Tobacco.

The Crop and the Market.

Business in the seed leaf market has continued active, the sales for the week amounting to 5,900 cases, and embracing all varieties of the 1880 growth. The new Big Flat crop will necessitate still further strengthening the situation of old and new leaf. The sales of seed leaf for the month of September reached the enormous quantity of 22,100 cases, of which only 1,800 were for export. An appreciable advance in the prices of some varieties and grades was established during the month.

The Philadelphia Market.

Packers and handlers here market and perfectly satisfied with sales thus far this year. They say trade has been, is now, and likely to continue for the outlook, good in every respect. Packers will have no fault to find with the 1880 crop when the year is out; to borrow the words of some of the packers, if 1881 will only do as well, that is all they ask. Figures steady and firm.

Gains Report.

Sales of seed leaf tobacco reported by J. S. Gans' Son & Co., tobacco brokers, No. 121 Water street, New York, for week ending Oct. 2, 2,700 cases 1880 Pennsylvania, assorted, 12¢ 21c.; 1,900 cases 1880 New England wrappers, 16¢ 50c.; 1,500 cases 1880 state, p. t. : 300 cases 1880 Ohio, 6¢ 11c.; 1,000 cases 1880 Wisconsin (5/8), total 6,800 cases.

Leaf.

For its shortening in respect of rain when most needed, the season is likely to make amends in warmth to keep the frost away. This is a gratifying ending of a bad beginning, and divests the problem of future supplies of one of its most exasperating uncertainties. Two weeks and more ago it seemed as if there were but little chance of maturity for late tobacco plants North of South, both on account of the injury done to them by frosts, and the probability of their being overtaken by frost. Now, it is reasonable to believe that nearly all the present outstanding crop will be harvested without further harm than what has already come to it - be that less or more. The occasional rains that have fallen in the past fortnight or three weeks have developed the various tobaccos in the field amazingly - this we learn from our correspondence in all the producing sections - and they will be ripe enough to cut, with only a few days delay, before frosty weather can now set in. There is going to be a larger gathering to the acre than was anticipated a little while ago, and perhaps the harvest's freedom from wash will in some degree compensate for the diminished size of leaf to be expected from protracted dry weather. In this event the aggregate weight will exceed the general expectation. It is to be hoped it may, as the crops, grown under such adverse conditions, are likely to have defects enough at the best, to make attractive specimens of any kind exceptionally desirable.

Philadelphia's Disreputable Delegation.

No good citizen of Philadelphia, whether Democrat or Republican, could read the truthful reports from the recent Williamston convention without a sense of humiliation. Nor does it lessen the shame upon the Democratic party that the Republican delegation to the convention was no better than Democratic delegations. On the contrary it deepens the degradation of all parties to know that modern Philadelphia delegations to political conventions have become so disreputable as to bring shame upon the name of Philadelphia and the Union. True, the delegates are not all disreputable, nor even a majority of them, while there are always worthy gentlemen among them who would honor their party and their constituents; but it has become the rule of political delegations from Philadelphia to have in and around them quite enough of bummers and blackguards to cast disgrace upon the whole body and to bring shame upon our city.

It is not doubted that Mr. John S. Davis could have been nominated had Philadelphia been represented in the convention by a delegation of reasonable ability, skill and decency. There were a number of honorable exceptions among the delegates, who struggled manfully to shield their names from the odium of defeat and shame, and the delegation, as a delegation, was a conspicuous reproach to our great city, and the defeat of Mr. Davis lies at its door.

The Williamsport assembly was a new departure in Pennsylvania convention.

Had it been one of the regular sort, such as both Republican and Democratic machines run by boss orders, the city delegation would have been at home in it; but it was a convention outside of machine regulations, and the delegation Philadelphia political humorist and trader and shrieker was a curse to whomsoever his favor was given.

The disgrace of Philadelphia in the state conventions of both parties and in the Legislature has become proverbial, and if our large and intelligent community would not become voiceless in the councils of both parties and in legislation, bummers and traders of both sides must be sent to the rear, and men of character, ability and experience must be chosen as their representatives.

In an Unsettled Place.

The West Chester Record complains that a large part of the private correspondence of General Anthony Wayne including autograph letters to the general from the most prominent patriots of the revolution, are exposed to "injury, mutilation, abstraction and destruction by fire" in the museum of the State Normal school at that place. The collection is a valuable one, and came into the possession of the school on the dissolution of the scientific society known as the "Chester County Cabinet." Over one hundred signatures of prominent men have been cut from the letters, to which, as we are informed, it is suspected that some of the papers have been stolen outright. The Record urges that the collection be given in charge of the State Historical society, which is certainly the fittest custodian. It might be worth the while of General Wayne's descendants to investigate the title by which the collection is held. As the society to which the letters were originally given is dissolved the family may be entitled to reclaim them, in which case they would undoubtedly be cared for in the most satisfactory manner.

Exceptionally Good.

Philadelphia North American, Rep.

The Democrats have nominated an exceptionally good man for state treasurer, and no one need be sorry, for it should and will have the effect of demonstrating to the Republicans the propriety of laying aside dissensions and uniting for the contest, which we can assure them will be no walk over. Unlike the Democrats elsewhere the Pennsylvania specimen cannot be depended upon to blunder away, and the sooner the Republicans realize that he has not blundered this time, the better will be their prospects of victory.

Kidney Diseases.

Kidney diseases afflict the greater part of the human race, and they are constantly on the increase, but we have a remedy for them. Wort has become known, they are held in check and speedily cured. Let those who have had to constantly use cathartics and other such stuff, give this great remedy a trial and be convinced in the dry form it is most economical, in the liquid the most convenient. Philadelphia Press.

Balm in Gilead.

There is a balm in Gilead to heal each gaping wound! In Thomas' Electric Oil, the remedy is found. For internal and for outward use, you freely may apply it. For all pains and inflammation, you should not fail to try it. It only costs a trifle, its worth its weight in gold. And every dealer in the land this remedy is sold.

A Heavy Swell.

Joseph H. Bloomer of Virginia, N. Y., writes: "Your Thomas' Electric Oil cured a badly swollen neck and sore throat of my son in forty-eight hours; one application also removed the pain from a very sore toe; my wife's foot was also much inflamed - so much so that she could not walk about the house; she applied the Oil, and in twenty-four hours was entirely cured." For sale at H. B. Cochran's drug store, 137 North Queen street, Lancaster.

Idea of Down Feet Hard.

All beds seem hard to the rheumatic. Then harken ye, peevish sufferers! Apply Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil to your feet and ankles and muscles. Reply upon it that you will experience speedy relief. Dr. C. W. Benson, a Well-known Practising Physician and Surgeon of Baltimore, Md.
