of dirt caved in, completely covering the place where the men had just left a short time before. If it would have happened when the men were working either death or serious injury would have resulted. An alarm of fire was raised at 9:15 this morning, caused by the slight burning of the oil and waste house and weight office, at the Shawnee rolling mill. Our fire department responded promptly, but it was not necessary for them to go into service, as the fire was promptly put out by the mill hands It is supposed to have ignited from a spark from the cinder.

Rev. Henry Wheeler, of this place, participated in a special prayer meeting at Ocean Grove, N. J., this morning, to offer prayer for the speedy recovery of President Garfield. About 3,000 persons were present. Over fifty persons offered prayer. It was one of the most impressive services ever held on the grounds, and many persons were affected to tears.

After blasting at the Supplee steam engiae works yesterday afternoon the gas was ignited by fire in dropping the bottom of the blast furnace. It exploded with terrible force and great noise shattering a twelve-inch terra-cotta pipe for the distance of about 100 feet, also bursting a tin blast pipe. The workmen rushed out of the building and one man in his endeavors to reach a place of safety cut his leg. The engineer was so excited that he forgot to shut off the pumps, and found his place overflooded this morning. The damages are about $100.

FISHING AT THE RIVER. A Jolly Party and Good Time at York

Yesterday morning a fishing party consisting of the following gentlemen left this city : George M. Borger, John A. Snyder, Simon W. Raub, Frank R. Howell, Israel Carpenter, Robert Stableford, John A. Keller, Wm. Fisher, J. Gust Zook, John Lamparter, Harry E. Carson and Harry H. Hensel. They drove to York Furnace, on the Susquebanna, arriving there at an early hour. The camp was pitched and all went at once to the river, where they began fishing, boating and shooting frogs. By evening the party had caught twenty-four bass besides a number of cat and sun fish and an immense eel, which was landed on the rocks after a great deal of trouble by Simon W. Raub. The largest fish was hooked by Harry E. Carson of the INTELLIGENCER office. It was a bass and weighed over two pounds, Frank Howell caught the most catfish, and Is. Carpenter shot all of the frogs. grounds and some of them were served up in excellent style by Messrs. Raub and Borger, two fine cooks, and were eaten-for supper. The remainder were brought

The party returned to this city last night about 11 o'clock baving been detained on the road about an hour by the heating of an axle of one of the wagons. They had a good time, that being the only mishap. The eleven dozen of eggs were found to be plenty, and the other grab was not scarce by any means.

A BIG DAY FOR TRENTON.

When the Union Boys Go Over. According to the Trenton, N. J., newspapers that town expects to have a good deal of a time on Sept. 15, when the Union fire company, of this city, goes over to see the Union fire company there, with about 70 men and a band. In the afternoon of the 15th a banquet will be tendered them at the Assembly Rooms, Taylor opera house, to which the members of common council and the presidents of each fire company will be invited. In the evening a torchlight parade will take place, in which the following companies will participate: Union, of Lancaster; Union, of Trenton; Delaware, Washington, Hook and Ladder company, Handin-Hand, Harmony and the Mutual company from Chambersburg, Mr. H. S. Hammill will act as chief marshal with an aid from each company, and as Trenton has not had such a gala for a long time a brilliant celebration is expected. The following day, the 16th, will be devoted to sight-seeing, winding up in the evening with a ball at Washington hall, to which the Hand-in-Hand and the Young America company, of Burlington, will attend as guests of the Union boys. At midnight a collation will be tendered to both Union companies. On the following day, Saturday, the visiting firemen will be taken to the asylum, prison potteries, &c., and will return home in the after-

A Doomed Cow.

EXECUTIVE MANSION, Washington, D C., Aug. 26, 10 A. M.-Unofficial.-But very little information was obtained direct from the physicians, concerning the condition of the president this morning, prior to the issuance of the morning bulletin. The absence of all reference in the bulletin to the general condition of the president, and to the parotid swelling, was at once noticed and commented upon by those waiting for it. The situation is considered by many as less hopeful than it was last night at midnight, and by others as more so. Attorney General MacVeagh pronounced it extremely critical, and when asked this morning how long he thought this suspense would continue replied, "God only knows." Postmaster General James and Secretary Hunt telegraphed to Thurlow Weed that "A gleam of hope at 10 a. m. comes from the surgeons. His symptoms no worse and improvement not impossible."

Dr. Bliss Keeps a Stiff Upper Lip.—The Gland Discharging Through the Ear. Doctor Bliss came out of the surgeons' room about 9:30 this morning and telegraphed to his wife that the president was a little better than last A Ton of Powder Demolishing Several Esight. In reply to an interrogatory, he said that the president's pulse this mornwas discharging through that orifice, the patient's mind was clear and he conversed rationally with the surgeons about partook of food which seemed to be grateful to him, and his general condition appeared to be a little improved. The doctor expressed himself as hopeful that the swollen gland would be relieved by the discharge through the ear, and that he would pull through the day without much

"No Reason for Less Hope." 11:30 A. M.-Dr. Woodward, upon being asked at 11 o'clock, whether there is any reason to-day for increased hope, replied 'There is certainly no reason for less hope; the pus is being drained quite freely from the inflamed gland through the will take the pus from the gland." Kirkwood Despondent. WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 26.-Secre tary Kirkwood came out of the cabinet room a few moments ago and said, "Until last night I never thought the president would die, but the information which we received from the surgeons late in the evening was of such a nature to leave very little room for hope."

Bliss Still Hopeful. Dr. Bliss says there is a slight change for the better this morning as compared with the president's condition last night.

Pulse High and Condition Critical. EXECUTIVE MANSION, Washington, D.C., Aug. 26, 12:30 A. M .- Official .- At the morning dressing of the president it was observed that pus from the parotid swelling had found its way spontaneously into his right external auditory meatus, through which it was discharging. Some pus was also discharging through the incision made into the swelling. His wound looks as well as it has done for some time past. His pulse and temperature are at present higher than at the corresponding hour for some days. He continues to take by the mouth the liquid food prescribed, nevertheless we regard his condition as critical. Pulse 118, temperature 100, respiration 18. D. W. BL189, [Signed]

During several hours last night his pulse was 120, in the early morning it fell to 108. It is hoped that the parotid swelling has found a slight release by a discharge of pus through the : ight ear. He continues to swallow liquid food in to continuous sleep or drowsiness. His physicians pronounce his condition to be

IF THE PRESIDENT DIES. Sensational Reports of the Existence of a Secret Organization to Make Way with the Assassin.

The Assassis.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 26.—A special to the Star from Cape May to-day is as follows: Colonel Corkhill, United States district attorney for the District of Columbia, who has been taking a vacation here, leaves immediately for Washington, having received dispatches that the president cannot live. Col. Corkhill says he is fully aware of the existence of a secret organization in Washington city whose purpose is, in the event of President Garfield's death, to break the jail and put an immediate end to the life of the assassin Guiteau. They desire to hang Guiteau by a slow process and in the meantime each member of the organization is to be allowed to put a bullet in Guiteau's body, taking care not to strike him in any vital point until the last possible moment. The colonel says he has good reasons for the belief that the guards of the jail who are all of them ex-Union soldiers, know of this secret organization is to be are all of them ex-Union soldiers, know of this secret organization is to fear all of them ex-Union soldiers, know of this secret organization is to be are all of them ex-Union soldiers, know of this secret organization is to fear the following the proposed of the paid who are all of them ex-Union soldiers, know of this secret organization is to fear the proposed of the proposed of the paid who are all of them ex-Union soldiers, know of this secret organization is to be allowed to put a bullet in Guiteau's body, taking care not to strike him in any vital point until the last possible moment. The colonel says he has good reasons for the belief that the guards of the jail who are all of them ex-Union soldiers, know of this secret organization is to be allowed to put a bullet in Guiteau's body. > The colonel says that while he believes that no torture too great can be visited on Guiteau he must see that the law is obeyed which protects Guiteau and secures for him a fair trial before a jury of his countrymen. He says it would never do to go to the world that in the capital of the nation the officers of the law were unable to enforce its mandates and were at the mercy of a mob. All that will be necessary to secure the jail from the interference of a mob will be a battery of artillery. There are now three batteries of United States artillery stationed at the arsenal at Washington, and about 250 marines at the navy yard.
