OFF TO READING.

A Piente for the Knights of Pythias. Lancaster Division No. 6, U. R. K. of P. will visit Reading to-morrow, parading from their armory to the upper depot leaving Lancaster on the regular train at 8 a. m., and not on the special excursion train from West King street as has been erroneously announced

No. 6 will parade forty-five Sir Knights under their efficient S. K. C. John Barnhart, the veteran soldier and diciplinarian. The Keystone band, of Lancaster, which, though young as an organization has made rapid strides toward the rendition of highclass martial music, and among whose members are to be found a number of Lancaster's finest musicians, will accompany them. They will participate in the various exercises of the public demonstration at Reading on Wednesday afternoon and evening, and returning arrive in Lancaster at 8:30 p. m. on Thursday. Lancaster lodge No. 68 K. of P. have accepted the invitation of the Knights of Pythias, of Reading, requesting them to confer the Knights Rank in the Amplified

This beautiful work will be a novel and deeply interesting feature to the greater number of the visiting and resident Knights at Reading, as but tour lodges of the four hundred and fifty in this grand jurisdiction confer the Knights rank in this form, our local lodge, No. 68 being one of them. On similar occasions in their past history flattering compliments have been paid to old Lancaster lodge, for the masterly manner in which it has conducted the work of this degree, and the present expectation of its members is to eclipse past records at Reading for the honor of the old lodge, and the city whence she hails. Onite a number of Knights from this city went over to Reading to-day, and the attendance at the convocation there is ex pected to be very large.

Finished. This afternoon the pavers finished the laying of the Belgian block pavement on North Queen street and Chestnut. The job appears to be a good one and gives great satisfaction to the property owners along the line, many of whom are actively engaged in relaying their pavements and adjusting them to the new line of curb fixed by the city surveyor. Charles A. and rebuild his awning to accord with the increased width of the sidewalk. Coroner's Inquest. Last evening, Coroner Mishler and a jury of inquest met at the late residence of Daniel Stauffer, 236 Harrisburg turnpike, to inquire into the circumstances attend ing his death, the particulars of which were published in yesterday's INTELLI-GENCER. After viewing the body the jury returned to the hotel of Capt. J. A. Schuh, where they heard the witnesses, and made up their verdict-which was that Mr-Stauffer had come to his death by being kicked by a horse, under circumstances stated yesterday.

The Union's Birthday.

On Sunday the Union fire company was 121 years of age, and last evening the members celebrated the event by serenading the officers of the company. The company headed by the Keystone band marched to the residences of the officer; at each of which the band played several pieces.

After they had finished the members were taken to Eugene Bauer's saloon, on East King street, where they partook of refreshments and eatables and the evening was quite pleasantly spent.

EXECUTIVE MANSION, Washington, Aug. 6, 10:30 a. m-Unofficial.-Private Secretary Brown came from the surgeons' room a few moments ago, and reported that the has yet been injected and there has been no report of nausea since 3 a. m.

No Nausen, But Still Weak. EXECUTIVE MANSION, Aug. 16, 12:30 p. m.-Official Bulletin.-The president has teen tranquil and has not vomited since the morning bulletin, but has not rallied from the prostration of yesterday afternoon as much as was hoped. The enemata administered are, however, still retained. At present his pulse is 114, temperature 98.3, respiration 18. [Signed]

Gloom and Despondency. The members of the cabinet arrived at various times during the early morning. Attorney General MacVeagh accompanied Dr. Agnew, arriving at the mansion about hat while there was yet hope the patient was certainly in a very critical condition. There is a noticeably despondent expression visible on those having access to the president's chamber, and the greatest reticense is observed, especially by the attending surgeons, who do not enter the business portion of the house unless it is absolutely necessary. The despondent expression of Attorney-General MacVeagh was especially noticeable. Shortly after nine o'clock, the cabinet afficers, with the exception of Secretary Lincoln, who arrived at a later hour, having just returned from New York, left the White House for their respective departments.

Watching and Waiting. The day bids fair to be one of anxious waiting. The midday bulletin is looked forward to with interest. The opinion prevails at the mansion among those who are thoroughly conversant with the president's condition, that should the temperature after the noon dressing be below the normal point and the pulse become more frequent, the gravity of the situation will be increased. If,on the other hand, the temperature should remain normal on decrease a little, and the pulse still keep up, the situation will not be considered as materially changed. A stationary temperature and an improved pulse would be the most favorable indication which could be had at the present time. Nothing directly from the sick room has been received since the facts above stated. There are now but few visitors at the house. But the windows throughout the city in which the official bulletins are displayed indicate that there is a general feeling of alarm throughout the entire city. As usual, pending an anticipated crisis, there are many rumors on the street such as "the pulse is rapidly increasing;" "it is known that the president cannot recover," &c., &c. While such stories may prove to be correct, there is no foundation for them beyond what has been stated. Dr. Bliss Don't Give it Up. EXECUTIVE MANSION. WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—12:15 p. m.—Unofficial—Dr. Bliss entered the executive mansion a few minutes ago to attend the noon examination. Upon being being approached by an associated press agent he said in a general way that he considered the patient better than yesterday, whereupon the following dialogue ensued :

Reporter-" Well, doctor, what are the real chances?" Bliss-"The chances are indefinite. have not seen the patient for an hour or so, but he was better than yesterday when last saw him, and of course we take encouragement from that." Reporter-"The midday examination will be very important ?" Bliss-"Oh, yes; for instance, if the temperature should fall much below the normal point, the case would look quite badly, particularly so if the pulse should the president, retired at four o'clock this morning, and did not leave the mansion for her home until noon. Previous to her departure she said, in reply to the interrogatories of a newspaper correspondent, that the president's case at this time was certainly very critical, but that she still had hopes of his recovery. The trouble with the president's stomach, she said, evidently had nothing to do with the condition of the wound. Comparatively considered, she remarked in this connection, the wound is nearly healed. This new trouble, she said, is perfectly understood by the surgeons, and they all have the same idea about it. She said further, that the president comprehends the exact situation; that he has been told his stomach demanded absolute rest and that EXECUTIVE MANSION, August 16 .- 8:30 no attempt will be made for the present to give him nourishment row the patient's stomach would be strong enough to retain something. Dr. Hamilton Expected. EXECUTIVE MANSION, Aug. 16, 1:10 P. M.—Unofficial Bulletin.—Dr. Hamilton is expected to arrive in Washington about 10 o'clock to-night.

Dr. Reyburn Interviewed. EXECUTIVE MANSION, Aug. 16, 1:15 P. M.-Unofficial Bulletin.-Dr. Reyburn, as he was leaving the White House, was asked if he considered the 12:30 bulletin as indicating cause for alarm. He replied: "There is no perceptible change president was then sleeping. No morphia in the president's condition since this morning."

A Downward Tendency in Stocks. New York, Aug. 16, 11 a. m.-The alarming news contained in the Washington dispatches' regarding the president's condition cast a gloom over Wall street which was reflected in the heavy tone of the stock market. The speculation opened weak, and under a very pronounced pressure to sell the entire list recorded a sharp decline averaging from } to 31 points. Keeping up Heart. EXECUTIVE MANSION, Aug. 16.-3 p. m. -Unofficial-While the feeling of despondency is very general, there are those and Private Secretary Brown. Mrs. Garfield is said to be as cheerful as the circumstances will allow, and that she also entertains a strong belief that her husband will recover. Dr. Agnew is quoted as having said this afternoon, that the patient was no weaker than he was yesterday, and that there was a very reasonabl chance of his rallying.

This statement, however, was not ob tained in a direct manner. Whatever may be said, there is no denying that the case is extremely critical at the present moment and unless a favorable change occurs within a short time may prove fatal. Dr. Bliss, at a few minutes before three oclock this afternoon, said that he felt confident the wound was doing as well as it possibly could, and that the only thing to be overcome now is the irritability of the patient's stomach which we are doing our best to master. At the conclusion of this sentence the doctor said, "That is all I have to say."

No Good News. 2:45 P. M.-Assistant Secretary of State Hitt, who just came from the private part of the house, was asked if he had any favorable news to communicate, in response to which he said: "I am very sorry that I have not."
