The Cream of the Jokes. The large number of comets recently discovered is explained. Some mischievous little angels are catching the stars and tring tails to them. The esthetic craze has struck Leadville. A prominent clergyman of that city has written to us to inquire which is the most correct taste for a horse thief being lynched-to carry a lilly or a sunflower. Next year they say they are going to have the game of baseball to consist of ten innings. This is designed to prolong the game till after dark and so give the umpire a chance to escape. A Lyons physician says that smoking tobacco colors the bones; but that's of no consequence. We like our bones colored. It makes a fellow's skeleton look so deuced oriental and aristocratic.

An unknown man was struck below the woolen mills at Warren yesterday noon and badly injured.-Boston Globe. Send for Dr. Bliss at once to probe the wound. Injuries below the woolen mills are very dangerous. - New York Graphic.

The fact that a Denver man was recently fined $25 for carrying a revolver caused considerable comment in the West, but since it has been discovered that he had been using it to kill people with, public sentiment has changed and all now agree that the fine was not excessive.

Parlors are now made to look sylvan and summery by a nest of wood moss. with a chick or two peeping from it and looking surprised at his situation. Care should be taken not to leave any eggshells around, for otherwise the surprised chicks would suggest, not a sylvan scene, but a boarding-house breakfast table. The inmates of a boarding house in West Fourteenth street are nightly disturbed by a ghost. He appears as a big fat man, and then gradually dwindles in stature until he finally dissolves into nothingness. It is believed that he is the spirit of a boarder who lived in the house for a number of years.

The sentimental young man of New Haven was much distressed. "Mother," said he, "I will confide in you. I love her, but she never will look at me. I am poor. Would that I had barrels of bullion. and he wrung his hands in despair. "She is a set in cane, one package of which makes six good and true girl. I am sure she cares nothing for filthy lucre—" "Then I am resolved. I will lucre in the face. I will-'My son!" shrieked the woman, and she fell to the floor in a swoop. In a moment of recklessness he had prematuraly discharged the dreadful pun. He should have been more careful of concealed weapons.

"Don't contradict me," said the stern parent. "You have been holding secret interviews with Charles Mousterrat de Montmorenci." He was a proud but fash- $500 REWARD. ionable tailor, and not to be trifled with. "How did you find it out ?" sobbed the daughter. "You never saw us." I pever saw you, he returned, indignant-ly: "but my faithful Bruno came run-man that uses it. It cleaness MALARIA from ning to me this very evening with a mouth-ful of cloth. I recognized the patterns at once. I cut the pieces to make a pair of pants for young Montmorenci two months ning to me this very evening with a mouthago, and he hasn't paid for them yet." All she answered was, "Father, dear, it's too awfully too-too. I and she fell like a faded flower at his feet.

Scandinavian Hospitality. John Habberton, in Harper's Magazine for November. The most striking quality of Scandinavian character seems to be hospitality. Throughout Norway, Sweden, and the far Dr. C. W. Benson, a Well-known Practic-North the author was heartily received by every one, from the King in his palace to the Laplander in his tent. During five course of which every part of the peninsula was visited, M. Du Chaillu was cooly treated only once. . The Swedes and Norwegians have the reputation of being rebest suggested by the word "tourist." To any one whose interest in them cannot be measured by a stare or two and a few impertinent questions they are unsus-Chaillu went among them freely, conversed with them in their language, wore garments like their own, and took part in their labors, sports and ceremonies. The treatment he received in return causes him their sociability and kindness.

primitive habits, hospitality in Scandinavia always implies cating and drinking. The poorest farmer or fisherman always has something to offer the visitor, and lack of appetite is generally construed as a slight. The author mentions one occasion on which, to avoid hurting any one's feelings, he ate thirty times in two days and drank thirty-four cups of coffee. Often strong cheese is offered just before a meal to provoke appetite, and in the cities a formal dinner is preceded by a smorgas, or lunch, at a table crowded with alleged appetizers. On a single smorgas table the author noted smoked reindeer meat, smoked salmon with poached eggs, raw salmon freshly salted, hard boiled eggs, caviare, fried sausage, anchovy, smoked goose breast, cucumbers, raw salt herring, several kinds of cheese and as many of bread, and a salad made of pickled herring, boiled meat, potatoes, eggs, beets and onions. There were also three kinds of spirits on the table, and from these and the various dishes the guests helped themselves bountifully, and then did justice to an excellent dinner.

Can't Preach Good.

No man can do a good job of work, preach a good sermon, try a law suit well, doctor a patient, or write a good article when he feels miserable and dull, with sluggish brain and unsteady nerves, and none should make the attempt in such a condition when it can be so easily and cheaply removed by a little Hop Bitters. DRESS GOODS.

A cheviot dress cloth, really of a fine check with an irregular illumniation and a very obscure plaid; but, looked at a yard away, it appears to be a basket. Another cheviot of the very same small checks, but without the basket effect, simpler, plainer, and when closely looked at probably plainer, and when closely looked at probably prettier, though it is hardly fair to say that, $1.29. Third circle, southeast from centre.

"NDERWEAR.

Two extremes of the French hand-made underwear, lately come to us, attract notice. Some of it is so plain that it seems scarcely to belong to the class of embroidered work—it reminds one rather of the hand-work we used to make families here twenty-five years ago The other extreme is the richest of embroidery. It needs to be seen. Nobody'll believe from description the work that is in it: the fineness, the richness, the extravagance. We show it with pleasure.

At the same time see what the sewing machine has done for us, in our American factory made underwear. Each has a perfection of its own. Factory-work, made as we get it, is a new grade of saving.

One of the most beautiful of the draper-ies and furniture-covers that have come to us this year is a very quiet tinsel-and-silk fabric, just received, $12.50. Northwest gallery.

We are often told that we have uncommonly choice patterns in carpets. We certainly have the best makes.

JOHN WANAMAKER. Northern gallery.

NEW LINEN HANDKERCHIEFS WITH colored borders have come; but, so far as we have seen vet, there's nothing notably new in styles. They are almost all mechanical figures of the general character that has pre-vailed for some months.

Two new initial handkerchiefs: one embroidered in colors, 12% cents; one with very large, white, block or diamond initials formed by a hemstitch stitch, 25 cents. The latter is very neat indeed. JOHN WANAMAKER.

MARKET AND NINTH STREETS, PHILADELPHIA. DRESS CLOTHS AND CLOAKINGS.

Good judgment should be exercised in buying dress cloths, for, when well bought they make a most desirable and very serviceable suit or dress—something that can be worn almost at all times of the year-by a lady or young miss.

Our cloths are manufactured on special orders expressly for us, and are prepared with great care with reference to quality, colors and finish. Some are shrunk, and when they have great care with reference to quality, colors and finish. Some are shrunk, and when they have not been we have them steam-sponged, at the option of the purchaser.

We have these Cloths in low and medium prices. Also of the finest qualities of Imported fabrics.

CLOAKINGS.—We have hundreds of new styles, in lots that the piles reach our ceilings. Dry goods buyers and cloak manufacturers are requested to make their presence known at the office, and trade prices will be named for quantities.

SEAL SKIN CLOTHS AND PLUSHES The most beautiful and handsomest cloths this season for a Lady's Coat, Dolman or Mantle, are the SEAL SKIN CLOTHS. The finest qualities cost high, but when the fact is considered that they require no expensive trimmings, the total cost of the garment is very little most than an ordinary Beaver, and yet they are handsomer and more durable than any other fabric worn for a lady's outside garment, or for trimmings. These goods never crease or press as the silk plushes do. Prices range from $3 per yard (% inches wide.) up to the finest qualities imported. For
