Another Warning.

Smallpox is now prevailing in sixteen states, and the practical question is, with every community, whether impulse shall be given to the loathsome disease by neglecting to interpose a well established prevention, or whether to enforcedly arrest the contagion by the most universal possible application of the remedy. Before Jenner's wonderful discovery one in six of the whole pepulation of the world died from smallpox; but the discovery of vaccination as a preventive has, where it has been rigidly practiced, made the disease almost unknown. There are many reasons which impel up to think, in a country like ours, that compulsory vaccination should be resorted to. prudence lead them to adopt precaubut among the vast number of immigrants flooding the country from every part of the world, and from the freedom of movement that belongs to classes of our own native-born people, something more protective to the citizen than intelligent inclination to protect himself should govern public policy. Compulsory vaccina-tion should be resorted to. On railroads and street cars, and in public places, all manner of contact is so possible and probable that we really think | treitation, give relief in Asthma, Bronchial a remedy as universal as the opportunity for danger should be applied. The partial attention to vaccination has robbed smallpox of so many of its horrors that people at large have lost sight of it, and therefore delay measures to guard against it; but unless something more active is resorted to to check the disease, we will hear of more than sixteen states afflicted with this

Fire Statictics.

At the meeting of the Union fire company, last evening, the board of engineers presented their annual report, from which we copy the following interesting statis-

The number of fires of all kinds in the city during the year 1881 was 55, on which the loss was $159,845, and the insurance $139,270.50, the loss being almost double the amount of that of the preceding year, the greatest loss being at Shirk's tobacco warehouse, Rieker's brewery, Schroeder & Bon's warehouse and Lancaster cork works. The engine and cart have been run out 30 times, of which three times were on account of false plarms. The cost for horse hire during the year was $117.

COURT. Quarter Sessions Next Week.

To morrow morning at 10 o'clock court will meet for the transaction of current business and the delivery of opinions.

On Monday the regular January term of quarter sessions court will begin, with ludge Patterson on the bench. A partial trial list has 84 cases on it, but this will be supplemented by the addition of nu merous others. The Gundaker-Cole shootis set down. The following are among the bottle to satisfy them, when to my surprise returned cases: Dr. U. B. Kline, Dr C. S. Frick, Dr. Samuel Martin, Dr. M Bra My hope, once dead, began to revive, and to baker and Dr. S. II. Metzger, violating medical registry law.

GOWEN'S GREAT VICTORY.

HE BEATS BOND BY 55,000 VOTES.

VANDERBILT'S SHARES SETTLE IT.

Bis Entire Holding Goes to the Receiver, and Makes Gowen Once More President of he Reading Railroad-Joy Among the Stockholders

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 13-The voting went on quietly at the Reading meeting this morning, but the name of Wm. H. Vanderbilt was greeted with applause. When his first vote was east for Gowen there was more applause, and people in the building began shaking hands and congratulating each other. All the Vanderbilt holding then went to Gowen. At 12:15 p. m. the round numbers then stood : Gowen, 277,- ing. 000; Bond, 222,000. The judges then withdrew to compute the vote.

At 12:30 the meeting reconvened. W. Rye flour at $4.75@5

Red, $1.40 142; do Amber, $1.42@1.45;

Corn dull and easier for local trade.

Oats dull and weak. E. Lockwood moved that the annual report of the receivers be referred to the incoming president and board of managers. Carried unanimously. It was also agreed that the vote for president should also be Butter dull, but fancy qualities scarce and taken as the vote for and against Gowen's financial plan for the relief of the road. Eggs dull and weak; Penn'a, 22@22e; The meeting then adjourned until 9:30 to-morrow morning.

The effect on the stock market of the announcemene that Gowen has received a majority of the votes east over and above his 39,000 challenged proxies was not conspicuously apparent. The result is looked upon as the opening up of a lively competition between the Reading and Pennsylvania railroads in traffic between New York and this city, and this opinion had the effect of stiffening Reading in the market and weakening Pennsylvania.

FAILURES OF A WEEK.

Very Bad Showing for the Last Seven Days NEW YORK, Jan. 13,-R. G. Dun & Co. of the mercantile agency, report the fail ures throughout the country for the past seven days at 208, the largest number in any week for more than twelve months. The reason for the increase is probably that a large number of persons insolvent towards the end of 1881 for various reasons have continued to hold over till after the opening of the New Year and are now trying to compromise and settle up before spring. This seems to be particularly the case in the common to goodinixed, $6.66 35; light, $6.206 (a) Southern states, where the failures foot up 6 35, heavy packing and shipping, $6.406 70; Philadelphias and lard hogs, $6.7566 90; skips and culls, $4.4065 60.

LOTTA IN TROUBLE.

ore art Dealer Proposes to Make Her Pay for a Plaque. Miss Lotta Crabtree, the athletic little actress, at this time finds herself somewhat embarrassed all on account of twelve dollars. Lotta played in Baltimore during Christmas week, to big houses, at the Academy of Music, and a few days before Christmas went out shopping. She called at a fashionable art emporium and selected a twelve dollar plaque, which she ordered to be forwarded to a lady friend in Boston, directing the bill to be sent to her hotel. About two hours after leaving she sent a young man who had acted as her escort to say she did not want the plaque. The message was delivered to the proprietor himself, and that gentleman comp'ained that the plaque had been boxed and the express wagon sent for, and intimated that Lotta had not acted in good faith, The young man haughtily replied and finally snubbed the proprietor and left. The latter, angered by the insult, immediately sent word to the actress that she must take the plaque, threatening to bring suit in default. Both parties appear to have lost their tempers, and the proprietor, who is a man of means, is determined, as he expressed it, "to teach the wilful little woman a lesson." Lotta to 74. In the Western states there were left town, and probably supposed she had heard the last of the affair. Last Saturday, however, the art dealer, through a prominent lawyer, laid an attachment for the twelve dollars against several thousand dollars belonging to Lotta, in the hands of Manager Ford, of the Academy, the money being her share of the profits of her engagement. Since then Lotta, who is in Cincinnati, has forwarded an affidavit denying that she made the purchase, and the matter will shortly come before the courts. The art dealer says she shall pay the money if it costs him five hundred banks, clerk for W. C. Jacus & Co., dollars to collect it, and Lotta says she Buffalo, missing about four weeks, won't. Meanwhile her money is locked He had destroyed all marks of up where it will have to stay until the matter is settled.

. JEFFERSON SOCIETIES.

We can conceive of nothing which would contribute more directly and powerfully to the restoration of the Democratic party than the general formation of societies devoted to the maintenance and defence of the Jeffersonian doctrines in their original purity. A thousand such bodies, "fraternal relations" with each other, would be the surest of all possible guarantees against the revolutionary designs of our Federalist-Republican adversaries. We understand that many existing Demoeratic clubs, social and political, in various parts of the country, are contemplating a change to this form of organization, in order that they may be brought together under a common name, and with a common standard of faith. Wherever unfortunate divisions exist this movement would furnish the broad basis of union and harmony, and tend to give us the victory which has been postponed only by internal dissensions, We beg leave to urge that Democratic orapproved form and that new Jefferson Democr tie associations be at once formed, where no clubs are in existence. They will encourage our representatives at Washington in their unequal struggle with the corrupt imperialistic party; and when the great battle between the people and the consolidated power of centralized government, corporations and monopolies, comes on these associations will be found inval-

The Assassin's Pare Cussedness. Mr. Geo. P. Pfiffer is the man who planted the trees on the grounds of Mr. Scoville, the brother-in-law and counsel of Guiteau. He instructed the latter, who at the time was making his home in his sister's family and was expected to make himself useful in some ways, how to water the young trees; respecting forest trees he was told to form a basin around the tree, so that the water would be allowed to stand and soak in, but Guiteau, with the perversity and cussedness which made him a national disgrace, made mounds instead at the base of the trees, causing the water to drain off as fast as poured on. Mr. P. does not believe in Guteau's insanity, but does think that he is the most matignant and
