* The Professor."-The Madison Square management propose another first-class treat for our people next Wednesday evening, when they will present at Fulton opera house their new and successful comedy of "The Protes-sor," whose triumphs are familiar with those who keep track of recent dramatic events as recorded in the New York press. The basis of the story is comprised in the comical conceit of a learned professor proposing to half-a-dozen charming young girls and getting himself into all sorts of ludicrous matrimonial entanglements, until he really does fall in love with a rustic beauty and marries her. The title character is described as an original creation. The piece, which enjoyed a run of one hundred and fifty nights at the Madison Square theatre, introduces a cast of nearly twenty people, and the company bring their own scenery with them.

RESCUED FROM DEATH

The following statement of William J Coughlin, of Somerville, Mass., is so remarkable that we beg to ask for it the attention of our read ers. He says: "In the fall of 1876 I was taken with a violent bleeding of the lungs followed by a severe cough. I soon began to lose my appetite and flesh. I was so weak at one time that I could not leave my bed. In the summer of 1877 I was admitted to the City Hospital. While there the doctors said I had a hole in my left lung as big as a half collar. I expended over a hundred dollars in doctors and medicine. I was so far gone at one time a report went around that I was dead. I gave up hope, but a friend told me of Dr. WM. HALL'S BALSAM FOR THE LUNGS. I laughed at my friends, thinking that my case was meurable, but I got a bottle to satisfy them, when to my surprise and gratification, I commenced to feel better. My hope, once dead, began to revive, and to day I feel in better spirits than I have the past three years. "I write this hoping you will publish it, so that everyone afflicted with Diseased Lungs will be induced to take Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs, and be convinced that consumption can be cured. I have taken two bottles and can positively say that it has done more good than all other medicines I have taken since my sickness. My cough has almost entirely disappeared and I shall soon be able to go to work." Sold in Lancaster at Cochran's Drug Store, 137 and 139 North Queer 1v28-lydeodTh&w2

REIGART'S OLD WINE STORE. Brandy as a Medicine. The toilowing article was voluntarily sent to Mr. II. E. Slaymaker, Agent for Reigart's Old Wine Store, by a prominent practising physi-cian of this county, who has extensively used the Brandy referred to in his regular practice, It is commended to the attention of those af-

Indigestion and Dyspepsia.

BRANDY AS A MEDICINE.
This now much abused Alcoholic Stimulant was never intended as a beverage, but to be was never intended as g beverage, but to be used as a medicine of great potency in the cure of some of the destructive diseases which sweep away their annual thousands of victims, With a purely philanthropic motive we pre-sent to the favorable notice of invalids—espe-cially those afflicted with that miserable disease Dyspepsia, a specific remedy, which is nothing more or less than

Brandy. The aged, with feeble appetite and more or less debility, will find this simple medicine, when used properly,

A Sovereign Remedy or all their ills and aches. Be it, however strictly understood that we prescribe and use but one article, and that is REIGART'S OLD BRANDY, Sold by our enterprising young friend, if E SLAYMAKER. This Brandy has stood the test for years, and has never falled, as far as our experience extends, and we therefore give it the preference over all other Brandics no matter with how many jaw-breaking French titles they are branded. One-fourth of the money that is yearly thrown away on various impotent dyspepsia specifics would suffice to buy all the Brandy to cure any such case of ases. In proof of the curative powers of

Reigart's Old Brandy. In cases of Dyspepsia, we can summon num bers of witnesses—one case in particular we cite:—

A hard-working farmer had been anticted with an exhaustive Dyspepsia for a number of years; his stomach would reject almost every kind of food; he had sour cructations constantly—uo appetite—in fact, he was obliged to restrict his diet to crackers and stale bread, and as a beverage he used McGrann's Root Beer. He is a Methodist, and then, as now preached at times, and in his discourses often declaimed earnestly against all kinds of strong drink. When advised to try Reigart's Old Brandy, In his case, he looked up with astonismment but after hearing of its wonderful effects in the cases of some of his near acquaintances, he at last consented to follow our advice. He used the Brandy faithfully and steadily; the first bottle giving him an appetite, and before the second was taken he was a sound man, with a stomach capable of digesting anything which he chose to eat. He still keeps it and uses a little occasionally; and since he has this medicine he has been of very little pecuniary benefit to the doctor.—A Practising Prysician.

DISSECTING AN "INSPIRED" VOLUME.

The Assassin's Book "Truth" Showing Similarities of Idea and Phrase with a Previous Production of Shaker Noyes, Which Guiteau Endeavors to Explain Away—His Evangelizing Labors.

Washington, Dec. 2.-While passing from the van to the court house this morning Guiteau remarked upon the small more questions that are mere repetitions of what he had already answered. The cross-examination being resumed by Porter, Guiteau said one of reasons for removing the president to create a demand for was his book. He soon became excited, and gesticulating wildly, insisted upon his Divine inspiration, and that he was no fool He frequently declined to answer questions, or, as he said himself, "to discuss the subject;" and finally appealed to the court for protection. He then made very cautious answers when he replied at all to Judge Porter's cross questioning.

Cel. Corkhill read a document which had a short time before been placed in evidence. It set forth at great length Guiteau's purpose and ideas upon the "theocratic" press, which at that time he desired to establish, and claimed inspiration from the Deity; that he (Guiteau)
"was working for Jesus Christ & Co., the strongest firm in the world." "Those were my sentiments !" shouted Guiteau, "and that was inspiration. It was the same inspiration that led me twelve years after to go about from house to house as St. Paul did, to preach the Gospel and save souls. It was the same inspiration, but society wasn't prepared for my ideas; that was all the trouble." Judge Porter produced Guiteau's book. WASHINGTON, Dec. 2 -Secretary Folger has rejected all offers of compromise heretoforo received in the case known as "the Chicago whisky case," which arose from violations of the internal revenue law, and has been pending before the department for a long time. The amount involved in the case is very large. In taking this action Secretary Folger does not finally dismiss the case, but having received certain representations from persons interested, it is still held in anticipation of further propositions. Secretary Folger to day appointed Mr. James R. Butler, late United States attorney for Idaho, a special agent of the treasury department for one month, and detailed him to take charge of the appointment bureau, vice Lamphere, whose resigna tion has been accepted, to take effect on December 31st, until which date Mr. Lamphere has been granted a leave of ab-

SHIPWRECK AND SUFFERING.

Recent Marine Disasters, with Many Liver ST. JOHN, N. F., Dec. 2.—Every fresh arrival adds to the story of shipwreck and suffering as the result of the recent heavy weather on the Atlantic. The steamer Hibernian, from Queenstown, due last Wednesday, has not arrived. The schooner Hope, while proceeding to Randorn for a cargo of railway sleepers, was on Tuesday night struck by a heavy squall off Hickman, N. s., harbor, and capsized. The crew numbered seven, and only one was saved.

It is reported that another lumber-laden barque has been lost in the Bay of Islands The steamer Marathon has just arrived, short of coal. A terrible gale from the northwest is blowing now. It is impossible to get aboard until it abates.

The Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Dec. 2.—The Poughkeepsie glass works were destroyed by fire last night, together with large quantities of glass ready for shipment and in process of manufacture. The loss on the stock and building is estimated at $250,000; insurance, $150,000. The fire was no doubt the work of an incendiary. Later reports indicate that the loss is not so heavy as above given. Although the superintendent is very reticent as to the insurance, it is ascertained that the total insurance is $60,825 in forty different companies.

"Now you are on that I'll give you a little news." Witness then detailed his movements up to the time he saw the president and Blaine emerge from the house of the latter and walk down 15th street. Said Guiteau: "They walked along so lovingly arm-in arm, had their heads together like two school girls; their fellowship was delightful and it confirmed me in the belief that Garfield had sold himself, body and soul, to Blaine, and that Blaine was using him to ruin the stalwarts."
