OBITUARY

Death of Meshach Rockafield. Meshach Rockafield died rather sud denly of (apoplexy last evening at his residence on Strawberry street near South Queen, aged about 80 years. Mr. Rockafield is best known to our citizens as the watchman and messenger of the Lancaster County bank, a position he filled for very many years with the utmost fidelity and courtesy to the bank and its patrons. About a year ago he was compelled to relinquish the position on account of advanced age and physical infirmity. He had been quite ill for about ten days, but last evening he felt well enough to take a short walk and visit one of his neighbors. Very soon after his neturn home he was stricken down with apoplexy and died soon afterwards. Mrs. Anna Breneman.

Mrs. Anna Breneman, relict of the late Dr. Abraham Breneman, died at the resio'clock. She was a daughter of the late ing he got 30 days. Henry M. Reigart and a sister of Mr. John II. Reigart, whose funeral took place this morning. She leaves a family, consisting of H. R. Breneman, John Breneman, Mrs. Frank Calder and Prof. Abraham Brencman. Mrs. Breneman was a life-long member of St. James Episcopal church and was an excellent Christian woman, Death of J. Harry Hartman

J. Harry Hartman, son of Dr. S. B. Hartman, died at his father's residence on North Prince street, after a brief illness from typhoid fever. He was a well-known and highly popular young gentleman, a member of the senior class of Franklin and Marshall college, a fine musician and an admirer as well of athletic sports, an officer of the Laneaster bieyele club and a street work. skillful rider. He was a delegate from the local chapter of the Chi Phi fraternity to the national convention of the order soon to assemble in Baltimore, and was stricken with his fatal illness when engaged in preparation for the journey. He was aged about eighteen years, and his death is a source of poignant grief on the part of his parents and other relatives, and of sincere mourning throughout a large circle of friends and acquaintances.

Starriage of Mutes St. James church was enowded to its utmost capacity last evening, to witness the marriage of Benjamin W. Musser, of Hinkletown to Miss Lizzie Gray, of this city. The full marriage service of the Episcopal church was read by the rector, Rev. C. F. Knight, D. D., and interpreted in the sign language by Rev. Henry W. Syle. The bride and groom are a fine-looking couple, were handsemely attired and made the necessary responses with dignity and grace. Prof. Carl Matz presided at the organ and executed the wedding march in his usual brilliant style. There were quite a large number of mutes among the spectators.

The Fire Department.

The committee appointed by city councils to propose plans for the reorganization of the Laneaster fire department held a meeting last evening. The committee has had some correspondence with builders of steam engines, and the secretary of the committee was instructed to correspond with other builders, and also to correspond with the different five companies of this city relative to the lease or sale of their apparatus and fire houses. The committee will be ready to report at next meeting of councils an ordinance for the government of the newly organized file department.

Comic Opera.

Frank Arthur, representing Chas. E. Ford's Comic opera company, is in Lancaster to day, arranging for the appearance here next Wednesday evening, 26th inst., of that celebrated company, in the new opera of "La Mascotte" by Audran, author of Olivette, one of the most popular of recent operatic productions. The company includes Miss Madeline Lucette, an English favorite, and our young friend Amweg, of Hazletine notoriety, is in the cast. The sale of seats begins at the opera nouse office, to-morrow morn-

John H. Keigart's Funeral.

The funeral of the late John II. Reigart took place this morning from his residence, East King street, the attendance being very large. The function service of the Lutheran church was read by Rev. Dr. Greenwald, of Trinity church, after which the funeral sermon was preached by Rev. Fry, the assistant pastor of Trinity. Rev. Houpt followed with a prayer. The interment was made at Woodward Hill ceme-

Bridge in Bad Condition.

The mayor wrote to Superintendent Wilson, of the Reading & Columbia railrailroad to-day informing him that their bridge over the Penusylvania railroad on Mulberry street is in bad condition, the floor being worn out on the track side. The openings between the irons on the sides are entirely too large and children can easily walk through them.

And Now the Friendship.

The Friendship fire company will hold a action upon the prospective "call" system and the rental of their house, apparatus, ete. The meeting will be large and full of "interest," no doubt.
