Romance of a Disaster.

A Woman's Pretty Picture of the Couple wh were Killed at Spuyten Duyvii. Buffalo Courier. On Thursday evening at 8 o'clock the train from Boston via. the Fitchburg ralroad, passing through the Hoosac tunnel, stopped just beyond at North Adams, when the writer, almost the sole occupant of the coach "Rosedale," bound for St.

Louis via Buffalo, stepped from the train escorted by the polite conductor, to take a solitary "five minutes" supper. A great commotion was observed in the station, and the girl behind the lunch counter hastened to tell the conductor that a wedding party was about to take his train. With true feminine curiosity we burned our mouth with a cup of bitter boiling tea, and returned in haste to the coach just in time to see enter a pretty blushing bride of nineteen, followed by her hand-some young husband, who did not look to be over twenty. After them came a stout gray haired senior, who, as the officiating clergyman, evidently deemed his duties not complete until he had seen his young charges safely started on their wedding journey. He was in danger of being tramped upon by a gay crowd of young fellows at his heels, whose overcoats did not conceal their satin ties and wedding favors. They were the ushers and the best men. Depositing their satchels and bags-of unmistakable newness-the bride nestled into a corner, loosened her seal-skin, studied her bridal bouquet, and then tossing back her feathers, exclaimed ith a little sigh of satisfaction: "Didn't it go off beautifully ?"

The clergyman, smiling upon her benignently, said: "Yes, but that's what they all say, my dear!"

"O, I know it's an old story to you, sir; but we've never been married before, have we?" looking up mischievously from beneath her frizzes at her husband. "No," said the young fellow, laugh-

"I believe not." "And to think of all these lovely presents; I've enough to fill our house," said

But now the whistle proclaimed that the five minutes at North Adams was passed. The clergyman kissed the bride. grasped the hand of each and with a hearty " Happy journey my dears,' departed precipitately. As the train slowly moved out of the depot a loud chorus of " 'rah, 'rah, 'rah" sounded clear above the din of the engine, and was responded to in kind by the five noisy young gentlemen in the next section. The bride peered out of the window until the cheers had subsided, and then turning exclaimed How lovely of them to come to the station and give us such a glorious send-off." We shall be pardoned for having observed this party so interestedly when we explain that, since leaving Boston at three p. m., we had been dependent upon the attentive conductor for society, who, a few moments before, had left us in a state of cold terror, after a recital of a hairbreadth escape from a recent railroad accident, closing his tale with the cheering admission that accidents were so likely to occur that he never allowed himself to think of them. Had it not been for the presence of the D. D., we should have instantly decided that this was a case of bridegroom were so young, and their conversation showed them to be members of some college society, whose badge they sported. Our fancy was pleased by the tone of remonstrance assumed toward them by the new made benedict, who was the butt of all their jokes and was not allowed to enjoy his wife's society during the hour's ride to Troy, each of the others in turn claiming her attention. It was evident that cham pagne had flowed at the wedding banquet, which, if not too freely enjoyed, had suffi ciently enlivened them and loosened their tongues. At one time a bet was proposed the amount to be paid in candy to the bride. In the light of subcequent events we can but wonder why every little incident connected with this party impressed itself so indelibly upon our mind. One of the young fellows begged to be allowed a peep into the locket which the bridegroom wore on his watch chain.

"Can i let them see ?" said the young husband, looking over the back of his seat at his wife. She smiled assent. When, upon opening it the curious youngster looked up roguishly-"Yes," said the proud owner, "It is my wife-my girl!" As the train neared Troy the whole party prepared to quit the car, and goodbyes were exchanged among them. "We'll surely see you in June," said one, addressing himself to the happy pair.

"Oh! yes. I'll come down and bring my wife," Our eyes followed the young woman as she passed out of the car with her crowd of attendants, and she seemed conscious of our interest; for as she disappeared from view she turne I and smiled back at us. This was the last we saw of this un usually attractive and merry wedding party, for now quiet was again restored to the slumbrous shades of "Rosedale." But yesterday morning, on glancing at the head lines of the telegraphic dispatches, a horror seized us on reading the following: "Tragic fate of a young couple on their wedding tour," and among the list of those roasted alive in the rail road accident near Spuyten Duyvil june tion: "Park Valentine, of Bennington, Vt., aged twenty-one, and wife, aged nineteen," with the following explanation : Valentine was a nephew of Trenor W. Park, and was in business with his father, one of the wealthiest citizens of Southern Vermont. His wife was Miss Gaylord, of North Adams. They were en route to Florida on their bridal tour. Both the young couple might have been saved but for the desperate cling of the young bride to her husband." As we read these terrible lines our heart fairly ceases to beat, remembering how blittee and happy she was an hour after her marriage, for her bright smile haunts us still.

A Bucharest Circus Burned. News has been received of the destruction by fire of the Circus Kremsier at Bucharest. The flames spread so rapidly that it was with the utmost difficulty that any who were in the establishment when the fire broke out could escape, and when it was under control the discovery was made that many men and horses had been burned. Intense excitement prevailed during the conflagration, the horrors of which were increased by the fearful struggling and howling of the beasts in the menagerie opposite to the circus enclosure. Many of the beasts were terribly scorched by the heat and made desperate by their efforts to escape from their cages. The loss of property is very heavy.

Raiding a Towu.

A party of ten cowboys rode into Long Pine, Neb., on Tuesday night, and took possession of the town. They shot out the lamps in the saloon, riddled the windows, fixtures and walls and terrorized the inhabitants by firing fully a thousand shots during the night. Finally part of the gang boarded a train and continued shooting from the rear platform. The inhabitants at present seem too glad at having escaped personal injury to think of making an effort to bring the offenders to

EXCITEMENT IN ROCHESTER.

An unusual article from the Rochester, N. Y., Democrat and Chronicle, was republished in this paper and was a subject of much conversation, both in professional circles and on the street. Apparently it caused even more commotion in Rochester as the following from the same paper

Dr. J. B. Henion, who is well known not only in Rochester but in nearly every part of America, sent an extended article to this paper, a few days since which was duly published, detailing his remarkable experience and rescue from what seemed to be certain death. It would be impossible to enumerate the personal enquiries which have been made at our office as to the validity of the article, but they have been so numerous that further investiga tion of the subject was deemed an editorial necessity.

With this end in view a representative of this paper called on Dr. Henion, at his residence on St. Paul street, when the fol-lowing interview occurred. "That article of yours, Doctor, has created quite a whirlwind. Are the statements about the terrible condition you were in, and the way you were rescued such as you can

"Every one of them and many additional ones. Few people over get so near the grave as I did and then return, and I am not surprised that the public think it marvelous. It was marvelous.' "How in the world did you, a physician, be brought so low?" "By neglecting the first and most simple symptoms. I did not think I was sick. It is true I had frequent headaches; felt tired most of the time; could eat nothing one day and was ravenous the next; felt dull indefinite pains and my stomach was out of order, but I did not think it meant anything serious.' "But have these common ailments any thing to do with the fearful Bright's disease which took so firm a hold on you? "Anything? Why, they are the sure indications of the first stages of that dreadful malady. The fact is, few people know or realize what ails them, and I am sorry to say that few doctors do either.'

That is a strange statement doctor.' "But it is a true one. The medicai profession have been treating symptoms instead of diseases for years, and it is high time it ceased. We doctors have been clipping off the twigs when we should strike at the root. The symptoms I have just mentioned or any unusual action or rritation of the water channels indicate the approach of Bright's disease even more than a cough announces the coming of consumption. We do not treat the be cured cough, but try to help the lungs. We should not waste our time trying to relieve the headache, stomach, pains about the body or other symptoms, but directly to the kidneys, the source of most of these ailments.

"This, then, is what you meant when you said that more than one-half the deaths which occur arise from Bright's disease, is it doctos? "Precisely, Thousands of so-called stantly decided that this was a case of elopement, for the bachelor friends of the who has them. I can look back and recall hundreds of deaths which physicians

> "And did all these cases have simple ymptoms at first ?"

"Every one of them, and might have been cured as I was by the timely use of Preaching morning and evening at the the same remedy-Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure. I am getting my eyes thoroughly opened in this matter and think I am helping others to see the facts and their possible danger also. Why there are no end of truths bearing on this subject. If you want to know more about it go and see Mr. Warper himself. He was sick the same as I. and is the healthiest man in Rochester today. He has made a study of this sub ject and can give you more facts than I can. Go, too, and see Mr. Lattimore, the chemist, at the University. If you want facts there are any quantity of them showing the alarming increase of Bright's disease, its simple and deceptive symptoms, and that there is but one way by which it can be escaped." Fully satisfied of the truth and force of the Doctor's words, the reporter bade him good day and called on Mr. Warner at his establishment on Exchange street. At first Mr. Warner was inclined to be retisent, but learning that the information desired was about the alarming increase of Bright's disease, his manner changed instantly and he spoke very carnestly:

"It is true that Bright's disease has increased wonderfully, and we find by reliable statistics, that in the past ten years its growth has been 250 per cent. Look at the prominent men it has carried off: Everett, Sumner, Chase, Wilson, Carpenter, Bishop Haven and others. This is terrible and shows a greater growth than that of any other known complaint. It that of any other known complaint. It must be plain to every one that something must be plain to every one that something must be done to check this increase or there is no knowing where it might end."

"Do you think many people are afflict."

"Do you think many people are afflict." "Do you think many people are afflicted with it who do not realize it, Mr. Warner ?"

"Hundreds of thousands. I have a striking example of this truth which has just come to my notice. A prominent professor in a New Orleans medical college was lecturing before his class on the subject of Bright's disease. He had wart mission) Monday evening and through various fluids under microscopic analysis the week. and was showing the students what the indications of this terrible malady were. In order to draw the contrast between heaithy and unhealthy fluids he had provided a vial the contents of which were drawn from his own person. 'And now, gentlemen,' he said, 'as we have seen the anhealthy indications, I will show you 1% p. m. Gotwald mission school at 2 p. m how it appears in a state of perfect health,' and he submitted his own fluid to the usual test. As he watched the results his countenance suddenly changed—his color and command both left him and in a troubling refer he said : (Contlement). trembling voice he said : 'Gentlemen, I trembling voice he said: 'Gentlemen, I have made a painful discovery; I have Bright's disease of the kidneys' and in less than a year he was dead."

less than a year he was dead.' "You believe then that it has no symptoms of its own and is frequently unknown even by the person who is afflicted with very often none at all. Usually no two people have the same symptoms, and frequently death is the first symptom. The slightest indications of any kidney difficulty should be enough to strike terror to any one. I know what I am talking about for I have been through all the stages of kidney disease."

"You know of Dr. Henion's case?" "Yes, I have both read and heard of "It is very wonderful, is it not?"

"A very prominent case but no more so than a great many others that have come to my notice as having been cured by the

"You believe then that Bright's disease can be cured." "I know it can. I know it from the experience of hundreds of prominent persons who were given up to die by both their physicians and friends."

"You speak of your own experience,

I did not know what ailed me. Wher; however, I found it was kidney difficulty I thought there was little hope and so did The Commotion Caused by the Statement of a Physician. the doctors. I have since learned that one of the physicians of this city pointed me out to a gentlemon on the street one day, saying: 'there goes a man who will be dead within a year.' I believe his words would have proven true if I had not fortunately secured and used the remedy now known as Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure." "And this caused you to manufacture

"No, it caused me to investigate. I went to the principal cities with Dr. Craig, the discoverer, and saw the physicians prescribing and using it and saw that Dr. Craig was unable with his facilities, to supply the medicine to thousands who wanted it. I therefore determined as a a duty I owed humanity and the suffering to bring it within their reach and now it is known in every part of America, is sold in every drug store and has become a household necessity. The reporter left Mr. Warner, much impressed with the earnestness and sincerity of his statements and next paid a visit to Dr. S. A. Lattimore at his residence on Prince Street. Dr. Lattimore, although busily engaged upon some matters connected with the State Board of Health, of which he is one of the analysts, courte ously answered the questions that were propounded him:

"Did you make a chemical analysis of the case of Mr. H. H. Warner some three years ago, Doctor?" 'Yes, sir.'

"What did this analysis show you?" "The presence of albumen and tube casts in great abundance." "And what did the symptoms indi cate?" "A serious disease of the kidneys." "Did you think Mr. Warner could re cover ?"

"No, sir. I did not think it possible It was seldom, indeed, that so pronounced a case had, up to that time, ever been cured. "Do you know anything about the remedy which cured him?' "Yes, I have chemically analyzed it and upon critical examination, find it en tirely free from any poisonous or deleteri

We publish the foregoing statements in view of the commotion which the publicity of Dr. Henion's article has caused and to meet the protestations which have been made. The standing of Dr. Henion, Mr. Warner and Dr. Lattimore in the community is beyond question, and the statements they make cannot for a moment be doubted. They conclusively show that Bright's disease of the kidneys is one of the most deceptive and dangerou of all diseases, that it is exceedingly com mon, alarmingly increasing and that it can
