Resolution to Go Out of Service Rescinded Proposed Ordinance to Reorganize

The Firemen's Union met in the Wash ington company's hall last evening, representatives being present from all the comb panies of the department. Walter M. Franklin, esq., having resigned his position as vice president the union went into an election to fill the vacancy, and Joel L. Haines, of the American, was chosen his successo A motion was made that the resolution passed July 9 last, notifying city councils that the several companies would go out of service on the 1st of February ensuing, be rescinded. The motion to reseind was after debate adopted by an almost unani. mous vote. Mr. Cox submitted the draft of an ordi nance which it is proposed to present for the consideration of councils at the meeting of that body to-morrow. It is a lengthy document, comprising twenty three sec-tions and embodies all the points of the communication of Mr. Cox, read at the late special meeting of councils and printed in full in the INTELLIGENCER on Saturday last. It is substantially a reproduction of the Cox communication, with a few additional details.

The ordinance was read and with no further action the meeting adjourned.

A Bad Book Agent.

A craveling book agent, named M. L. DeMott, who has been canvassing this city for subscribers to an illustrated history of hotel last evening. The landlord became aware that the agent traveled on his good looks and had beat several other confiding landlords out of sundry board bills. He was closely watched, therefore, and when he retired last night the door of his room was securely fastened on the outside to prevent his escape. It was unfastened in he morning and he was invited down to breakfast, but he was very slow in coming to time. He made an effort finally to escape, but was confronted at the door and asked to settle. He plead poverty, but the landlord was inexorable and would not let

THIRD EDITION

TUESDAY EVENING, DEC. 6, 1881. THE TREASURY.

SYNOPSIS OF SECRETARY FOLGER'S REPORT.

ncreased Revenues and Degreesed Kape terce—Some Important Mocument tions with Regard to the Gree back, Silver Colonge, the Tariff and Taxation. WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—The following is synopsis of the report of the secretary of the treasury, Hon. Chas. J. Folger, for the year ended June 30, 1881 : Ordinary revenues from all sources for year, $380,782,292.57; expenditures, $360,-712,887.59; leaving a surplus revenue of $100,069,404.98

The amount of bends redeemed during the months of July, August, September and October of the present year is in excess of the requirement of sinking fund for the entire year by $6,171,593.50. The surplus revenues, however, which may hereafter accrue during the year will be applied to the purchase or redemption of the public debt as contemplated by the revised statutes.

Compared with the previous fiscal year, the receipts have increased $27,255,681.59. Expenditures show a decrease over the previous year of $6,930,070,19.

The corporate existence of 396 banks will expire previously to February 25, 1883. The secretary thinks many of them will, under existing laws, continue business, but thinks much labor might be saved by the passage of an act directly authorizing the extension of their corporate existence. Such a law is recommended. The secretary recommends the repeal of the act requiring the issue of silver certificates and their early retirement from

Referring to legal-tender notes he says they are, without doubt, convenient and safe and profitable to the government, but as they were a necessity of the war, the department has some doubts as to their legality now as a payment for debts. It is a question worthy of attention. He suggests a permanent appropriation for the redemption of fractional paper curren-cy outstanding, and the public debt which matured before 1860, and remaining out-

Equity, if not strict law, demands the payment of United States bonds in gold, since it might be construed, especially by foreigners, as a breach of faith if they are paid in a coin worth in the markets of the world but eighty-eight per cent. of our own standard value. We are-abundantly able to discharge our obligations at home and abroad in money which is everywhere accepted as the true standard of value. The whole world world is interested in bi-mctallism and the secretary believes the best preliminary to obtaining a thorough understanding is for the United States to suspend the coinage of the silver dollar. Continuation of the present coinage will reduce us to an exclusive silver coinage and tend to reduce us to a place in the commercial world among the minor and less civilized nations. The secretary therefore recommends the repeal of the law for the coinage of a fixed amount each month and that the secretary of the treasury be allowed to authorize the coinage of as much only as is necessary. for many branches of trade, particularly iron and steel, but how far such revision shall involve a reduction of tariff is for Congress to decide. A commission of agriculturalists, manufacturers and merchants, sitting as a board, should be able to adjust the tariff so as to recommendation of last year for the repeal of discriminating duties, particularly on tea and coffee, is renewed. The secretary then refers to the subject of lightening taxation. He says at the present rate of prosperity the national debt could be paid off in ten years, and since so much has been done by the pres-ent generation, inquires if it would not be wise to defer its final settlement and devote more money to lifting the present burden of taxation. He recommends a reduction of the tax on matches and bank checks, etc., but the retention of

ecommendation thereon. DEATH OF KILPATRICK

A Chance for an Ohio Man. WASHINGTON, Dec. 6 .- The consul at Valparaiso telegraphs to the state department that Minister Kilpatrick died at Santiago ou Sunday last. [Gen. Judson Kilpatick was a citizen of New Jersey; and achieved considerable reputation as a dashing cavalry officer. Since then he has been devoted to politics, and was a fiery, nervous campaign orator. In 1872 he was a Liberal and since then has gone in for a " bloody shirt campaign and plenty of money." He was a good man for Republican administrations to get rid of and consequently was sent to Chili, where his own and the Peru-vian Minister Hurlburt's diplomatic indiscretions have created such scandal that death has only anticipated the state department's recall of him.—EDS. Dec. 6.—The Senate committee, appointed to act with the House committee to netify the president of readiness to receive his message left the Senate chamber at 12:35 to join the House members and proceed to the gray house on Capitol Hill, the residence of Senator Jones, temporarily occupied by the president.
