Arrayed in his linen pants he made a speech from the rear steps of the court house, denouncing the press in the roundest terms. He called all of the reporters jackasses, just because the Examiner thought that the mule's death should have been investigated, so that the public would know how the "mule or pieces of mule came to its death." The audience which listened to the coroner's address was composed, besides the reporters, of lawyers, county officers and politicians, and they all pitied the reporters. While the speech was being made an ice wagon hove in sight and it was suggested to the coroner that he should lie down in it for a short time. This he refused to do, but continued to speak, Rainey, as agent for the Clapp & Jones and if our readers will wander around to manufacturing company, had offered to the court house this evening they will still see him pacing up and down the corridor with a crushed sheet of the Examiner in one hand and a picture of a deceased mule in the other. At 8 o'clock this evening the reporters will hold a meeting to take action in the coroner's case. One of the Examiner's men will be made president of the meeting and one from the INTELLIGENCER will act as secretary. A petition will be drawn up and sent to the mayor, asking that he muzzle the coroner immediately before he does any further damage.

A WET DAY AT THE BRANCH.

This Morning's Examination Satisfactory. Elberon, Sept. 10.—9:40 a. m.—Official -At the examination of the president at 8:30 this morning the temperature was 98.4; pulse, 104; respiration, 19. He slept well during the night, awakening only at intervals of one half to one hour. There is a perceptible increase of strength with an improved condition of the digestive apparatus. The tumefaction of the parotid gland has entirely disappeared, and the suppuration greatly diminished. The wound continues to improve and presents more healthy appearance.

as he might have. The attending physicians say that the morning bulletin tells the whole story. It is the idea of Dr. Bliss to make the bulletins more detailing and comprehensive. Notwithstanding the slight rise in pulse and temperature noted in the morning bulletin, the president is considered to be quite as well as yesterday. Further than this little can be said, inasmuch as there are no details to explain, and the president is certainly gaining ground without the appearance of unfavorable symptoms or indications.

The stormy weather has the effect of keeping almost everyone indoors, and many have left for the city. Postmaster General James will cali on the president ometime during the day.

EXTINGUISHING THE RING.

By a Temporary Stoppage of the Spin-London, Sept. 10.—Circulars have been osted to all the cotton spinners and manufactures of Blackburn and thirteen adjacent towns, asking whether they are willing to stop their spindles for a week on condition that two-thirds of the trade do the same. An answer is to be returned on Monday, so that if the necessary ma-jority favor the adoption of this course in order to counteract the movements of the Liverpool cotton corner, the spindles may be stopped for a week, beginning on the next making up day, Wednesday or Thurs-

They Propose to Erect a Memorial to the CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 10.—The soldiers' reunion at Caldwell, Ohio, yesterday was addressed by Private Dalzell, Judge Wm. Lawrence, Governor Foster, Captain Cook and others. About three thousand people were present. The veterans resolved to erect a Garfield Memorial hall on the spot where the president has spoken to them at previous reunions. A telegram of sympathy was sent to Mrs. Garfield by members of General Garfield's regiment.

A Drenching Rain.

Long Branch, Sept. 10.—10:30 a. m.—

The morning is very stormy. A drenching southeasterly storm set in during the night and bids fair to continue throughout the day. The ocean is hazy and the weather sultry.

Col. Corbin said early this morning that the president passed a fair night, that he was quite comfortable, and while he had slept sufficiently he did not rest as well as he might have.

Liverpool cotton corner, the spindles may be stopped for a week, beginning on the next making up day, Wednesday or Thursday. It is now thought that a canvass of masters at Preston and in North Laneashire will result in a two-thirds majority in favor of stopping work. It is confidently stated that a fortnight stoppage would completely extinguish the ring.
