COUNTRY CORRESPONDENCE.

ITEMS OF INTEREST FROM ALL QUARTERS.

What Our Reporters Have Picked Up in Their Search for Latest Information. The unusual pressure upon our columns yesterday necessitated the crowding out of much interesting reading, principally from our correspondents in various sections of the county. The matter was in type, but certain arbitrary rules govern the conduct of a newspaper just as they prevail in other branches of business. And one of these is that it is impossible to put more than a given number of lines into a column, and another that a newspaper form of pre-scribed dimensions, will hold just so many colums and no more. These propositions ought to be self-evident, and will account to our correspondents and to our readers why much of the matter printed below did not appear in our edition of yesterday.

Columbia News. In Columbia as all over the United States the memory of the late President Garfield was respected by holiday, public services in the opera house. At 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon all the bells began ringing and continued at intervals until two o'clock. At a quarter of two Co. C, headed by the Citizens' band, marched down Walnut to Second and over Second to Locust to the Odd Fellows' hall; here they were joined by the G. A. R. post, and in company marched to the opera house, the band playing an appropriate selection. Seats had been reserved in the opera house for the military and band, and as soon as they were taken the exercises began, Rev. R. C. Searing, acting as master of ceremonies. Mr. A. Bruner led the singing and Mr. Wm. Matthews presided at the organ. The services opened with a prayer by Rev. R. C. Searing, followed by singing "Before Jehovah's Awful Throne." Rev. Searing then arose and in a few words told why then arose and in a few words told why the meeting was held, and announced that Rev. J. II. Esterline would read a few passages from scriptures.
Rev. C. S. Miley then led in prayer, followed by singing "Nearer my God to Thee." Rev. Wm. P. Evans then made an address of about thirty mignutes duration. He used as his toyt minutes duration. He used as his text the well-known words of General Garfield: "God reigns and the government at Washington still lives." His speech was delivered in clear but at times trembling tones, showing that his whole heart was in was followed by singing the national hymn, "America." Hon. C. S. Kauffman then arose and delivered an address his "Personal Recollections of General Garfield at Home." He spoke of the president as being a kind father and an attentive husband; as a Christian, and being well educated. After Mr. Kauffman had finished speaking Rev. Henry Wheeler addressed the audience in a few well-chosen remarks, which were followed by singing "Jesus, Lover of my Soul," the entire au-dience standing. The services closed by Rev. C. S. Gerhart pronouncing the benediction. The G. A. R. escorted Co. C to its armory then marched to the Odd

The back ground of the stage represented a forest scene; a stack of guns was on the right and left hand side of the stage, and into the muzzles of the weapons several United States flags had been placed. In the centre of the stage was a large table, heavily draped, with the picture of President Garfield leaning against it. The top and sides of the picture were fringed with a silk flag of the United States, and this in turn was set off with black crape. The table represented under the cars and the ladies even pulled the pulpit. Borough Budget, On Sunday afternoon a bad break-up for the safe deliverence from our present occurred on the road to Heise's woods. At the Reading railroad crossing a horse attached to a carriage, becoming scared at a train, ran off and dashed into another team, which also ran off. One of the horses in trying to jump a five rail fence demolished the carriage and the other was in a very slight degree. Your correspon-dent, in a conversation with the sampler, was told that the lot of four hundred and sixty cases was as fine a lot of tobacco, taken all through, as any he had handled as yet this season, and less damaged for the amount of cases.

The extra services of the M. E. church commenced on Tuesday evening, the 27th inst., and will be continued at least during this week.

A Promising Trio. On Monday morning, 26th inst., the blacksmith at Green Tree, Bart township, Mr. Palmer and wife went to Lancaster, leaving three boys at home to care for the house. Some time in the afternoon these boys got into a quarrel about who was chief in charge and the two youngest succeeded in overpowering and severely pounding the other, after which they the two youngest—went into the house and locked the other out. But the young man did not intend to stay out, and arming himself with a sash weight he made an effort to get through the door, which failing to do, he threw the weight through the window, completely clearing it of glass. Then attacking the door with an iron bar he succeeded in demolishing it and thus getting in. The two who were inside finding they were not in an impregnable fort made their exit through an upstairs window and over an out-kitchen roof. The other arming himself with a butcher knife went on the hunt of the two, and not finding them, vented his fury on the furniture. Among other things in the house was a valise belonging to the oldest of the two retreating boys containing blacking and prize packages, which he had been selling. The conquering hero coming across this slashed the sides of the valise with his knife and emptied the contents into the out-house sink. The other two after making their escape from the house went to Georgetown and made of the M. E. church; Shannon, of the U. complaint before Justice S. A. Hughes, and J. R. Chamberlin, constable, was given a warrant for the arrest of the boy. About 8 o'clock p. m. Monday the constable returned after a fruitless search, the bird had apparently flown. Tuesday of citizens assembled in our cemetery at morning word came that complaint had one time—they left after the services in been made before II. Baughman, justice line and marched to Elbow lane and Marof the peace, by the fugitive, and the ket street and dispersed. Township Constable, Geo. Kunkle. The trio are not very good boys, and it is a hard matter to discover which of the set are the responsible ones. The oldest of the three is about 18 and has only been about home for a few weeks. Their stories in relating the occurrence are at wide variance and both are ready to swear to their side. The oldest is severely punished about the head and bled considerably, but is still ready to continue the war to the bloody end. ITEMS FROM YORK.

The good deeds she wrought on earth are the menument to her memory.

About seven thousand people assembled along the railroad within the limits of York last Friday night, to witness the passage of the train bearing the remains of the dead president. At about 8 o'clock the toiling of the bells indicated the ap-proach of the train. Men stood with un-covered heads and a breathless silence train passed they recovered their property There were services in all the churches on Monday at 21 p. m. Mr. Filbert surpassed all his previous efforts in the attempt, yet he remarked that he could have made it much better, if he had had the material.

Borough Budget.

In accordance with the presidential and gubernatorial proclamations, supplemented by that of Burgess B. M. Greider, to take Monday as a day to pay respect to the memory of the departed president, the services in every church on Sunday were of a memorial nature. Some of the edifices were draped with emblems of woe, and in such sombre surroundings many Christian hearts dense with sorrow prayed

Christian hearts dense with sorrow prayed affliction and prospective troubles. Monday a gloom of general sorrow hung over the borough and the cessation hung over the borough and the cessation from all pursuits gave it a sad holiday appearance. In the morning at the Bethel church a union meeting took place. Revs. Lockwood, Rhodes, Rigor and Whitcomb of the different churches addressed it. In the afternoon about the time that the remains of the late president were consigned. mains of the late president were consigned to their resting place near the home of his boyhood, the bells rang out in solemn tolls assembling our citizens and the farmers

The long looked for Battery C arrived in town at 10:15 this morning and created quite a stir. No preparations had been made to receive them, but three representatives from the G. A. R. post and one from Company C, rode out on horseback and escorted them into town. After a short street parade the battery halted on Locust street, between Third and Fifth, where they watered their horses. After a Owens, W. S. Schuttee and J. B. Hipple; J. R. A Baptist Minister's Experience.

I am a Baptist Minister, and before I even thought of being a clergyman, I graduated in medicine, but left a lucrative practice for my present profession, 40 years ago. I was for many years a sufferer from quinsy; "Thomas' Eelectric Oil cured me." I was also troubled with hoarseness, and Thomas' Eelectric Oil always relieved me. My wife and child had diphtheria, and "Thomas' Eelectric Oil cured them," and if taken in time it will cure seven out of ten. I am confident it is a cure for the most obstinate cold or cough, and if any one will take a small teaspoon and half fill it with the Oil, and then piace the end of the spoon in one nostril and draw the Oil out of the spoon in one nostril and draw the Oil out of the spoon in one hostril and draw the Oil out of the spoon in one nostril and draw the Oil out of the spoon in one nostril and draw the Oil out of the spoon in one nostril and draw the Oil out of the spoon in one nostril and draw the Oil out of the spoon in one nostril and draw the Oil out of the spoon in one nostril and draw the Oil out of the spoon in one nostril and draw the Oil out of the spoon in one nostril and draw the Oil out of the spoon in one nostril and draw the Oil out of the spoon in one nostril and draw the Oil out of the spoon in one nostril and traw the Oil out of the spoon in one nostril and traw the Oil out of the spoon in one nostril and traw the Oil out of the spoon in one nostril and then piace the end of the spoon in one nostril and traw the Oil out of the spoon in one nostril and traw the Oil out of the spoon in one nostril and traw the Oil out of the spoon in one nostril and traw the Oil out of the spoon in one nostril and traw the Oil out of the spoon in one nostril and traw the Oil out of the spoon in one nostril and traw the Oil out of the spoon in one nostril and traw the Oil out of the spoon in one nostril and traw the Oil out of the spoon in one nostril and traw the Oil out of the spoon in one one out of the spoon in one nostril and traw the A Baptist Minister's Experience.
