RAILEOAD WRECK

The Trucks Torn From a Coal Car. As the engine "Lititz," engaged in shifting freight trains on the Reading railload branch in this city, was proceed ing northward, about 11 o'clock this forenoon an ugly wreck occurred on the upper side of the bridge on Mulberry street over the Pennsylvania railroad. The engine and all except the rear car had passed safely over the bridge, when a faulty rail splintered and threw the last one, a double coal car, from the track. It bumped over the bridge and knocked with great force against a telegraph pole, a short distance beyond, hurling Brakeman Geo. Kurtz violently off the car and severely injuring his knee cap. The trucks, a little way beyond, were completely torn from the car and badly wrecked; the body of after it, and the engine could not be stopped until it had run fully a square, the down grade there being so decided. Across the Harrisburg turnpike and beyond Bitner's warehouse, where Pennock's coal yard formerly was, an iron hanging from the body of the car caught in a frog and its further progress was stopped. The trucks were soon put to rights by the wreckers and the body of the broken car lifted from the track where it had lodged. The attention of the railroad repairsmen should be at once given to the Mulberry street bridge. Its roadway between the insecure. Playing children or careless pedestrians might fall to death through it. and had this morning's accident happened forty feet this side of where it did the bridge would have been torn up and coal the much-needed rain. cars and brakeman have been hurled to the Pennsylvania track below at awful danger. A number of other rails on the steep grades in that neighborhood are faulty and need immediate attention.

SAFE BLOWN OPEN.

Coal Office Broken into and Robbed. Last night the coal office of Cassel & Clung, in the lower end of Mount Joy berough, was broken into by thieves, who effected an entrance by removing the tran-som above the office door. They then bored a hole into the door of the "burglar proof" safe just below the combination, and charging it with powder, blew off the safe door. All they got for their trouble and risk was about $4 in money and a watch of no great value. The boring and blowing up of the safe were artistically done and it is thought those engaged in the job were professionals.

A correspondent in Mount Joy informs us that this is the third time within two years that this office has been robbed. Last night's thieves first entered grist mill belonging to John A. Snyder, on the Little Chiques just east of the borough limits, by prying open a window. They soon found their way to the office, when they forced open a desk, ransacked it. but took none of the contents Fifty cents in change in a pigeon hole of the desk escaped their notice, as it was left undisturbed. The office lamp the thieves took with them to the coal office about two hundred yards distant and over the way from the Pennsylvania freight time depot. At. 3 o'clock this morning Mrs. John A. Snyder, who lives about one hundred yards from the coal office, heard a and Gilbert, who are away on a business report which she said resembled that of trip. Borough Superintendent B. G. to be the case when the robbery was discovered this morning. The lamp which the thieves had stolen from Mr. Snyder's was found in a tobacco patch across the railway from the office.

THE WATER STREET SEWER NUISANCE

A Horse Falls into the Trench. This morning about 7 o'clock as Simmons & Co.'s ice wagon was being driven along Water street, one of the horses stepped too close to the edge of the deep trench dug for the sewer and stepped over the bank, almost dragging the other horse and the wagon after The trench at this point is some fourteen feet deep and the horse hung for some time suspended in it, being unable to get out, and the harness preventing him from falling to the After remaining in this position for some time the harness was cut and the horse was let fall to the bottom of the trench, and by this means the other horse and wagon were saved from being dragged in also. Fortunately, the horse was not much injured by the fall, and was got out of the trench by cutting away the earth at one end, and forming an inclined plane up which he

There is just complaint, all along the line, at the unnecessary length of time consumed in the construction of this sewer, and the frequent accidents that have taken place during the progress of the work.

PONTIFICAL MASS.

Removal of the Dead from St. Mary's Church A large congregation assembled in St. Mary's church this morning, in attendance upon pontifical mass celebrated upon the occasion of the removal to St. Mary's cemetery of the remains of those who are buried in the churchyard upon ground which will be occupied by the new convent building to be erected upon the site of the old stone church. One body was taken up and reinterred to-day upon the occasion of the ceremonies and others will be promptly removed. A catafalque was erected in the aisle of the church and the altar draped in mourning. Rt. Rev. Bishop J. F. Shanahan was the celebrant of mass; Father McBride, chancellor diocese, assistant priest Dr. McCullough, Rev. J. J. McIlvain, sub deacon, and Rev. J. C. Hickey, master of ceremonies. The absolution was pronounced by the bishop and the clergy repaired to the cemetery, where the final absolution ceremonies were

COURT OF COMMON PLEAS. Before Judge Livingston.

In the suit of Mary Armstead vs. A. K. Witmer and Emlen Franklin, executors of Jasper Yeates Conyngham, the jury rendered a verdict in favor of plaintiff, and assessed the damages at $1,560, the full amount of the claim.

Benjamin Eckman vs. Jacob Eckman and John Eckman, action of trespass. Plaintiff owns a farm in Strasburg township, and defendants, his brothers, an adjoining tract of land. Plaintiff alleges that defendants came on his land and set stones on his side of the farm, thus trespassing on his property.

The defense was that surveyors were engaged and they run the line between established landmarks, and if any trespass was committed, it was in the discharge of their duty. On trial when court adjourned.

Before Judge Patterson. In the suit of Constantine Ruttgers vs. Samuel Diller, a verdict was rendered in favor of the plaintiff for $60. John Martin vs. Henry G. Keemer. This was a suit brought to recover $76.60 for meals furnished by plaintiff to defendant and his workmen, who were engaged in erecting a barn at West Willow, in 1877. The defense was that Keemer did not contract for the board; did not agree to pay for it; but that Michael S. Harnish contracted for the board. The bill was not presented to defendant until 1880, and after it was ascertained that the estate of Michael S. Harnish was insolvent. Jury out when court adjourned.

George A. Smith, executor of Cornelius Dugan, deceased, vs. Levi Sensenig. Plaintiff offered in evidence a note signed by defendant, on March 31, 1870, payable on demand for $200. The defense was that the statute of lim-tation prevented a recovery, it not having been clearly proven on admission by defendant that he owed the money. On rial when court adjourned.

Narrow Escape. Mrs. F. Kinzler, 163 North Queen street, nade a narrow escape from being seriously burnt last evening. While sitting in her husbandts oe store her dress caught fire from a match or eigar that had been carelessly thrown by some one upon the floor. She soon smelled the smoke of the burning goods, but did not know where it come from. Luckily, Mr. David Reese, who was standing on the opposite side of the street saw that Mrs. Kinzler was on fire, and hastening to her rescue, crushed out the flames before she was even aware of her danger.

Thumb Crushed. About five o'clock yesterday afternoon Isaac Emeltz, machinist, residing at No. 132 North Mulberry street, met with a severe accident in No. 5 cotton mill, corner of Duke and Lemon streets. He was at the time engaged in repairing a gearing, and by some means got his right thumb caught among the cogs, which crushed it in a terrible manner. Dr. McCleery dressed the wound, but the thumb is so badly crushed that it is feared it will have to be amputated at the first joint.

COLUMBIA NEWS.

Day before yesterday Allen Guthrie, painter, received a severe cut in the arm. He was handling a large plate of glass which happened to be cracked. It broke while he was carrying it, and one of the pieces fell with its edge diagonally across his arm, cutting a deep gash and severing a large vein, causing a great flow of blood. The wound was dressed by Dr. M. L. Davis. It is not a dangerous one, but it is painful.

Voting Against Removal at Present. EXECUTIVE MANSION, Washington, D.C., Aug. 25, 9:51 A. M. - Official. - The subject of the removal of the president from Wash. ington at the present time was earnestly considered by us last night and again this morning. After mature deliberation the conclusion was arrived at by the majority that it would not now be prudent, although all agree that it will be very desirable at the earliest time at which his condition may warrant it. We are, moreover, unanimously of the opinion that at no time since the injury has the president exhibited any symptoms of malaria. [Signed]

Blaine to Lowell. WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 25 .- The following was sent this afternoon to Lowell Minister, London: "The president's condition shows no marked change. The symptoms of yesterday are repeated today. At this hour, half past one, his fever seems to increase while the parotid swelling has not diminished. He continues to swallow liquid food in sufficient quantity without disturbance of the stomach.

"BLAINE, Secy." [Signed] Dr. Boynton Perceives no Signs of Improvement. EXECUTIVE MANSION-Noon-Dr. Boynon in an interview with a reporter of the associated press at 11:40 this morning, replied to questions as follows:

"How is the president to day in your judgment?" "I do not think he is any better."

"But does he hold his own?" "Well, I cannot point to any particular symptom and say that it is noticeably worse, but the impression which his general condition makes upon me to day is a little less favorable. I don't feel quite as little less favorable. I don't feel quite as steamer, 73@74c; sail yellow 74c; sail mixed, 724@73c. much encouraged as I did yesterday." "What are the features of the case which seem to you most disquieting?" "The condition of his blood and his exreme weakness." "He has not then made any gain in strength since yesterday morning?"

"I cannot see that he has." " Does he not take his food as well as esterday ?" "Yes, quite as well; his stomach seems o maintain it improved condition." 'Then if the stomach performs its functions properly and nourishment continues to be well assimilated will not the condition of the blood change for the better?"? "It will in time. The poison will be eliminated from the blood if the patient's strength and vitality hold out; it is a question of time and endurance." "The wound continues to do well, does it not?" "Yes, I don't think the condition of the wound is so important a consideration now. The president is very weak and is as yet gaining strength very slowly, if at all. The great question is, can he be sustained through this period of prostration If he can, I think he will eventually rally from the depression caused by the septic taint in the blood, and finally recover." Dr. Bliss Interviewed.

EXECUTIVE MANSION, WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—In an interview with a reporter of the associated press a little before two o'clock this afternoon Dr. Bliss said that most entirely disappeared and I shall soon be able to go to work." THE SIXTEENERS.

Forming a Permanent Organization. HARRISBURG, Aug. 25 -At this mornng's session of the Soldiers' Orphans con vention, a number of letters of regret were read, and an organization perfected, called the "Soldiers' Orphans Sixteeners of Pennsylvania." The object set forth is to perpetuate the memories of the ties which were formed by their fathers on the field of battle, and those which were formed by themselves while wards of the state, and to render assistance to each other. Their motto will be: "We defend those things which our fathers fought for."

A DESTRUCTIVE FIRE.

Sweeping Saw Mills and Lumber Pales. WILKESBARRE, Pa., Aug. 25.—A fire broke out at midnight in the immense saw mill of Davis, McMurtrie & Co., at Bridgeport, near White Haven. The flames spread rapidly and the entire structure was nveloped in a short time. The fire then communicated with the vast amount of lumber in the yard and burned flercely until 4 o'clock this morning. Nothing remains of the lumber or the mill. The loss is estimated at $30,000.

"Do you think he has gained any strength since yesterday?" asked the reporter,

"No I cannot see that he has, but I think he is holding his own. He is taking nourishment very nicely to-day, quite as well as yesterday. It was the opinion of his attendants and of Mrs. Garfield that he seemed a little brighter this morning."

"What is the condition of the inflamed gland?"

"It has not changed much in appearance, and is one of the most troublesome features in the case. We got a little more pus from it to-day, but the swelling remains about the same."

"How long before it will probably begin to subside?"

"It may be four or five days. You see the area of the inflammation is perhaps two and a half by three and a half inches, and pus has formed in this area at a number of points. We might puncture the swelled gland almost any where and get quife as much
