OUR REGULAR CORRESPONDENCE. at Miss Mazie Fendrich's this evening at performance. 7 o'clock.

The wreckers did not go down the Port Deposit road yesterday to the wrecked cogine. No certain day has been set. A queer kind of disease has spread among our dogs. They cov has though something was in their throat. There seems to be no relief, but finally it wears away of its own account.

The Observance of Yesterday.

Thanksgiving has come and gone. Au- cents. other holiday has passed. No longer can the fattened turkey's unmusical "gobble, gobble" be heard. GUITEAU MAKES A SPEECH.

COMPARING HIMSELF WITH ABRAHAM

The Stalwarts and the Delty Inspired Him to the President's Removal—Threat-ening to "Rip Up" His Di-vorced Wife's Record— More Witnesses Examined.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25. - The court room was again packed this morning, the audience being mainly composed of ladies. Scoville said Guiteau wanted to make a statement. No objection being made, the prisoner read a statement, justifying his frequent interruptions and disclaiming any discourtesy to the court. He, how-ever wanted all his personal, political and theological record fully developed and published in the newspapers. Last spring the newspapers were bitterly denouncing the late president for disrupting the Republican party, and in removing the president the prisoner had only done what these papers said should be done. He would like them to reprint those same articles now and see how they would look and sound. He never would have shot Garfield but for being specially commissioned by the Deity. Still if the wound had been properly treated he would be alive to-day. He then referred to the case of Abraham "and a score of others," and said the Lord did not look on him as a murderer. "I hereby," he said, " warm all cranks of high and low degree to keep away from me under penalty of instant death," alluding to the vigilance of the police in protect-A colloquy showing much feeling then ensued between opposing counsel about newspaper slips taken from Guiteau. Scoville then called John A. Logan to the stand, but he did not respond. Guiteau then became greatly excited and said there was something else he wanted to Nov .. say. He understood that his divorced wife was to appear against him. She was a most unfortunate thing, and he never should have married her. But if she came into cougt he would rip up her record. She was seduced in Philadelphia and had a child before he married her. Scoville quieted the prisoner with much difficulty, after which witnesses testified as to acquaintance with Guiteau's family. During the taking of testimony the prisoner insisted on interjecting wild remarks until the judge sharply threatened to gag him if he did not keep quiet. Gui teau still continued to talk, but in a milder

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 25.—It is stated here that engineers are engaged in making surveys for a railroad line from a point on the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad through the valley in Westmoreland courty, Pa. This is the centre of the gas coal region of this state and the projected road will be about twenty miles long. The coal trade of the Manor which affinds almost the entire supply of this coal for the Eastern market, is controlled by the Pennsylvania and Westmoreland gas coal companies, and the proposed connections will open a new outlet for the region with the lakes and New York. It is also said that the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie road will be extended into the Connellsville coke regions.

GIBSON'S AUTHORITY.

A Letter From Mr. MacVeagh, Certifying His Official Position. Washington, Nov. 25. - A report made by A. M. Gibson, in the matter of the star route contracts was delivered at the department of justice on Wednesday afternoon in obedience, as Mr. Gibson says, to instructions from Mr. MacVeagh, to whom the report had been submitted in manuscript and who directed him to make his report when printed, to the solicitor general, now acting attorney general. From the appended letter taken from the files of the department of justice, it would appear that whatever official designation may belong to Mr. Gibson he has been acting under the authority of MacVeagh. REIGART'S OLD WINE STORE.

Brandy as a Medicine.

The following article was voluntarily sent to Mr. H. E. Slaymaker, Agent for Reigart's Old Wine Store, by a prominent practising physi-cian of this county, who has extensively used the Brandy referred to in his regular practice. It is commended to the attention of those at-ficient with Indigestion and Dyspepsia.

BRANDY AS A MEDICINE.
This now much abused Alcoholic Stimulant was never intended as a beverage, but to be was never intended as a beverage, but to be used as a medicine of great potency in the cure of some of the destructive diseases which sweep away their annual thousands of victims.

With a purely philanthropic motive we present to the favorable notice of invalids—especially those afflicted with that miserable disease Dyspepsia, a specific remedy, which is nothing more or less than

The aged, with feeble appetite and more or less debility, will find this simple medicine, when used properly,

A Sovereign Remedy or all their ills and aches. Be it, however drietly understood that we prescribe and use but one article, and that is REIGART'S OLD BRANDY, la cases of Dyspepsia, we can sammon nam cite:—

A hard-working farmer had been all-felowith an exhaustive Dyspepsia for a number of years; his stomach would reject almost every kind of food; he had sour cructations constantly—no appetite—In fact, he was obliged to restrict his diet to crackers and stale bread, and as a beverage he used McGrann's Root Beer. He is a Methodist, and then, as now preached at times, and in his discourses often declaimed earnestly against all kinds of strong drink. When advised to try

In his case, he looked up with astonishment but after hearing of its wonderfut effects in the cases of some of his near acquantances, he at last consented to follow our advice. He meet the Brandy faithfully and steadily; the first bottle giving him an appetite, and before the second was taken he was a sound man, with a stomach capable of digesting anything which he chose to cat. He still keeps it and uses a little occasionally; and since he has this medicate he has here beauty of very little premiurary here.

Brandy.

Sold by our enterprising young friend, if F. SLAYMAKER. This Brandy has stood the test for years, and has never failed, as far as our experience extends, and we therefore give it the preference over all other Brandics no matter with how many jaw-breaking French titles they are branded. One-fourth of the money that is yearly thrown away on various impotent dyspepsia specifics would suffice to buy all the Brandy to care any such case or ases. In proof of the curative powers of Projects's Old Brandy.
