and conflicts with opposing forces. Some they have overcome, and their genius has shown out in greater brightness for their victories. These obstacles have called forth the latent powers in master minds which would otherwise have only remained in undisturbed concealment. These are natures which only bloom in the midst of difficulties, and which would probably decay without them. Poverty has been the very best means of exciting the dormant powers, and has ever been an immense social force in the direction of honorable achievement. Necessity calls forth effort, temptations and trials bring about self control, and in general, difficulty, adversity and want are the best sources of discipline and virtuous attainment. Thus we have seen that case and luxury do not effect the best interest of man; but it is difficulty, and the stimulus of opposition that brings out his best and richest nature. Men need to be awakened, and have their faults portrayed, the evil de norneed, and their duty indicated. Opposition may be called the most fortunate calamity that can overtake one in whatever sphere of life he may be placed. If he has truth on his side let him welcome its comin , for truth and right will surely prevail; and if he finds himself espousing the wrong let him look upon opposition as his emanciapator from a detested bondage -come to dispel the error and to justify and crown the good.

COURT PROCEEDINGS.

Before Judge Livingston In the case of Jacob Markley vs. Monroe J. Burkholder, et al., the whole of this morning's session was taken up with the argument of counsel, and they had not concluded when court adjourned.

Before Judge Patterson. Daniel Brua, John Brua and Franklin Bruce vs. George Beiler, summons in trespass. The defense in this case is that he has not built the dam breast higher than it was, nor any higher than he had a right to do. It does not swell the water up on the premises of the plaintiffs' property, nor does it interfere with the running of the mill. The dam breast had been torn away several times by floods when it was rebuilt, but was made no higher than before. Some distance below the Brua mill there is a piu on the rock in the creek, above which the plaintiffs allege the defendant had no right to back the water. Witnesses were called to prove that John Brua has said that he and his brothers had not been damaged by the backing of the water, but that this suit was brought to ascertain if Beiler had a right to back water above the pin.

Swindling His Employers. John Z. Heiner was arrested in Philadelphia yesterday for obtaining money from the clothing firm of Wanamaker & Brown by an ingenious system of swindling. He was auditing clerk of the establishment, and part of his duty was to issue orders on the easider for the payment of bills for work cone by outside persons. He had an accomplice named William Harris, who frequently delivered work done by his father, and collected the money for it. Heiner gave him orders, either raised above the true amount or entirely false, and they divided the money between them. Harris was discharged for some reason and has since become a notorious sneak-thief. He was sneeded in Heiner's confidence by a youth named O'Hara, and sort of a signal should be provided to he in turn by another named Ainsbury, who was working with Heiner when their operations were detected. Both Harris and O'Hara regularly levied black-mail on Heiner after they left the firm's employ, and he was obliged to furnish them with a fixed sum every week. Heiner confesses that he began his operations soon after entering the employ of the firm, six years ago, and it is estimated that his stealings arrested and were held in $1,000 cach. Heiner is well known and has some very respectable relatives in this city, where he resided when a young man some twenty or thirty years ago. His father was a minister of the Reformed church in Baltimore, and was highly esteemed for his piety and scholarship. John was als a bright and intelligent young man, inclined to be a little fast. We believe he was some years "irregularity."

Orlving Accident.

Yesterday while Henry Lutz was hauling lumber near Union station, his horse took fright, by the loosening of a trace, as he was descending a steep hill, and ran off at a powerful rate of speed. Mr. Lutz and another man jumped from the wagon and escaped with slight injury. The horse dashed into Union, scattering the lumber in all directions and gave the people such a waking up as they have not had since the Miller-Gensemer homicide.

Distinguished Visitors.

Orange Noble, of Erie, the Democratic candidate for state treasurer, and Hon. Wm. H. Sowden, of Lehigh, are in town to-day. They called upon many leading Democrats and other prominent citizens, visited a number of our industrial establishments, and called at Wheatland to pay their respects to Hon. George Ticknor Curtis, now the guest of Mr. Henry E.

Lancaster Benevolent Association.

Another meeting of the Lancaster Be nevolent association will be held this evening at the law office of R. B. Risk, esq., Centre square, at which time a permanent organization will be effected, the executive committee will report and a constitution and by-laws will be presented for adoption.

A number of names will be presented for membership.

Squirrel Shooting. George P. Roy and Harry L. Trout left Lancaster on Wednesday last on a squir-rel shooting expedition to Chanceford, York county, and the adjacent parts of Harford county, Md. They returned this morning with a string of thirty fine, fat grey squirrels, and report that other gunners have also been very successful, the game being abundant.

The railroaders of the P. R. R. are becoming more satisfied with the new way of running. They say it is easier on the men but much harder on the engines. Last night was a very dark night; consequently all the gas lamps were out be-fore ten o'clock. This happened some time ago and several accidents resulted from it. Council took the matter in hand and fined the lamplighter $1. If the present lamplighter cannot attend to his work properly council should secure the service f a more efficient man.

A heavy fog has been hanging over Columbia all morning, and Wrightsville, 'the little town across the river," can but b. indistinctly seen. A light mist has dso been falling.

George Donley, a young son of Mr. Hugh Donley, while watching one of his relatives breaking a lump of coal, received a painful wound by a piece of the coal flying off and striking him in the eye. He was taken to a doctor, who says the only way to save the injured sight is to keep the wounded boy in a dark room.

Col. Samuel Shoeh, president of the Columbia national bank, gave an oyster linner to the officers and directors of the bank yesterday at noon at the restaurant of Mr. Benjamin Bair. A pleasant time was had.

Hon, Orange Noble, the Democratic candidate for state treasurer, of Eric, was in town this morning looking after his interests. The Democracy of Columbia will give him their solid vote. Hon. W. H.

Sowden, of Allentown, was with him. The car which hauls einder from the Shawnce furnace across the Lancaster pike is a nuisance and a dangerous one at that. It is pulled up hill by a horse and after the load is dumped the horse is detached and the car runs noislessly back to the furnace. Several narrow escapes have occurred within the past week or two by persons not hearing the car coming. This is especially true on dark nights. Some ive warning to persons crossing the track.

The Crusaders. In the year 1871 a party of gentlemen, il of whom were Knight's Templar, met in the Allegheny commandery, Allegheny city, and formed themselves into a society and adopted the name of Crusaders. Their object was to visit Europe in a body. Fifty-eight persons left America for the Old World, and after visiting all the principal places in England, Scotland Ireland and Wales and the southern portion of Europe they returned home. It was then they banded themselves together for the purpose of keeping up the fraternal relations that then existed. Once every year a banquet was to be held at a given place and they were all to meet and converse over past events. Last year their annual supper was held in Chicago, and at that time they decided to hold their next one in Columbia. Last evening that pleasant event occurred. Out of the fifty. five original members but fourago in the employ of the government in Baltimore and was dismissed for some died and the remaining thirty-four were unable to be present on account of their business. The supper was held at the Franklin house and at 8:30 they sat down for a good time. The places for the departed ones had been prepared as though they were expected to be present and cards, draped in deep mourning with the deceased one's name handsomely engraved, were placed at each plate. Mr. E. K. Boice was a lady who will use Parker's Ginger Tonic. Regmember but is now resting with the dead. Speeches and toasts were made and songs sung, and in every way conceivable they amused themselves. About twelve o'clock the party broke up, and this morning the gentlemen returned to their different homes. The guests arrived two days before the banquet was held and during that time under the guidence of Mr. A. M. Rambo, also one who was with the European party, they visited every place of interest in and around Columbia. To say that they were pleased is putting it in a light way. All agreed in saying that

AWFUL CALAMITY.

A Steamb: a: Broken and Upset. NEW YORK, Oct. 28.-A special dispatch from Davenport, Iowa, says that the steamboat Gilchrist started from that place at 10:30 o'clock last night with a large cargo, twenty three passengers and fifteen of a crew for up the river. The river was very high and turbulent. When the steamer got above the bridge spanning the river, between Davenport and Rock Island the cam rods of the engines gave way. The machinery became unmanageable and the boat turned and was dashed against a pier broken and upset. A panie ensued and a rush of scalding steam badly injured many persons. There were seventeen in all lost, but at this hour their names cannot be ascertained. The accident was entirely due to earelessness and liquor. There was a good deal of whisky in the cargo and some of it was tapped before the steamer left the wharf.
