THE MAYOR'S COURT. "Big Four" who were up This

This morning the mayor had several customers before him. David Rittenhouse Porter was found on West King street by Officer Harman. He was very drunk and was entertaining the boys on the sidewalk with a song and dance. He was steered to the station house and this morning received an order for one month's meals at the prison.

William McLaughlin, who gave his age as 52 but is really older, was arrested at Rockland and Middle streets by Officer Merringer while delivering a lecture on the money question to an angry audience who were thinking of hammering Billy when the officer came. When the mayor sentenced him he declared that he had not been in the police court before and he would pay his costs. When he came to look for his money he found only a crumpled $1 bill, which would not pay the ticket. He was compelled to take i Jack Weise's suburban retreat.

John Ward spent Saturday and Sunday nights in the lockup, and was discharged yesterday morning. He immediately went on the town and began begging money for drink. He told every one who would listen to him of the hardships he had endured in Brazil with the Collins expedition, and by this story endeavored to enlist the sympathy of the listener whom he would strike for money. He got the story off at several hotels and while he was standing on North Queen street, near the depot, negotiating with a young man for two cents to make out the price of a drink, he was taken in by Chief of Police Deichler. He was somewhat ashamed this morning, and told the mayor that he had gone to work yesterday when he "hurted" himself and was obliged to stop. The story failed to take first prize for veracity, and John is now in the county jail, where for fifteen days and nights he will have time to dream of the many happy times he has spent in Brazil and Laucaster.

James McLaughlin, a vag, was discharged. He had come in for lodging and he was informed by the mayor, that al-though the city did keep a soup house open in the winter they did not run a hotel for the benefit of "turnpike men" in the summer. James was discharged and if he again returns he will not be provided with a ticket for Europe nor a check

THE "UNION" STEAMER.

Handsomely Repainted - A Very Pretty Machine.

The members and friends of the Union fi:e company, of this city, have good reason to feel proud of the steamer they are going to take with them on the occasion of their fraternal visit to their namesakes of Trenton, N. J. The engine has just come from the hands of Messrs. Edgerley & Co., the well-known carriage builders, of Market street, who have repainted it in a style that is at once artistic and workmanlike. Al the woodwork has been given a dress of a rich green hue, set off with broad gold bands ridged with black, and white fine-lines. The gold stripes upon the wheels begin at the hub, where there is an artistic design of variefire box is painted "17-Union-60" in "No 1" in gold letter, with a peculiarly delicate shading. All the lettering is especially fine and artistic. Messrs, Edgerley passes his place of business. & Co. may feel satisfied with the part they have had in improving the appearance of the Union's machine.

In addition to these attractions every inch of metal about the engine has been polished until it shines like burnished gold and will be apt to dazzle the eyes of the Trentonians when it is paraded through the streets of that city. The suction hose which goes over the top has been wrapped with white cord, inscribed "Union S. F. E. & F. H. Co., No. 1" The appearance of the steamer is, indeed, so completely changed for the better that its best friends would hardly know it. It will be shipped to Trenton to-morrow and the members of the Union will follow it on Thursday mornand upon their return will make a short street parade, and our citizens will then have an opportunity of seeing and admiring their stylish steamer.

The Michigan Sufferers.

The mayor acknowledges $3 from "cash" and $2.50 left by A. Z. Ringwalt at the Intelligencer office, $1 from A. C. Barr and $100 from F. Shroder for the relief of the Michigan sufferers from the terrible fires. Our city must do better. The suffering out there is terrible, and those who have been over the ground report having seen the burnt, distigured and writhing bodies of men, women and children. Rough board coffins contained the dead. fellowed to the grave by a few blinded, despairing relatives; crowds of half-starved people at some of the stations asking bread for their families and neighbors. More than 200 victims are already buried, and more charred and bloated bodies are daily dis covered. Already more than 1,500 families are found to be utterly destitute and houseless. They huddle in barns, in school-houses and in their neighbors' houses, scorched blinded and hopeless. Some still wander, half-crazed, around the rnins of the habitations, vainly seeking their dead; some in speechless agony wringing their hands and refusing to be comforted. They are hungry and almost naked when found, and in such numbers and so widely scattered that the best efforts and greatest resources fail to supply their immediate wants, and without speedy aid many will perish and many more will suffer and bocome exiles.

Not His Horse After All. Several weeks ago William Hogg, of Colerain, this county, claimed that a mare which Alexander Hamilton, of Oak Hill, had purchased from Andrews & Townsend, at Oxford, Chester county, was the same that had been stolen from his stables on the 7th of last May, and demanded that Mr. Hamilton surrender the animal at once, which being refused an order was procured from the sheriff and Hogg took the animal. Messrs. Andrews & Townsend who had purchased the mare in Southern Ohio with a number of other animals that were sold the same day that it had been at Oxford, took the matter in hand and undertook to prove to Hogg that the animal he claimed as his had never be-fore been seen in Pennsplvania, although it almost precisely agreed with a description of his stolen mare. This bein; agreed to Mr. Townsend and he stated for Southern Ohio last week where it was soon proven that the animal had been born and raised in the very township where Mr. Townsend had purchased it, and that it had never been away from home a sufficient length of time to travel to Mr. Hogg, residence in Pennsylvania. The latter was perfectly satisfied that the animal he claimed was not his, and immediately upon his return home Saturday evening returned it to its rightful owner.

A Funny Accident This morning a man tied his horse hitch. ed to a buggy in front Levy's shoe store, on East King street. The horse's head was toward the square and the buggy's rear end towards the court house. A large freight wagon passed by and its wheels collided with those of the buggy; the latter vehicle was turned completely around together with the horse, and neither was injured in the least. The driver upon coming out of the store did not know in what direction he had been driving.

Although they raise considerable noise while initiating a new member, yet it is very laughable to stand outside and hear them shouting their war whoop and singing their death song. Their "Chique, Chique," can be heard for several squares every Tuesday night.

A Cranky Horse. While a horse attached to a buggy and belonging to Samuel B. Shenk, of Millersville, was standing in front of Steinman's hardware store, last evening about 8 o'clock, he became restive and walked up on the pavement, and suddenly reared back and made a frightful jump upwards. The shafts of the buggy snapped, and for few moments it looked as though the brute was going to do a deal of mischief. A dozen sturdy hands were soon at his bridle, however, and with some effort the animal was pacified. The owner patched up the shafts as well as possible and drove off shortly, the horse appearing as decile as you please.

"The Connie Sogah."—To-morrow evening the Clarke-Gayler combination will produce at Fulton opera house Charles Gayler's Irish drama of "The Connie Soogah," which oldtime playgoers will recall in connection with some of the brilliant triumphs of the late Barney Williams and his wife. The Rochester Express, in which city the play was presented with marked success, says, "it still retains its power of attraction. It does not suffer by omparison with later productions of the same order. It is strong throughout, the three acts are full of intensely dramatic situations, and while there is much highly wrought sentiment and almost laughable melo-dramatic action on the part of the villains of the piece, the moral tone of the play is healthy."

GROWING STRONGER. THE PRESIDENT TO-DAY. PLACED IN A RECLINING CHAIR.

Where He Remains Half an Hour. ALL SIGNS FAVORABLE,

Encouraging this Morning. ELBERON, N. J., Sept. 13.-8:30 A. M.-Official-At the examination of the president at 8 a. m. to-day the temperature was 99.4, the pulse 100, respiration 20. He passed a comfortable night, sleeping most of the time, and on the whole his condition this morning is encouraging and gives promise of a good day.

D. W. BLISS, F. H. HAMILTON. The President in His Easy Chair. ELBERON, N. J., Sept. 13 .- At 11 a, m the president sent for the surgeons and Drs. Hamilton, Bliss and Boynton hurried over, creating some alarm by their rapid movements. The surgeons were in the cottage but about fifteen minutes. When they emerged Dr. Hamilton said to the agent of the associated press that the president being very desirous to be moved from his bed into his invalid chair, and feeling strong enough to stand the change. had sent for the doctors to have it made. They deemed it safe and lifted him into the chair where he new sits in a reclining position enjoying the change very much. The President Conscious of Growing Strength. ELBERON, N. J., Sept. 13.-11:30 A. M. -The president was allowed to remain in the invalid chair 35 minutes and was lifted back to his bed at 11:50 a. m. The president feels convinced that he is growing stronger and is much gratified that the results justified his judgment of his ability to stand the change when he requested it.

Situation Favorable at 12:15. LONG BRANCH, Sept. 13-12:15 P. M.-The president's condition continues favorable. He has been sitting in his reclining chair this morning. The attendants express renewed hope, and at this hour the situation looks very favorable. Doing Well at 1 O'Ctock.

Elberon, N. J., Sept. 13-1:15 P. M.-At the examination made a few minutes ago the president's pulse was 100, temperature 98.8, respiration 20. All admit he is doing well.

Enjoying Bis View of Old Oceau. LONG BRANCH, N. J., Sept 13-2:15 r M .- The president's condition continues favorable. No ill effects were realized from his being placed in his reclining chair and there was no change in the pulse or temperature in consequence of his removal from bed and back again. The president enjoyed the change. He was placed in a position commanding a full view of the ocean, and elevated to an angle of about 45 degrees. He was removed to his bed at his own request, not because he was tired, but because he considered it best not to overdo the matter.

Dr. Bliss says he will take him up awhile every day if his favorable condition con. tinues. . Dr. Bitsa's Continued Confidence. The febrile rise was scarcely perceptible last night and what little there was continued until the morning dressing occurred which accounts for the high temperature noted in the morning bulletin. Dr. Bliss still maintains that the president is convalescent and that there are no indications of blood poisoning. He holds that the lung complication is gradually passing away and does not apprehend any further trouble from it. He says the existence of trouble in that organ has been known by the surgeons for several weeks past, and the crisis came on Sunday, which day he virtually Pork..... lost by not making any gain. The Sudden Decease of the Rhode Island Schator This Morning. PROVIDENCE, R. I., Sept. 13.—General A. E. Burnside died suddenly at 11 o'clock this morning at his residence in Bristol. He had been slightly unwell for two or three days, but was in the city last evening. The immediate cause of his death was spasm of the heart. A telephone message from the general's house summoned Senator Anthony and Dr. Miller, but before the telephone connection was broken a message came that the general was dead. Gov. Littlefield. Senator Anthony, Representatives Chace and Aldrich, and other personal friends immediately started for Bristol.

[Gen. A. E. Burnside was a popular and well known, but not brilliant member of the United States Senate. He was born in Liberty, Ind., May 23, 1824; was graduated from West Point in 1847; served in the Mexican war; invented and for a time manufactured a breech loading rifle; was treasurer of the Illinois Central railroad; entered the army as a colonel, rose to be a major general, commanding the left Union wing at Antietam. He was chosen governor of Rhode Island 1866, '67 and 68; was in Europe during the Franco-Prussian war, and succeeded Wm. Sprague in the Senate, March 4, 1875. He and his colleague, Anthony, were so inseparably intimate as to be known as the Senatoria Twins."—Eds. Intelligencer.]

BOILER ON A KAMPAGE. Shocking and Fatal Explosion at Jersey City.

JERSEY CITY, Sept. 13 .- A destructive boiler explosion occurred at seven o'clock this morning, at Bulman & Brown's dry dock, resulting in the immediate death of two men and fatal injuries to three others.

The tug W. E. Gladwish, in dock for repairs, exploded her boiler. Captain Decker of the tug had his head completely knocked off by a fragment of the boiler the same piece killing James Tammany, who was walking the deck. The remainder of the boiler flew 600 feet up Essex street, cutting down a lamp post, fire hydrant, and several wagons. One horse and cart was literally cut to pieces, and the driver, a boy, had his right leg severed from the body. Following is a list of the injured: John Smith, seriously cut about the body and sight destroyed; Alexander McQuinn, engineer of tug, face and body cut; Walfep10-4td ing boiler, is believed to be badly hurt but has since disappeared; Victor Lembeck, face and body injured.
