author orang-outang," continued Mr. Graves, "and neat litting shoes and fancy stockhimself. I used to deliver a lecture when I exhibited an orang-outang, and I always challenged the physicians and professors of anatomy to prove to me that I was wrong when I claimed that the orangoutang was the 'missing link.' I am, and have always been, open to conviction, but I have failed to find any man who could off something for the cause of education, successfully dispute the point with me. I would claim that the formation of an orang-outang was exactly similar to the human form divine, with the exception, of course, of the caudal appendage. I have made the orang outang stand forth in the school was not a rich one. I attired many cities and towns as the greatest the little girl in her best clothes, and en-circus in 1852. The stalwart showman of to-day replied that he had no doubt that Graves could do what he said. "Well, as I was saying," began the vet-eran again, "Hayworth and I were in the show business in Chatham street, and when we sold our snakes I felt that we ought not to part with that orang-outang. That little girl—I mean the young orang-outang—had found a place in my heart. Hayworth was taken sick and our funds were getting very low. I was down-hearted myself, and Hayworth and I talked over our future prospects while he lay in bed deathly sick. I suggested that I should go to Albany and discover a place, if possible, where we might show the little girl. Hayworth told me to go ahead. When I reached Albany it was terribly cold, the snow being three feet deep. I began to skate around that wonderful city, climbing up that never-to-be-forgotten hill and sliding down on my back, in search of a place. I saw a man standing in front of a picture gallery rubbing his ears. I asked him whether business was good. He said that it was very bad. I told him I would like to have the use of his gallery in which to exhibit the 'wild girl of Sumatra' for a few days. He opened his eyes in astonishment and his

What do you say to that, Bunnell?"

the coach with Millie-that erowd begged him to permit them to look into my bedroom and see for themselves.

True to a showman's instincts, he trifled with their feelings by saying that it was impossible, that the girl never liked to be disturbed in her dreams, and that I was a regular raging wild cat if my rest was broken. At length, after they had each offered him $5 to witness the orang-outang sleeping in the same bed with me, he took the money, and they noiselessly crept up to my room. When the door was opened they saw the 'wild girl of Sumatra' and myself in bed. She, with her black head resting on the white pillow close to the wall, and I, half awake on the outside, was a scene that caused them to break forth into uncontrollable laughter. Their sides course, the girl and myself sat up in bed, and rubbing our eyes looked at them. Poor saw her mad but once. I used to watch her all the time, but one day Hayworth's wife said to me, 'Graves, why don't you go down to the dining room and get a good dinner?' She promised to look after Millie, and I started down the staircase. I had not gone far, however, when I heard the room, I saw Hayworth's wife standing in the centre of it with a small whip in whom was George B. Bunnell, of the museum, and his agent, George O. Starr, nodded their heads in approval. "Barnum was great on his 'What Is Its,'"

said the veteran, who stroked his white beard and showed his bared breast (his hair began to bristle up in alarm. He showed me his gallery, and said that he would be compelled to take the carpets and pictures out, and that would call for considerable work. told him that was just what I didn't want him to do. 'Leave the earpets and pictures where they are,' I said, and what will you charge a day for the use of the gallery?' 'Twenty-five dollars,' answered the man, no doubt expecting me to fall in a fainting fit. 'I'll take it,' I said quickly. I had only a dollar in my pocket. In fact, that was all the money I had in the world. I returned to New York to get the little girl. When I told Hayworth what I had done he threw up his hands and cried, 'You've ruined me; you've ruined me!' I replied in the negative as calmly as I could under the gircum. had her neatly and becomingly attired. She wore shoes and stockings, pantalettes, white skirt and silk dress, and had a hood and cloak which she put on when going into the street to ride in a coach. When I had placed her safely in the picture gallery I looked after my signs and advertisements. I put an advertisement in the Albany Knickerbocker calling attention to the fact that the most wonderful curiosity in the known way to Albany. I make a ghost. The little girl had picked lost property. Of its former rank, position and wealth, nothing remains save the distinguished "von" in the name, that, like the French prefix "de," is a certain indication of noble birth.

Then to avoid the whip she had climbed up the bed-post. In a few minutes I had left the orang outang, and she was rubbing her ink-spattered head over my white vest.

"I treed other as a ghost. The lost property. Of its former rank, position and wealth, nothing remains save the distinguished "von" in the name, that, like the French prefix "de," is a certain indication of noble birth.

Mrs. W. J. Lang, Bethany, Ont., states that for fitteen months she was troubled with a distant of the ear, causing antical and the property. Of its former rank, position and wealth, nothing remains save the distinguished "von" in the name, that, like the French prefix "de," is a certain indication of noble birth.

Mrs. W. J. Lang, Bethany, Ont., states that for fitteen months she was troubled with a distant of the ear, causing antical and the lost property. Of its former rank, position and wealth, nothing remains save the distinguished "von" in the name, that, like the French prefix "de," is a certain indication of noble birth.

"I treed other as a ghost." The little girl had picked the same property. Of its former rank, position and wealth, nothing remains save the distinguished "von" in the name, that, like the French prefix "de," is a certain indication of noble birth.

"I treed other as a ghost." The little girl had picked to a same property. Of its former rank, positio tive as calmly as I could under the circum. the known world, the 'wild girl of Sumatra,' had arrived in Albany, and would hold levees at the picture gallery, which was in Main street, I think. I also put an advertisement in the Albany Evening Journal, of which Mr. Thurlow Weed was then the editor. I tried to get a notice in that paper, but the city editor wouldn't oblige me, saying that my wild girl of Sumatra' was some orang-ontang or other shirt never being buttoned at the top and fraud. I tried to assure him that the 'wild girl' was the pure, unadulterated 'missing link,' but he said he had no time always without a collar), "but how did he get them?" He had a man in his museum whose feet were where his knees ought to be, and he performed in plays where an ape was the leading character. Barnum conceived the idea of having him to listen to lectures upon rats and monkeys. On the first day of the show I took in $40, and felt satisfied that I would be fixed up so as to represent an animal as uccessful in my venture. much like a man as possible without being one, covered with coarse hair, and to "On the day following I called at the office of the Econing Journal and requested ing one, covered with coarse hair, and to the honor of an interview with Mr. Thurlow Weed. I was rather dubiously received, but as I did not threaten to deliver a lecture I found favor in the famous journalist's eyes. I said, 'Mr. Weed, we think we have the greatest curiosity in the 'What is it.' The little actor. we have the greatest curiosity in the world. I would like you to see "the wild girl of Sumatra." Then I told him that rebelled, because he was of a religious a well known professor of anatomy of this turn of mind. Finally Barnum persuaded state, who lived in Albany, would be at him and the little actor appeared in a cage whose bars were of extraordinary thick ness. All went well until some old showthe picture gallery at 2 o'clock that afternoon, and he would no doubt be pleased to explain the wonderful animal to him.

When Mr. Weed heard the name of the recognizing the actor, threatened to expanse of the professor, who was his friend, pose the frauds. Then the 'What is it,' men came into the museum one day, and, mentioned, he said that he would certain in steriously disappeared. Other What is ly attend. I offered to send a carriage for its' were tried by Barnum, but they him, but he declined the use of one, saying that he would walk to the picture gallery and gave the whole thing away to a lot of and would be on time. I made tracks as merry men in a saloon. Give me an orangfast as possible to that professor's house, outang and I'll fill any house in the city and told him that Mr. Weed intended to visit 'the wild girl of Sumatra,' and that 'missing link' in the way I will explain it would be a great honor to have him ex- it."

amine the animal in Mr. Weed's presence.

I offered to send a carriage for him but he said it would not be required. He

Mr. Graves has had much to do with all kinds of animals, but his preference is for the orang-outang. In 1842 he was with meet Ogden, Weeks & Co.'s great show, and drove the first team of elephants ever Mr. Weed, whom he much admired. He lived in the Delavan house, and said that he was so close at hand that he would be in attendance at the time fixed. He was in the picture gallery, however, ahead of time, and was in raptures over the little girl. He was thus ab-sorbed when Mr. Weed entered. The distinguished journalist merely glanced at the orang-outang, and, with a smile of derision, turned away and looked at a picture. He puffed his eigar in an angry way, and I began to edge toward the room in the rear. Suddenly I heard the professor say, 'Why, Mr. Weed, I'm delighted fo see you.' Then I saw the professor point to the orang-outang, and heard him gush forth with 'That is the most wonderful creature I ever saw. Charming, wonderful, my word for it, Mr. Weed.' The professor then went into a minute examination of the animal, explaining with all the earth. 'Marvelous!' said Mr. Weed, as the little girl took a seat at a small table and began to eat cold rice pudding and he surveyed her with such astonishment that I was almost paralyzed. Both Mr. Weed and the professor shook me friends, was drank by the company. warmly by the hand, and they patted the little girl from Sumatra on the head and took their departure. The next day al-A SAD HISTORY. most a column appeared in the Evening and the popularity of the 'wild girl of Sumatra' arose in public estimation about 500 per cent. For a week I took in over $300 a day. I had made arrangements to go to Syracuse, and the fame of my 'wonderful curiosity' had preceded me. The hall which I had engaged was crowded in the afternoons and evenings, and my receipts rose to about $500 a day. I always believed in Barnum's way of doing things, and when I went to a city or town I took rooms at the best hotel, had was the finest coach I could secure, and had an advertising wagon that was gorgeous. I invited the most learned men in the place to see the wild girl and at once put myself "I had 12 different costly dresses for the ings. The principal of the high school of Syracuse came to me and said that his pupils were very auxious to see the 'wild girl of Sumatra' in the school house. I was asked what I would charge to exhibit her there, and, feeling that I should knock said that I would show her for $100. The principal said that the fee was a little too high and offered me $75. That sum I accuriosity of the age, and I can do it again. tering a coach was driven to the school house. The street was crowded with peoasked the veteran showman, who first met ple when I arrived there. When I got out gun by oppression, and finished by pover girl's name—on my arm I had as much as feeble battle for right against usurping I could do to force my way through the might. Little of the story of her husband's crowd. Millie wore her cloak and hood and looked as wise as a Sunday school aware that the lack of means prevented teacher. She sat at a little table on the platform, and was as calm and interesting as she could be. The audience was de-lighted. Wherever I went with her the receipts were large, and Hayworth and myself coined money. In one city a crowd got around my partner in the hotel late at night, and were talking about the 'wild girl of Sumatra.' Hayworth told them prey of designing relatives, into whose hands the property passed. Her son was compelled to earn his living by daily labor, and never found the means to assert his claim. He did not give it up, however, and it was with the hope that their only son might cross the Atlantic and rise out of the slough of poverty to assert his rights that he was sent from home when yet a boy to fight his own bat-tles in the world. The old folks waited patiently in their German home-the father working as a common laborer every day in the castle which he called his own by right, and their hearts were cheered by occasional small remittances of money which Henry was able to save, but he made no headway and often spoke bitterly to his wife of the hardships of a poverty that prevented him claiming his own and be forever put beyond want. Communication with persons in the old country who were cognishook until the house trembled, and, of zant of the facts convinced him of the justice of his cause and determined him to return to the old country as soon as he had saved the necessary means to prosecute his claims. Rething! she died on my hands after two years, and was accorded a decent burial. I shall never forget the kind manner in which she always treated me. I never the limit of the hand saved the necessary means to prosecute his claims. Research the hand saved the necessary means to prosecute his claims. Research she always treated me. I never the hand saved the necessary means to prosecute his claims. Research she always treated me. I never the hand saved the necessary means to prosecute his claims. Research she had saved the necessary means to prosecute his claims. Research she had saved the necessary means to prosecute his claims. Research she had saved the necessary means to prosecute his claims. Research she had saved the necessary means to prosecute his claims. Research she had saved the necessary means to prosecute his claims. Research she had saved the necessary means to prosecute his claims. Research she had saved the necessary means to prosecute his claims. Research she had saved the necessary means to prosecute his claims. Research she had saved the necessary means to prosecute his claims. The had saved the necessary means to prosecute his claims. Hulda's courage sank lower than ever. llis wife was found yesterday dissolved in tears. She was unable to say whether her husband had any papers to prove his right to the estate he claimed and could not even remember its name. She believed that it was Edelnof, but could not tell for a great racket. Hurrying up stairs into certain. The uncle's residence in this country is not known, and with the death of Henry von Hulda vanishes the last money, and could do it again if I had one. Or if I had the skeleton of one I could do Nearly a Miracle. E. Asenith Hall, Binghamton, N. Y., writes: "I suffered for several months with adult pain through left lung and shoulders. I lost my spirits, appetite and color, and could with difficulty keep up all day. My mother procured some Burdock Blood Bitters: I took them as directed, and have felt no pain since first week after using them, and am now quite well. * Price $1. For sale at H. B. Cochran's drug store, 1-7 North Queen street, Lancaster.

Time over and again Thomas' Eelectric Oll has proved a salutary friend to the distressed. As a reliable curative for croup in children, sore throat and bronchial affections, and as a positive external remedy for skin, it is a never falling antidote. For sale at H. B. Cochran's drug store, 137 North Queen street, Lancaster.

CHINA AND GLASSWARE.

COM. TUMBLERS COM. TUMBLERS.

MASON FRUIT JARS.

seen in this country. There were four large elephants, two abreast, Hannibal and Siam and Columbus and Virginius. They drew a big wagon in which was a "Dutch band," as Mr. Graves spoke of those festive people with brass horns and drums. Herr Dresbach, the famous lion tamer, led the procession. The show made "barrels of money," Mr. Graves said, and one of the proprietors, Harrison Hopkins, retired in one season and lived ever after that on the profits of that season. Mr. Graves believes that nearly all animals have reasoning powers, but thinks that snakes are devoid of such powers. He is sure that they cannot hear, as he has frequently tried to stir them up by making a great noise, and they would not budge. Their eyes are immovable. He was satisfied that a great many snakes die because their owners do not know how to handle them. He learned how to treat snakes from Mr. Barrett, of the Zoological Garden, Surrey. The handlers should frequently try snakes with food, as it was hard to tell when they wanted to eat, and they should have plenty of water. An-other bottle was called for, and the memory of Millie, the orang outang, who had been one of "Old Graves's" truest wickle of a tierman Nobleman in a New York Tenement Mouse, most singular suicide has brought to the attention of the New York coroner. The history of the tragic event has all the elements of an interesting romance. Henry C. von Hulda, aged 31, a German of noble lineage though of modest position, hung himself at midnight Thursday night on the roof of No. 115 Delancey street, a tenement, on the top floor of which he occupied rooms with his wife. The manner of his death as the story of his life was unusual. He found kneeling on the roof with his neck in a noose of whip-cord, the other end of which was fastened to the clothes line overhead. He had strangled himself by resting with the entire weight of his body on the cord. He had been cheerful during the evening, and his wife believed that he slept on the floor. When the true state of affairs was discovered he had been dead an hour. Von Hulda made his living as a meat carver in a restaurant He had come from Germany when a mere boy, and had always in this country battled against povery and misfortune. With the exception of an old, unmarried uncle, who, like himself, was an exile in this country, and his aged father and mother, who live in great poverty in the old German home, he was the last member of an ancient noble family that once possessed ample wealth and property in the Grand Duchy of Hesse-Darmstadt, Germany. Its ruin was bety that weighed upon it like a curse in its family is known to his widow, who was him from asserting his right as heir to the family estate, a fact which he bitterly de-plored and which probably played its part in the desperation which drove him to suicide. The family estates were already lost in the time of his grandmother, who left a defenseless widow, became an easy

the fifteen months she was troubled with a dis-case of the ear, causing entire deafness. In ten minutes after using Thomas' Eclectric Oil, she found relief, and in a short time she was en-tirely cured and her hearing restored. For sale at H. B. Cochran's drug store, 137 North Queen street, Lancaster. well." The old man's hearers, among

Because you have allowed your bowels to secome costive, and liver torpid. Use Kidneywort to produce a free state of the bowels, and it will stimulate the liver to proper action, cleanse the skin of its yellowness, care billous headache, and cause new life in the blood. Druggists have it, both dry and liquid.—Zion's Herald.

JELLY TUMBLERS. JELLY TUMBLERS.

1,2:0 ODD CUPS.

HIGH & MARTIN'S. 15 EAST KING STREET.

DRY GOODS. SKASONABLE GOODS. DRESS GINGHAMS, VICTORIA LAWNS,

NEW YORK STORE

Are showing a great variety of

Fancy Dress Ginghams at..... Elegant Styles, Best Quality......15 Real Scotch Zephyr Ginghams only. 25c One Case Printed Lawns...... 7e

Novel Designs, Best Quality...... 121/e " CLOSING SALE OF Summer Dress Goods.

Cream Lace Bantings......10c a yard Half Wool Lace Buntings...... 12%c All Wool Plain and Lace Buntings

MOMIE CREPE BUNTINGS, NUN'S VEILINGS, FRENCH FOULE SUITINGS

15c, 17c, 20c, 25c to 50c a yard

At Very Low Prices, at the NEW YORK STORE

8 & 10 EAST MING STREET. TETZGER, BARD & HAUGHMAN.

Notice to the Ladies!

We Have Just Opened

A LARGE LOT OF

Made expressly for our own sales, under our own Trade Mark, and cannot be had elsewhere.

WE GUARANTEE EACH GARMENT —то ви—

WATERPROOF,

AND TO GIVE GENERAL SATISFACTION.

Metzger, Bard & Haughman's NEW CHEAP STORE,

No. 43 WEST KING STREET,

LANCASLER, PA.,

(ADLER'S OLD STAND). Dress goods, &c.

HAGER & BROTHER

llave still a Large Line ot DRESS GOODS,

Black and Colored Silk.

GINGHAMS, LAWNS, CHINTZES AND

HOSIERY AND GLOVES,

All of which will be sold at Very Low Prices to Reduce Stock.

For JULY and AUGUST we have made a

CARPETS,

BODY BRUSSELS, TAPESTRY BRUSSELS, EXTRA SUPER INGRAIN, WORSTED, WOOL AND HALL AND STAIR CARPET WITH BORDERS.

Also a line of Carpets at 25, 31, 373/2 and 50c.

OIL CLOTHS AND MATTINGS Will be sold on the same low basis, We invite examination.

HAGER & BROTHER. WALL PAPER, &C.

WALL PAPER,

WALL PAPER Our Stock includes all the Choice Spring

EMBOSSED AND PLAIN GILT SATINS, FLATS, BLANKS, CEILING DECO-

RATIONS, FRIEZES, DADOS AND BORDERS. To reduce stock we will make a SPECIAL LOW PRICE.

We invite examination.

BOOTS & BHORN. ADIES AND GENTS, IF YOU WANT A Good and Fine Fitting Boot or Shoe, Ready-made or Made to Order, go to
F. HIEMENZ'S,
No. 105 North Queen Street,
Custom Work a Specialty.

192 tidS&W