No Such Store.

If there is any such store as Oak Hall in either England or France I could not find it. The nearest approach to it is "La Belle Jardiniere" Paris on the Seine, but any one visiting this store will say Oak Hall does better in quantity to select from, style and make-up of goods, though the prices in the main are cheaper in Paris; because of the cloths without duties, and the cheap labor of France. The people here, however, think our prices are quite low enough, considering all things. American Clothing outranks all other throughout the world for real gracefulness. We have here none of the narrow-breasted and contracted shouldered coats that are so universal abroad. Some of the New York Tailors who have opened branches in Paris are among the most popular artist-tradesmen there, and are well patronized.

The English and French open their eyes wide when told of the size of the Oak Hall Clothing House and its vast stock of ready goods for Men and Boys.

It is our purpose and hope always to have Philadelphia lead the retail clothing trade and we are giving our best efforts to improve every year on our cutting, patterns and workmanship. The character of materials we use is no longer an uncertain question. The people know that we are to be depended on for sound judgment (based on experience) in the goods selected. This year our fashions and finishing would warrant higher rates, but our prices are as reasonable as ever.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, OCT. 19, 1881.

THE JUBILEE.

REV. DR. GREENWALD'S SEMI-CENTENNIAL.

Brilliant Reception—Large Attendance—Great Crowds—A Feast, Sermons, Music and Heavy Contributions.

The concluding ceremonies attending the celebration of the fifty years pastorate of Rev. Dr. Greenwald, Trinity Lutheran church, took place last evening in the spacious second story room of the chapel adjoining the church.

The arrangements were very complete, the decorations of the chapel attractive, and the proceedings unusually interesting.

The decorations.

In the centre of the room the committee of arrangements had erected a pavilion some twenty feet square. It was enclosed by a railing, having arched doorways at each of its four sides. The pavilion was carpeted with green plush and furnished with a number of easy chairs and a table, upon which rested a massive copy of the Holy Bible. On other tables and brackets were placed a wealth of fragrant growing flowers of choice varieties, together with ferns, foliage plants and creepers.

On one of the tables was a valuable testimonial, under cover of a silver vase, to be presented to Dr. Greenwald during the evening. In the centre of the pavilion was a chandelier which shed a brilliant light upon all within it, and from the stem of the chandelier, immediately under the ceiling of the room, fell, in graceful lines, festoons of laurel, looped up at the four corners, and at each side of the pavilion. The posts and railing of the pavilion were decorated with laurel, clematis, parlor ivy and other plants, while from the upper rail on all sides were hung, in graceful festoons, singing canaries that warbled incessantly all evening. On the front of the pavilion facing the entrance to the chapel, was placed a medal bearing in gilt the words "Fifty years" and just below it the words "In the Service of the Church."

On the right side of this was the legend "Welcome to All."

Within this fairy-like structure was seated Rev. Dr. Greenwald and his wife, looking as happy as children, and beside them sat the venerable Rev. Dr. John W. Nevin, Rev. J. W. Hasler, Rev. D. H. Geisinger and a few others. At the head of the table, Rev. D. P. Mueller, and all the city clergymen were present.

On the platform at the east end of the room was placed a fine piano, and all the beautiful floral tributes presented to Dr. Greenwald on Sunday last, and heretofore described in these columns.

On the wall, above the platform, were excellent portraits of Rev. Dr. Greenwald and Rev. John C. Baker, on the south wall was a portrait of Rev. G. E. Krotel, on the north of Rev. F. W. Conrad, and on the west, just above the entrance, of Rev. Samuel Laird, all of whom have been pastors of Trinity church. The whole room was brilliantly illuminated by a number of chandeliers and gas brackets. An attractive feature of the decorations were the lambrequins arranged at the several windows of the chapel. These were composed entirely of ladies' shawls, in great variety of style and color—no two of them being alike.

The evening exercises.

The great crowd in attendance, while engaged in a buzz of admiration at the beauty of the scene before them, was suddenly silenced by the announcement of a prayer by Rev. F. P. Mayer, of Zion Lutheran church. The invocation was eloquent and pertinent, and at its close the reverend gentleman presented and read a series of resolutions of congratulation adopted at a meeting of the pastor and congregation of Zion church. In presenting the resolutions and fraternity of feeling existing between the sister churches who were zealously engaged in furthering the same faith and doctrine.

Miss Ella Bradwell, of Philadelphia, next favored the assemblage with a selection of vocal music, entitled "Take me, Jamie Dear," which she sang very sweetly, with piano accompaniment by Prof. Zeller.

Rev. Hassler arose from his seat in the pavilion, made a brief congratulatory address, very complimentary to Dr. Greenwald, and at its conclusion presented the resolutions recently adopted by the Fourth district conference of the Pennsylvania synod. They were as follows:

Rev. and Dear Brother: Invited by the congregation of the Evangelical Lutheran church of the Holy Trinity, Lancaster Pa. of which you are the beloved pastor, to participate in the commemoration of the 50th anniversary of your ordination to the office of the Christian ministry, the 4th district conference of the Evangelical Lutheran Ministerium of Pennsylvania, of which you are an honored member, determined, at its last meeting, held in Lincoln, Lancaster county, on the 5th and 6th inst. to mingle their hearty greetings with those of your congregation, in commemoration of an event which must be invested with peculiarly deep and touching interest to you.

The undersigned were accordingly appointed a committee by the conference and charged with the agreeable duty of tendering to you the heartfelt congratulations of the brethren with whom you have been so long associated in relations of more than ordinary intimacy and esteem. Although the church at large is fully acquainted with your uniform fidelity to the pure faith and life of our beloved Evangelical Lutheran church throughout the long and eventful period of your ministry, and how, with your voice and your pen, you ever did valiant service, amid conflicts, struggles and sacrifices, in the defense and furtherance of her pure evangelical faith and customs; and although your devoted parishioners here and elsewhere, who have enjoyed your pastoral ministrations, know better than any others can the self-sacrificing zeal and fidelity you have exercised in the care of souls; still it may not be assuming too much for us of our district conference to claim that, beyond almost any of your ministerial brethren, we are especially sensible of the great and important service your faithful pastoral ministrations, your unwearied literary labors, and your wise and judicious counsels, during particularly the richest and ripest years of our ministerial life, have rendered the church and cause of Christ. It has for many years been our pride and pleasure to look up to you as a model pastor, and in general to defer to your sound and experienced judgment, upon the various questions of Christian and church life, which have arisen among us. We need hardly, in this connection, say that your conduct towards your conference brethren has ever been characterized by a kind and generous consideration of our wants and our weaknesses, and that our association with you has been pleasant, beyond the possibility of our poor words to express. We know we but utter the unanimous sentiment of the brethren we represent, when we assure you that our hearts go out to you and yours in feelings of profoundest sympathy for the burdens you are called upon to bear; in hearty interest for your future happiness and welfare; in sincere thankfulness for the mercies and blessings you have enjoyed; and earnest prayers that it may please God, whom you have so long and faithfully served, to strew the pathway of your latter years with the richest and most fragrant flowers, and spare you yet many years of labor among us in the ministry of our beloved church.

Accept then, dear Doctor, for yourself, and your faithful companion, the sincere congratulations of your conference brethren, for the precious legacy of delightful memories your fifty years of faithful ministerial labor in the church of Christ, for the advancement of truth and righteousness among men, must now afford you; and for the generous tokens of warm and tender regard, with which loving hearts and willing hands are pleased, on this interesting anniversary occasion to greet you.

With sentiments of the very highest esteem, permit us to assure you that our best wishes and prayers as a conference, the warmest greetings and most generous offerings of our hearts, are, in the bonds of fraternal faith and love, freely accorded to you and yours.

Respectfully submitted, in the name and on behalf of the Fourth District Conference of the Evangelical Lutheran Ministerium of Pennsylvania.

F. P. MAYER,
President of Conference.

H. N. FEGELY,
Secretary of Conference.

JOHN W. HASSLER,
Members of Conference.

Lancaster, Oct. 18, 1881.

Rev. D. H. Geisinger, of New York, mounted a chair, and with a face beaming with smiles, requested the attention of the audience. He said that all who know him at all, knew that it would require an extraordinary occasion to induce him to leave his usual avocations and attempt a flight into the realms of poetry. But as this is an extraordinary occasion, he had concluded to make the venture, and with the permission of the audience, he would inflict upon them some of the bluntest of blank verse. Without further preface he read the following poem:

Jubilee:
Fiftieth year:
Blaze of glory:
That crowned the seven years sabbatical
Of ancient Israel.

Great Sabbath of jubilee restoration,
Heralded by the glad trumpet blast,
Which proclaimed the jubilee proclaimed,
Throughout the land—to all the inhabitants thereof.

Prophet and pledge significant,
Of that great epoch wonderful, when
"The Redeemer of the Lord shall return,
In an and through the jubilee."
That epoch shall be the jubilee,
And everlasting joy shall be upon their head;
And sorrow and mourning shall flee away;
That epoch shall be the jubilee,
Of righteousness eternal, and truth, and love.

To these two servants of the gracious Master whom we all serve, we do here and now. Our most cordial and sincere good wishes bring.

We pray that He,
Beneath the shadow of whose protecting
Wings the times of their lives so pleasantly have fallen,
May still keep them—
Be their refuge and retreat
And direct their journey in a world of storms,
And be their consolation,
When tempests are no more.
