State Scuator Riddieberger and Congressma Wise, of Virginia Exchange Shots and Shoke Hands After Four Rounds. A duel occurred Saturday afternoon between State Senator H. H. Riddleberger and Congressman George D. Wise, about ten miles north of Richmond. The origin of the difficulty is attributable to the Blair letters, which have become such an important issue in the heated political canvass now going on in Virginia. Congressman Wise was the first to introduce these epistles in the canvass, to show that their candidate for attorney general, was treacherous to both the Democratic and Readjuster Republican parties. Blair alleged author, Blair, who is the Readjuster promptly denied their genuiness. These denials were backed up by articles writted and published by his political friends and sympathizers. On the other hand, Demo crats living in Blair's section of the state, who are familiar with his writing, published certificates asserting their belief in their authenticity. These contradictory statements were bandied about by the papers of both parties and produced a great deal of bitterness between many of the leaders on both sides. A few days ago the Whig, the organ of Mahone and his party, published an article transmitted to them by Riddleberger, styled a confession from W. Leigh Wilson, who furnished the letters to Wise and to whom they were alleged to have been addressed. In this so-called confession Wilson said that Wise made use of the letters knowing them to be forged. In his note to the Whig, sending the confession, Riddleberger declared that he assumed no responsibility for any of the statements of Wilson, Congressman Wise, however, looked upon the matter in a different light, and held him personally responsible for Wilson's communication. He published a card in the Evening State denouncing "II, II. Riddleberger, who concocted these slauders, and the person or persons who directed or sanctioned their publication, as base liars and slanderers." Mr. Riddle berger happened to be in the city and saw the offensive article and promptly challenged Wise and also Mr. Richard F. Beirne, one of the editors of the State. The latter gentleman had on the same afternoon, in an earlier edition, published an editorial declaring in most emphatic terms that Riddleberger was a man wholly unworthy of belief. It is thought that Editor Beirne was challenged first. Both of the gentlemen promptly accepted the invitation to mortal combat, into between Wise and Riddleberger to meet. When they did so it was discovered that, though pistols were at hand, none of the party had brought any caps. This necessited a change of programme in their movements and a later hour was fixed upon for a meeting. In the meantime Wise and Riddleberger met near Atleas Station, on the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad. Ten paces were stepped off and the men took positions. Bad luck seemed to attend the affair. At the first fire Wise's pistol failed to explode the cap. Another effort was made. This time Wise's shot grazed Ridaleberger's long tail coat. Another fire was decess. After the last fire Riddleberger, with a smile upon his face, advanced towards drug but are intended expressly to Wise and extended his hand. A will cure the above named diseases. short parley was had between the seconds, took his hand. Riddleberger expressed much regret at the publication at which Wise had taken offense and remarked that he had never doubted Wise's honor and integrity. After this resolution the parties left the field of honor. Beirne was but a short distance off and ready to give Riddleberger satisfaction and Wise was disposed of. City Police affair, however, and got off in haste to intercept it and arrest the parties Not having jurisdiction in the county he lost some time in getting a warrant from the county magistrate. He secured that document and returned just at the time that the last shot had been fired and reconciliation had taken place. He at once directed his attention to Mr. Bierne and found him on the railroad and arrested him. He was put under a $1,000 bond. Mr. Ryan, an editorial attachee of the State, who was on the ground to act as second for Mr. Beirne, was also arrested and put under bonds. Riddleberger returned to the city and soon after quietly proceeded to fill ar engagement to speak at a large Readjust-ing meeting here. He was on the stand when he was arrested upon a warrant and under $5,000 bonds.

Ali three of the gentlemen who engaged in this triangular affair of honor are we!l known and occupy high social positions. Mr. Wise is the nephew of the late Gov. Henry A Wise, so well known in connec tion with the politics of the state and first cousin of John A. Wise, one of Mahone's most trusted leaders. Ruddleberger was the nomines of the Republicans for sergeant-at-arms of the Senate last winter. He and Mr. Wise have both been stumping the state during the present canvass, the former for the Readjusters and the latter for the Democrats. Mr. Wise's brother, General Peyton Wise, was party to a duel with United States District Atbrother, General Peyton Wise, was party to a duel with United States District Attorney L. L. Lewis, which occurred near Warrenton, in this state, about six weeks ago. On that occasion Wise fired his pistol in the air and Lewis missed his aim. That affair grew out of a publication of offensive language to a brother of Lewis, alleged to have been used by Congressman Wise in a political speech in this campaign. The affair-has created general interest here and is the theme of conversation in all circies. There have already been four duels growing out of the bitterness between partisaus in this canvass, and it is believed that the safe arrival home of Mrs. Greene and self-after a vacation of nearly two months, and while he is sad to learn of the deaths of the state arrival home of Mrs. Greene and self-after a vacation of nearly two months, and while he is sad to learn of the deaths of the state avacation of nearly two months, and while he is sad to learn of the deaths of the state avacation of nearly two months, and self-after a vacation of nearly two months, and while he is sad to learn of the deaths of the state avacation of hearly two months, and while he is sad to learn of the deaths of the state avacation of hearly two months, and while he is sad to learn of the deaths of the state of the thest of the state of which he is sad to learn of the deaths of the state of which he is sad to learn of the deaths of the dwhile he is sad to learn of the deaths of the state of which he is sad to learn of the deaths of the state of the state of the state of the thest of whith have coursed among them that nany who had been invalides and in many ways diseased are now well, have fully recovered their health. Among them is a lady who on the 8th of June last was told by Drs. Agnew, kline and Gross, of Philadelphia, to go home and die with a Scirrhous Cancer of the breast, now greatly improved. Another case was a mother and her first babe, who only a week before I left were supposed to be dying by two of other drugs given to any o there are one or two affairs of honor growing out of the same cause on tapis. It is stated that Senator Mahone will publish a lengthy letter in the Richmond Whig in reply to General Jubal Early's most severe unciation of Mahone.

Can't Preach Good. No man can do a good job of work, preach a good sermon, try a law suit well, doctor a patient, or write a good article when he teels miscrable and dull, with sluggish brain and unsteady nerves, and none should make the attempt in such a condition when it can be so easily and cheaply removed by a little Hop Bitters.
