Horn of the theological seminary of Lancaster, Pa., and Messrs. M. H. Mill, Massataka Yamanaka and W. H. Rauch, of Franklin and Marshall college.

Prof. A. S. Weber, was bridesman, and Miss Josephine Holman bridesmaid. The presents were numerous, beautiful and costly. The groom is a graduate of the class of '78 at Muhlenberg college, and also of the class '81 of the theological seminary Lancaster, Pa. With many a fond wish for future happiness the bridal party left for Philadelphia, where they expect to remain for some time, and thence to Wyoming, Delaware. And Yet Another Christian Hæfel and Caroline Smith, daughter of Mark Smith, were united in marriage last evening by Rev. F. P. Mayser, of Zion's Lutheran church, at the residence of the bride's parents, No 358 East King street. A large number of the relatives and friends of the parties were present to wish the young people joy and prosperity through life. A fine collation was served and many presents made.

Empire Hook and Ladder. At a meeting of the Empire Hook and Ladder Company, No. 1, held Tuesday evening. September 20, 1881, the following sentiments and resolution were passed: It is with feelings of profound sorrow that we meet on this sad occasion to give expres-sion to our sentiments of unalloyed regret, in common with the entire country, for the great bereavement which has fallen upon the nation in the death of our late Chief Magistrate, the President of the United States; an event all he more grievous in that he was stricken lown in the prime of ille, and in the midst of its usefulness, by the hand of the reckless and bloodthirsty assassin.

Whilst we would fain bow in humble submission to that which has been permitted by an inscrutable Providence, trusting He will overrule this untoward event in such a manpurification of the country, we cannot cease to mourn and feel a sympathy which language falls to express, in unison with our fellow-countrymen, with society and with the be-reaved family of him who has fallen a victim to the self-will and unhallowed ambition of nihilistic adventurer. M .-While a number of persons who accom-While a number of persons who accoming this sad journey; bear them up and pany the remains to Washington will not strengthen them. O God, bring us all at go beyond that point, it is understood that last to the morning that has no shadow, President Arthur has determined to go through to Cleveland in company with the cabinet. An additional guard has been placed about the Francklyn cottage for the purpose of preserving order while the remains are lying in state. Hundreds of people are arriving momentarily. The arrangements have just been completed, and notice given that all those desiring magistrate. The line has formed and the people are passing in single file through the cottage. Two sentinels are stationed at each side of the entrance door to prevent more than one person entering at one time.

The casket is very unpretentious, being covered with a rich black cloth, and with the exception of the heavy mountings is perfectly plain. The only decoration is a large "V" shaped sago palm which extends from the foot of the casket upward. A solid silver plate has the inscription :

JANES ABRAM GARFIELD, Born November 19th, 1831. Died, President of the United States, September 16th, 1881. Viewing the Body.

The remains are lying in one of rooms on the first floor of the cottage, and the people pass in at the east door and, without stopping, out at the west. The appearance of the late president is so changed that persons familiar with his natural countenance would scarcely recog-

An Increasing Crowd. and the crowd continues to increase. The Bird W. Spencer, Col. S. Perrine, jr., cars which are to be used for the funeral Ass't Secretary of State Kilsey, Ass't train have just been run up to the Franck. Secretary of State Jas. D. Hall, Complyn cottage. The Funeral Train.

9:30 A. M.-The engine and coaches are now in readiness to start. The entire train is heavily draped in mourning and presents a funereal appearance.

An Impressive Occa The line, formed at 8:45 from the Elberon hotel to the Francklyn cottage, has been diminished somewhat, but crowds of new arrivals surge into the surrounding grounds every moment. Ocean avenue, for two blocks in either direction, is blocked with vehicles. The occasion is one of extreme solemnity and so impresses everyone. No disorder prevails and the large gathering composed of all classes, is very quiet and decorous.

Arthur on the Train. ELBERON, N. J., Sept. 21.-The funeral train left at 10 a. m. The train passed Elberon station about 10:12. President Arthur and ex-President Grant, boarded the train at this point. The president came on from New York this morning. He was dressed in mourning, his high hat being covered with a heavy black band. He was accompanied by his private secretary, Col. Reed, and his private messenger, Alexander Powell. The president looked careworn and anxious.

Progress of the Train. OCEAN GROVE, N. J., Sept. 21.-The funeral train bearing the body of President Garfield passed here at 10:14.

Flowers on the Track. PRINCETON, N. J., Sept. 21.-The following dispatch was sent from the college of New Jersey : To Sec. Blaine: Run slow in passing Princeton. We will strew the track with

PRINCETON COLLEGIANS. At Princeton Junction there were about three hundred students from Princeton who had the track strewn for a hundred yards with very beautiful flowers. They also put some elegant flowers on the train as it slowed up for them. The train passed Trenton, 61 miles from Elberon, at 11:49, and the railroad for a half mile on both sides was lined with people. On the platform of the depot were from 4,000 to 5,000 ladies and gentlemen. As the train passed the men stood with uncovered heads absolutely silent. The bells tolled and the crowd dispersed. Flags were at half-mast and the buildings draped. The train arrived at Bristol at 12:05 p. m., stopped for water and left at 12:08. THE SERVICES.

By Whom Attended and Conducted. LONG BRANCH, N. J., Sept. 21 .- At half-past nine o'clock Chief Justice Waite, Secretary and Mrs. Blaine, Secretary and Mrs. Windom, Secretary and Mrs. Hunt, Postmaster General and Mrs. James, and Secretaries Lincoln and Kirkwood and Attorney General MacVeagh, arrived at the Francklyn cottage, and the doors were closed to visitors. The religious services were conducted by request of Mrs. Garfield, by Rev. Chas. J. Young, of Long Branch. There were present, besides the family and attendants, the platform was kept clear by nearly one the members of the cabinet and their hundred policemen. Now Lord, go with this sorrowing company the house that has no tears, the land that has no death, for Christ's sake. Amen."

Arrangement of the Mourners.

Immediately after the conclusion of the services at the Francklyn cottage Mrs.Garfield accompanied by her son Harry, Col. Swaim, Col. and Mrs. Rockwell, Miss Dr. Boynton and C. O. Rockwell came from the cottage and entered the may view the remains of the late chief first coach. The members of the cabinet and their wives followed and took seats in the second coach. Mrs. Garfield was heavily veiled and in passing to the train exhibited the same fortitude which has characterized her manner throughout. In addition to the immediate members of the family the following composed the party on the train : Private Secretary J. Stanley Brown ; Executive Clerk Warren Young: Jno. R. Vanpoormer, chief clerk postoffice department : John Jamison, railway mail service; Ridgley Hunt, son of the secretary of the navy ; C. F. James, son of the postmaster general; Mr. Jay Stone, private secretary to Secretary Lincoln : ex.Sheriff Daggett of Brooklyn ; Col. H. C. Corbin and Messrs. Atchinson, Rickard and the other attendants upon the late president and Mrs. Garfield during their sojourn here.

Just before the train was ready to start, the following state officials, accompanied by the members of the Legislature, arrived upon the scene : Gov. G. C. Ludlow, Maj. Gen. G. Mott, Adjt. Gen. Wm. S. Stricker, Quarter Master General Louis 9 A. M.—The church bells are tolling Perrine, Gen. Willoughby Weston, Gen. troller Edw. J. Anderson, Treasurer Geo. M. Wright, and Private Secretary to the governor James D. Naar.

Carried to the Cars. A few minutes before 10 o'clock the casket was removed from the cottage by has received answers from the following six strong men, and, passing through a guard of soldiers formed in parallel lines, was placed in the third coach. The attendants and others who accompanied the party took seats in the fourth car.

The Only Surgeon. Dr. Reyburn is the only surgron who went on the special train.

At exactly ten o'clock the funeral train started from the Franklyn cottage, moving from the grounds very slowly. Taking on Arthur. The train reached Elberon station at about 10:08 and stopped up the road about quarter of a mile from the station. At this point the special train, which brought President Arthur and Gen. Grant from New York, was seen, and guards were stationed in the vicinity to prevent annoyance from the crowd, there being from 500 to 600 people in the immediate neighborhood. The New President and Blaine. As soon as President Arthur's train was stopped alongside the train which bore the remains, the president and Gen. Grant stepped across and entered the second car of the funeral train. Gen. Grant took the second from the last seat on the right hand side of the second car. President Arthur sat in the next seat in front of General Grant, by himself, and the seat next in front of that in which President Arthur sat, was occupied by Secretary Blaine. As the train moved off President Arthur had his hands on the back of Secretary Blaine's seat, and was leaning forward engaged in conversation with the secre-

PHILADELPHIA.

No Stop in that City. PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 21.—The joint committee of city councils held another meeting this morning. It was resolved to communicate with those in charge of late president's body in Washington, to ascertain the route that would be taken in going to Cleveland, and whether it would be possible to stop in this city on the journey. Inquiry was made from the Pennsylvania railroad company, and it was learned that the train would not stop n passing through this city to day. Without acting on a suggestion to visit Washington in a body, the committee adjourned. The Run to Philadelphia.

The train passed West Philadelphia at 12:44. In carrying President Garfield to Long Branch the special train ran the 94 miles from West Philadelphia to Elberon in 137 minutes. The return trip has occupied 152 minutes. It passed Gray's Ferry at 12:53; Chesrarely equalled. The rotunda is heavily draped almost to the top, and the gilt frames of the historical paintings are closely covered with crape. The Catafalque. The finishing touches are now being given to the catafaloue which occupies the centre of the rotunda with the head to the east. This has been erected under directions of Mr. John T. Mitchell, and although simple and plain, in accordance with the expressed wishes of the bereaved family, it is of the finest material and very handsome. The base occupies a space twelve feet long and six and one half broad, and about eight inches in height, and of the government of France. Aftercovered with heavy black cloth. On this is erected the upper portion six Washington where they will attend the feet long by two and one-half in width at funeral ceremonies. the top, and about two feet in height increasing gradually in size to the base. This portion is covered with black cloth arranged in vertical folds with large bows of silk at the corners and heavy silk fringes around the edges. A silver moulding at the top completes the catafalque. The Halis of Congress.

The entrances to the halls of the Senate and House of Representatives are also tastefully draped with the emblems of mourning. Sergeant-at-Arms Bright, of senators expressing their intention to be present : Messrs, Hawley, Edmunds, Sewell, Bayard, Blair, Mitchell, Sherman, Jones of Florida, Saulsbury and Hoar, and they will all arrive here before Thursday evening. Senators Morgan, Johnston, Ingalls, Garland, Pugh and McMillan are now in the city. Senator Platt's son telegraphs that his father is in the Adirondack mountains, and his health is too precarious to admit of the hurried journey necessary to be in attendance

Dispatches are being constantly received by both Sergeants-at-Arms Bright and Thompson, from members of the two houses of Congress, announcing their departure for Washington. At the Pennsylvania railroad depot here no extraordinary preparations are being made for the reception of the remains. The funeral train will run in upon the track usually occupied by incoming northern trains and the casket removed through the large gate on 6th street.

The members of the Army of the Cumberland residing in Washington, have tendered to the sergeant - at - arms the Senate and House, guards of honor to the remains of President Garfield while lying in state in the rotunda of the capital. The offer has been accepted and the ex-soldiers of the army of the Cumberland are on duty.
