Three new school houses are put up in this township this year. At Muddy Creek, Silver Hill and Good's. They will be 30 by 40 feet of stone and will be furnished with the latest improved patent furniture, and each house will have a belfry and bell. The following teachers are em ployed to take charge of the schools during the coming term : Miss Frances Theresa Kreamer, at Stone Hill; Miss C. Sue Deem, at Silver Hill; Louise G. Good, at White Oak; Lot W. Frankhouser, at Muddy Creek; James W. Coldren, at Chestnu: Hill; H. W. Haller, at Staevers; N. Franklin Hall, at Bowmansville. Red Run school is vacant.

M. T. Ziegler has erected a fine and commodious two-story stone dwelling house in town. Rev. C. S. Stauffer has torn down his dwelling house and in its place has creeted a large and more substantial brick mansion in town on Main street. S. G. Seifert, esq., has erected a fine house on his farm in the suburbs of the town, in place of the one which he tore

The tobacco crop throughout this part of the county is a failure. Good fields are very scarce; some few small patches here and there are of an average growth, but nine out of ten acres will not make a half crop, and acres of the weed may be seen that will not be worth cutting

Some farmers are sowing their winter seed, others preparing to do so, and still others waiting for rain before beginning the work. Water is low and many wells and springs are entirely dry. Apples have nearly all fallen from the trees withered and scorched to a brownish color.

Not since the death of our lamented incoln has there existed such a universal feeling of sadness and gloom as enshrouded this section upon the receipt of the news that James A. Garfield is dead. There is a sad pall hanging over the town all the citizens being more or less affected. Many houses here are draped in mourning.

Return of the Shiffler—Their Reception by the Friendship—Parade and Banquet. The Shiftler left Reading at 6 o'clock Saturday evening, being escorted to the depot by one of the Reading companies, and arrived in this city about 9 o'clock. They were met at the outer depot by a committee of reception of the Friendship company and escorted by them to the rear of that company stationed on Prince street right resting on James street. The line of right resting on James street. The line of march was then commenced down James Shiftler Steamer. The Friendship wore a black fatigue cap and white silk badge and each man carried a chinese lantern. Arriving at the Shiffler engine house the Friendship opened order, and, after giving them ample time to change hats and put away the innumerable trinkets brought with them, the column was again formed Excelsior hall being the desired point, in the second story of which a banquet, got up by the Friendship, awaited them.

After each company had filed in, a com-pany on either side of the long table, Vice President John McCulley, of the Friendship, welcomed the Shiffler, spoke of the good teeling existing between the two, and invited them to partake of the Friend-ship's hospitality. Mr. P. S. Goodman happily responded to Mr. McCulley; he hoped the existing good feeling would continue, and that his company may have a chance to return the compliment to her "twin sister." Scarcely had he closed his remarks ere the Keystone band rendered "Home Again," and before the echo of the last strain was heard the City band, from opposite end of the room, gave as a sequel "Auld Lang Syne." "Pitch in" was the order given, and what followed may be imagined. It was near midnight when, after giving three rousing cheers for the Friendship, the Shiftler were allowed to return to their headquarters. . The affair as a whole was a success, due to the indefatigable labors of the committee of reception, consisting of Messrs. George Norbeck, James Fellenbaum, Geo. S. Landis, Andrew Meixell, James Flagg, and the skill of the Messrs. Schoenberger. Mr. John Garden, formerly of this place and now of Altoona, and a member of the Goodwill fire company of the latter city, was a guest of the Friendship at the banquet. He was fully equipped in his company's uniform.

How to Get Well?

Thousands of persons are constantly troubled with a combination of diseases. Diseased kindneys and costive bowels are their tormenkindneys and costive bowers are their formen-tors. They should know that Kidney-Wort acts on these organs at the same time, causing them to throw off the poison that have clozged them, and so renewing the whole man.
