Little Miss Boothby.

Among the celebrated productions of Sir Joshua Reynolds, the great English painter, is one of a bright-faced child attired in the cortume of that day, and painted in the midst of a mass of apple blossoms. This has always been considered one of the best of Sir Joshua's portraits, and Messrs. Bailey, Banks & Biddle of Philadelphia, with their usual good taste in art work, have just had it reproduced as a plaque painting, and now have it on exhibition. It is a most charming picture and probably no beile in Philadelphia is the recipient of so many admiring glances in a day as are bestowed upon Little Miss Boothby. It

Annie Pixley To-night .- No one needs to be told who she is; for the mere announcement of her coming has put everybody on the qui vice of pleased exp ctation. The people of Lancaster tell in love with this charming soubrette three years ago, and their affection has gone on increasing ever since. She had a tremendous audience about this time last year, and she may look for another this evening, ply to when she will again appear in her inimitable role of M'liss in Bret Harte's bracing story of that name. McDonough & Fulford's excellent company support her.

Gvs Williams .- To-morrow evening this favorite actor and dialect comedian will produce for the first time to this city, the new play of "Wanted, a Carpenter," written for him by two New York newspaper men. It has met with a cordial reception wherever produced, and judging from the complimentary press notices, is destined to make a permanent hit. In his peculiar line of specialty-acting Mr. Williams is without a superior, and the new piece is one affording ample scope for his versatile talents.

Burt Rinchart's Show .- On Thursday evening next Burt Rinehart will give a minstrel and variety entertainment in Fulton operahou e. On this occasion all of the talent in this city will appear in a programme of rare merit. New songs will be rendered and the acts will be fresh and original. There will be | Game in Season. all kinds of acting, with a minstrel first part and four well-known end men. The company is strong an ' deserves a big house.

Guiteau remarked that he wanted Robinson in the case, and said that he sympa-

Scoville started to tell the court that they expected assistance, when Guiteau exclaimed that he wanted Judge Magruder, Mr. John D. Townsend and Messrs Swett and Trude of Chicago. He then added that in reference to the question of malpractice his idea was that by the physicians' statement on July 25 the president was thought not to be fatally hurt. He desired to have it go on the record that the court in bane might take notice of it. $\begin{bmatrix} 1.40 & .67 & .51 \\ -0.51 & .68 & .51 \\ -0.51 & .68 & .51 \end{bmatrix}$ The district attorney then called Drs.

They also identified the ball. The prosecution then rested their case. Guiteau was allowed permission to be heard in the opening of his case. Guiteau, retaining his seat against, the whispered request of Scoville, began by saying that he had nothing more to say than was published in his address last Monday. He appeared as his own counsel, and would make corrections as the case went on. A misstatement he could deny when it was put. At the proper time he would go markedly. At the conclusion of his short speech, he settled back in his chair with an air of exhaustion. Mr. Scoville then addressed the jury at length. His argument delivered in commonplace manner without the slight est attempt at oratorical effect was that the questions for the jury to consider were whether or not the prisoner killed Garfield and if at the time be was responsible for his act. Without concluding he requested the court to allow him to finish tomorrow. The request was granted and court adjourned. Guiteau's Alleged Assatlant in Jail. William Jones, charged with shooting at Guiteau, was this morning sent to jail in default of $5,000 bail, DEIGART'S OLD WINE STORE. Brandy as a Medicine.

The following article was voluntarily sent to Mr. H. E. Slaymaker, Agent for Reigart's Old Wine Store, by a prominent practising physi-cian of this county, who has extensively used the Brandy referred to in his regular practice. It is commended to the attention of those at-flicted with Indigestion and Dyspepsia. BRANDY AS A MEDICINE.

BRANDY AS A MEDICINE.

This now much abused Alcoholic Stimulant was never intended as a beverage, but to be used as a medicine of great potency in the cure of some of the destructive diseases which sweep away their annual thousands of victims.

With a purely philanthropic motive we present to the favorable notice of invalids—especially those afflicted with that miscrable disease Dyspepsia, a specific remedy, which is nothing more or less than Brandy.

The aged, with feeble appetite and more or less debility, will find this simple medicine, when used properly, or all their ills and aches. Be it, however strictly understood that we prescribe and us-but one article, and that is REIGART'S OLD BRANDY. Sold by our enterprising young triend, if E. SLAYMAKEM. This Brandy has stood the test for years, and has never failed, as an as our experience extends, and we therefore give it the preterence over all other Brandies no matter with how many jaw-breaking French titles they are branded. One-fourth of the money that is yearly thrown away on various impotent dyspepsia specifics would suffice to buy all the Brandy to cure any such case or asses. In proof of the curative powers of Reignert's Old Brandy

Reigart's Old Brandy,

In cases of Dyspepsia, we can summon numbers of witnesses—one case in particular we A hard-working farmer had been aff. leten with an exhaustive Dyspepsia for a number of years; his stomach would reject almost every kind of food; he had sour cructations constantly—uo appetite—in fact, he was obliged to restrict his diet to crackers and stale bread, and as a beverage he used McGrann's Root Beer. He is a Methodist, and then, as now preached at times, and in his discourses often declaimed carnestly against all kinds of strong drink. When advised to try

In his case, he looked up with astonishment but after hearing of its wonderful effects in the cases of some of his near acquaintances, he at last consented to follow our advice. He used the Brandy faithfully and steadily; the
