COLUMBIA NEWS.

OUR REGULAR CORRESPONDENCE. Next Monday evening is Hollow Eve. The "blind singer" was in town yesterday.

J. Beck, shoemaker, has his window full of female and male canary birds for sale. The "Columbian" town and all this evening will have a banquet at the Franklin house.

A party composed of Columbians, and strangers, will visit Chiques Rock this afternoon.

The boiler works having received a large supply of coal, are now working day and night.

Officer Struck arrested a colored boy for carrying concealed weapons, took him before Squire Frank, where the hearing was held, and at noon to day took him to Lancaster, where he will remain until the next term of court.

In returning from the Yorktown centennial celebration Sergeant Bennett, of Co. C, lost a package of clothing. This morning the missing articles were returned to him.

Duck shooting is much better than it was. Mr. George Crane went out earlier this morning and shot fourteen of them.

Miss Clara Meyers, of Norwood, is visiting in Philadelphia. Miss Annie Purple is at York, the guest of Miss Annie Muselman. Miss Annie Fenwick left for a few days visit at Harrisburg.

Rev. Henry Winchler, the pastor, officiated at the extra services in the M. E. church last evening. Rev. W. C. Robinson, of Lancaster, will preach this evening.

This morning a wagon loaded with apples was standing at the corner of Union and Second streets waiting for a train of cars to pass. The owner, who was standing on the pavement, and the horse was left unattended. The animal becoming frightened ran off, and in turning the corner the front wheel struck a fire plug, breaking it and spilling the apples. The horse stood still and was captured by a policeman.

The damage done by the accident that happened yesterday, the breaking of the telephone wires and the running off of King's horse, will cost to be repaired in the neighborhood of $50. S. S. Detwiler will stand for it.

Rev. Wm. E. Evans, pastor of the E. E. Lutheran church and part of his congregation, left this morning for King's, where they will spend the day.

Mrs. Crosswell, mother of Mrs. Lyman, living on Union street, died of old age on Tuesday morning. The funeral will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the residence of Mrs. E. E. Evans, pastor of the E. E. Lutheran church, where they will spend the day.

Mr. Fred, Ducler's new houses on Sixth and Walnut streets are completed and with the exception of two of them, are all occupied.

The committee of mining engineers who are visiting, the different machine works in Pennsylvania, will be in Columbia to-morrow morning, and after thoroughly inspecting the shops here will go to Lancaster. Yesterday they had a reception given them at the residence of Gov. Hoyt, in Harrisburg, but that official being away, Mrs. Gov. Hoyt entertained them.

The Columbia G. A. R. post has done much for the citizens of this borough in the way of bringing good troops here, and they will do more. On the 19th of November, under their management, Ford's grand opera company will make their appearance. It has been with much difficulty that the post succeeded in getting this troupe, and our play-going citizens should show their appreciation by attending.

The members of the St. Peter's convent are making extensive preparations for a fair, which will be held some time in the beginning of next month.

The funeral of Mrs. Emma Kessler took place yesterday afternoon and a large number of friends and relatives followed her to the grave at the Washington place. The services were held in the Cookman chapel, Rev. Henry Wheeler conducting them. He spoke in an elegant manner of the deceased one's relation to his church; of her amiable ways, and of the great love that existed between her and those who had ever met her. Nearly all of her graduating class were present.

Mr. Geo. W. Harman, flagman on engine No. 188, met with an accident last night. The train, which was westward bound, was going at a speed of twenty miles an hour, and was about to enter a curve when it was struck in the middle of a coal car when the train gave a lurch and jerked him out on the ground. The result was slight considering the speed of the train. His head and shoulders were slightly cut and he received a severe bruise on his chest. He was taken to the American hotel, in this place, where he bears, and Dr. Craig attended him.

IN FREDERICK. After the parade of the firemen in Frederick, Md., yesterday, which was a fine affair, the Washington boys scattered over the city, and between 7 p. m. they again formed in line and marched to the United company's hose house, where a most bountiful banquet was spread. Speeches were made by Mr. Hensel and Judges Lynch, Ritchie and Bodie of the circuit court, sitting in the park. The presentation to the company of a beautifully finished pair of Texas cattle horns on behalf of the employees of Dana Graham's comb factory was made at this collation.

Early this morning the band and fire company, with a number of the citizens of Frederick, marched to the cemetery and visited the grave of Francis Scott Key, where they played the "Star Spangled Banner" and a dirge; also the Confederate soldiers' monument and the grave of James Cooper, United States senator from Pennsylvania.

The company left Frederick at 8:30 and reached York at 11 o'clock. They were met at the depot by representatives of the Union, of York, and taken to its engine house, where they were formally received, taken thence to the residence of the Pennell family, and this afternoon they were entertained at one of the public gardens of the town. The Washington boys will return at 6:35 this evening and will be received as elsewhere published.

The trip to Frederick was throughout a most delightful one, and the Washington boys express themselves as pleased beyond measure with the lavish hospitality of the Marylanders.

Impressions of Frederick. Besides the hospitality of its people and citizen firemen, the beautiful situation and surroundings of Frederick make it a place of great attractiveness and interest for a few days visit by strangers. The trip by rail thither is a pleasant ride, through a highly improved country, over rich farms, past fine buildings and between hills, growing into mountains, now robed in the splendor of the autumn woods, and the location of the town itself justifies the opening lines of Whittier's famous "Barbara Fritchie" poem:

Up from the meadows rich with corn, Clear in the cool September morn, The clustered spires of Frederick stand, Crowned with the hills of Maryland. Round about the orchards sweep, Apples and peaches hung in rows, Fair as a garden of the Lord.

Among the many objects of interest were engaged the attention of the visitors were the numerous churches, Catholic, Lutheran, Reformed, Episcopal and others; the Frederick female seminary; the Jesuit novitiate home and school, the state penitentiary for deaf and dumb, the jail and almshouse, the court house in a spacious square, the house where Barbara Fritchie is said to have lived, and her signature to sundry legal papers; the graves of the author of the "Star Spangled Banner," of ex-United States Senator Cooper, of some

What is more distressing than an obstinate skin disease, and why persons should suffer a single hour when they have a sure cure in Swayne's Ointment, is a subject of no small importance.

The worst cases of letter, itch, scabies, or that annoying complaint, itching piles, yield to its wonderful all-healing qualities. It cures the face and blotches on the skin, and restores the hair to its natural growth. Perfectly safe and harmless, even on the most tender infant. Itching Piles—Symptoms are moisture, intense itching, particularly at night, getting worse in bed; other parts are sometimes affected. Swayne's Ointment pleasant, sure cure. Dr. Swayne's Ointment, 25 North Seventh street, Philadelphia, Pa., to whom all letters should be addressed. Sold by all prominent druggists.

PHILADELPHIA, March 1, 1881. Messrs. Ely Bros., Druggists, 407 N. Y. Gen'ts: About Oct. 1, 1880, I gave your Cream Balm a trial with the most satisfactory results. I was troubled with Catarrh of the bladder, and in my head, was very deaf at times and had discharges from my ears, besides being unable to breathe through my nose; before the second bottle of your remedy was used, my head and health for me seemed to be restored, and I was able to accept my sincere thanks. C. J. Conroy, 925 Chestnut street. Field Manager, Philadelphia Pub. House.
