Wills Probated

The will of John S. Gable has been entered for probate at the register's office. It varies slightly from the report made regarding it a few days ago. The testator desires that his sister-in-law, Eliza Pinkerton shall have a home in his family as long as she lives; and if she chooses to withdraw, directs his executors to pay her annually the interest of $3,000. To his will preach in the Presbyterian church on wife he bequeaths absolutely one-third of his estate. The balance of his estate he divides into seven equal shares, which he leaves in trust for his seven children, who ing last evening, at the residence of Mrs. are to be paid the interest arising from the same annually. Edwin Sheaffer is ap-Locust. pointed trustee for Thomas and Sample

Gable, who are to be paid $250 per year during the five years within which the executors are to settle up the estate. Mrs. Gable is appointed trustee for Mrs. Fendrich (Mr. Gable's daughter), from whose portion is deducted the amount of the judgment recovered by Mr. Gable against Mr. Fendrich. Mrs. Gable is also appointed trustee for her own two daughters. Miss Elmira Gable is appointed trustee for Miss Rose Gable, and Rose is appointed trustee for Elmira. Should any of the heirs die without issue their portion reverts to the estate. If they leave issue their portion descends to them. The executors are given discretionery power to sell such portions of the estate as they may think advisable.

Elizabeth Shirk, widow of Jacob Shirk, who died on Friday last, in her will bequeaths to the Children's Home $100 : to the Eunday-school of the First M. E. church, Lancaster, $100; to the Doreas society of the First M. E. church $100. The balance of the estate to her heirs.

TO ATLANTIC CITY.

The Excarsion of Yesterday.

Those of the excursionists who returned home last evening speak praise of its successful management and the pleasure they enjoyed at the seashore. The train, with nearly 550 on board, arrived at Philadelphia on time, at the Market street depot, where a number of cars were in waiting to take them to the ferry, whence they crossed the Delaware in a steamer and were soon crossing New Jersey, and arrived at Atlantic City but little behind time They passed the day in the usual way, but a great many did not take the expected "dip" on account of the cool-Columbia on the 5:30 train last evening. ness of the water. At 6:20 p. m. the train left on its return trip, the majority going to Philadelphia, there to stay over to-day, but a great many came home last night, the train arriving here at 1 a.m. As a whole it was a success, and Messrs. Clark and Schmid have won new honor as excur sion managers.

Mrs, Gotleib Hess, residing on Middle street near South Queen, was last evening knocked down while crossing South Queen street, by a horse which was being driven up the street at a rapid gait. She escaped without serious injury, although that no bones were broken was not the fault of the driver, who was said to have been racing at the time of the accident.

Revive Your Judgments.

It would be well for those who hold judgments entered upon our county dockets to remember that they cease to be liens on real estate unless revived within five years from their dates. This fact is generally known, but an erroneous impression prevails with many persons that their judgments are kept alive by the payment of interest.

Charm Lost.

Yesterday afternoon while Officer Coyle was attempting to arrest a drunken man at the corner of South Queen and Church street, a gold mounted seal containing a stone, one side of which was white and the other red, with a raised flower upon it was pulled from his watch chain and lost. A woman was seen to pick it up soon afterwards.
