A HAPPY NEW YEAR!

The season of 1881 closed one of the most brilliant and successful campaigns in the history of our trade. We congratulate our patrons and ourselves in anticipation of a lively and increased spring trade.

In order to meet the demand we have made extensive improvements in our room and otherwise extended our facilities to present our spring offering of select and choice FOREIGN NOTITIES to arrive about the first of February. We will be able to please the most exacting and well as the general class of trade. A great desideratum among our people seems to be a cheap article in cloth. There is no good in it if we have tried it and found it doesn't pay. We will make one of our $20 Overcoats with just three seasons' hard wear and look gentool, while a $20 Overcoat will hardly be recognized after one season's wear. Where is the economy in buying trash? Few persons are content judges of fine articles of clothing done up in first-class style; therefore, we invite special attention to our establishment, where can be found at all times the very best in the market, and priced as reasonable as can be expected. We are selling a few HEAVY-WEIGHT

OVERCOATINGS

—AND—

SUITINGS,

at very low prices in order to close them out to make room for our new spring stock. Thankful for the very liberal patronage we hope to receive from our friends of Square dealing in all our transactions, and show a practical and happy result during our spring campaign. All are cordially invited to call at

GENTS' KID GLOVES.

It is not often that we say much about GENTS' KID GLOVES, but we have some of the best makes known to the trade. The next dress glove we keep is and for an assortment of shades they have scarcely an equal. Ask to see them, even if you only want to purchase a cheaper glove.

Fisk, Clark & Flagg's,

RUBBER CLOTHING

has been hard to get in the past few weeks. The demand is so great the manufacturers are unable to keep up with the orders. But the goods we have just received, with what we had on hand, will make a nice assortment to select from.

BARGAINS DE FACTO.

Rough and Tumble Data.

The mill that makes these goods runs exclusively for Oak Hall.

They are all-wool, strong as cow hide, thoroughly honest and not handsome.

One point with them is to give the greatest amount of strength and durability for the least possible price.

We have said little about them, because they have sold too fast to advertise.

We now have small lines as follows:

- Men's Sack Suits, $10.00
- Large Boys' Sack Suits, $7.50
- Large Boys' Blouse Suits, $4.50
- Large Boys' Overcoats, $7.00
- Small Boys' Overcoats, $6.00

They are

RIDING TO DEATH.

KILLED IN A RAILROAD COLLISION.

ATLANTA DEVASTATED BY FIRE.

AN AUTHOR'S PRESENCE OF MIND.

Shattered by a Blast.—Murdered His Own Child.—Some Minor Topics in the Current News of the Day.

A Decided Sensation.

In Toronto the appearance of a pet dog with earrings created a decided sensation among the promenaders on a fashionable street in that city.

By a Large Majority.

Gen. Lucius Q. C. Lamar was re-elected to the United States Senate on Tuesday by the Legislature of Mississippi by a large majority, he receiving a total of 122 votes out of 148 cast in both houses.

She Used Potash Lye and a Razor.

On Turpentine farm, in Berrien county, Ga., Viola Spell, colored, attacked another colored woman who had killed her and threw a can of potash lye in her eyes and slashed her fatally with a razor.

Not Divided in Death.

Jan. Anderson, aged 95, the oldest man in Green county, Ky., died after a long illness. His wife, aged 92, who had nursed him through his illness, died within an hour afterward.

An Old Resident Found Dead.

George Beck, an old resident of Wilkes-barre, who lives alone and had accumulated considerable wealth, was found dead in his bed. It is thought that he was murdered.

The Missing Balloon Reported Found.

Telegrams from Massillon state that the balloon which carried Capt. Walter Powell to sea from England, on the 10th of December last, has been found, together with the dead body of Mr. Powell, in the Sierra Podroসা. Some reports discredit the statement.

A Missing Child Found in the River.

The body of Robt. Schomaker, aged three and a-half years, who had been missing from his home in Stillwater, N. Y., for three days, was found in the river at that place.

A Railroad Man Run Over.

Egbert H. Bhalregite, superintendent of the Hudson River Spahic iron ore company, was almost instantly killed by being struck by engine 22 while walking on the track to his place of business. His age was 42 years.

Searching for Masked Robbers.

Officers from Georgetown, Ohio, are in search of the men who entered the dwelling of Joseph Hitter, a farmer, near that place, and, being masked and using revolvers, tied all the members of the family and then broke open a chest and stole $3,800 in money. They then stole a team and left. It was thought that they came to Cincinnati, but so far they have not been found.

A Corpse Too Long for the Coffin.

The funeral of Isaac Hawk, of South Coventry, said to be the tallest man in Chester county, took place Friday. He was six feet seven inches long, and the undertaker had considerable difficulty in getting a casket long enough for the corpse. The one that was sent was too short, and in closing the lid a portion of the casket had to be cut away. The corpse was likewise too short for the coffin. The deceased was seventy-three years of age.

A "Pin" of Law.

Samuel R. Bullock, Democratic candidate for the office of county clerk of Fayette county, Ky., has filed pending election, and his widow claims the nomination as his heir, the nomination being equivalent to an election and consequently a "valuable consideration." State Attorney Hardin has given the opinion that there is nothing in the laws of the state to forbid her discharging the duties of the office if she is elected to it, and qualifies under the forms of law.

A Clever Hoax.

Sam Davis while engaged on a Valleejo newspaper, wrote a very clever poem, describing the life of Joseph Hitter, a farmer, near that place, and, being masked and using revolvers, tied all the members of the family and then broke open a chest and stole $3,800 in money. They then stole a team and left. It was thought that they came to Cincinnati, but so far they have not been found.

How Jay Gould Escaped Injury.

A farmer named August Johanneyer, living near Rockville, on the Missouri, Kansas & Texas railroad, about seventy miles south of Sedalia, Mo., has been arrested, charged with trying to wreck the special train upon which Jay Gould and party were passing north on Sunday, on the 9th instant. The obstruction was discovered and removed by section men only a few minutes before the train passed. Johanneyer was held in default of $9,000 bail. He said that he had had stock killed by the trains and that his attempt to wreck the train was for revenge.

The Pass System in Iowa.

The lower House of the Iowa Legislature spent the greater part of Friday discussing a resolution of Mr. Aldrich as to free passes. The resolution recites that whereas the system of granting free passes on railroads has grown to gigantic proportions and is viewed with alarm by the people, as it includes judges of the state courts, all officers of the state, both branches of the Legislature and delegates to political conventions and exacts high rates of fare from the masses, the railway commission is required to report to the House by February 15, whether free passes be given to any class except paupers, mendicants or other objects of charity; whether others shall be allowed to accept these favors and whether the railroads shall be restrained from granting them. The resolution passed by a vote of 56 to 40.

A Man Shattered by a Premature Blast.

Near Bowers' Station, Pa., James Smith was killed by a premature explosion at Clymer's stone quarry. A blast had been made for cracking a rocky ledge and a second known as a sand blast had been prepared. There were about twenty-five men at the quarry, but Smith, who approached to light the fuse. The explosion immediately took place. The men went at once back and found Smith's body horribly mangled and completely disemboweled. One of his legs had been torn from the hip and hurled some distance and one of his arms was lying in another part of the quarry. The head was attached to the trunk, but the face was splashed with blood and intestines and the surrounding rocks smeared with blood. The remains were gathered up and conveyed to his home—a mile from the quarry. The deceased was twenty-eight years old, highly esteemed, and leaves a wife and several children.

Killed His Own Child in Anger.

Armistead Grey, a colored man who occupies a house on the premises of Mr. C. Henry Jones, near Cesarstown, Powhatan county, Va., had two children living with him, a son aged thirteen and a girl aged ten. Grey had been complaining of being sick and sent his son to get him five cents worth of molasses. The boy drank half the molasses and fearing punishment filled up the bottle with water, thinking thus to conceal his guilt. Armistead discovered the trick and was so angered that he set upon him with a heavy stick, felled him to the floor, fracturing the skull and producing death in a few hours. The father then carefully removed the clothing from the dead boy and secretly threw Grey was arrested, his little daughter testifying against him. Lynch law is threatened. This is the second murder of this kind that has been committed in Powhatan county recently.

BARRETT'S BRAVERY.

The Actor's Presence of Mind Averts a Great Catastrophe.
At the matinee at the National theatre, Washington, a thrilling episode occurred which fell but little short of another terrible accident. The theatre was crowded to witness Barrett's Rickles. In the third act in the assassination scene, where Rickles enters with a lamp, the flames of the latter caught the crimson curtains at the back as the actor parted them to pass upon the stage. The flames leaped with a flash like burning powder. The tragedian caught the curtains in the middle with his left hand almost as quickly, but the blaze was already beyond his reach. He shifted the burning lamp to his left hand and with right toe the curtain from its fastenings, smothering the flames against his person. The accident and the remedy could not have occupied more than five seconds of time and during that period the immense audience sat spell-bound, paralyzed with the keen sense of danger. There was a roar of applause, round after round in quick succession, such as Barrett never received before. His coolness and presence of mind unquestionably averted what might have been an awful catastrophe. The play proceeded as if nothing had happened.

COLLIDING AT FULL SPEED.

The Disregard of Orders Causes a Railroad Wreck and Loss of Life.
The Southern-bound passenger train on the Charleston & Savannah railroad collided at a point twenty seven miles from Charleston. Both trains were running at full speed, and the engines and mail cars were totally wrecked. Mail Agent H. A. Fox was instantly killed, his head being crushed. Bradley Scott, colored, the fireman of the Southern-bound train, was also killed. His body is still in the wreck. Mail Agent Wm. Burdette had both arms and legs crushed and is expected to die. Superintendent of Mails Service Mansfield is injured in the back. George E. Osborn, colored, postal clerk, and B. H. Craft are seriously but not fatally hurt. Conductor Paekney and Engineer Lecko are slightly hurt. A relief train was sent out as soon as the news was received, and returned in the evening with the wounded men and the body of Fox. None of the passengers were hurt and they have all gone on by their destinations. Both trains were under orders to meet and pass each other at Adams Run Station, but the North-bound train, for some reason not stated, came on before the other train arrived, and the collision resulted.

ATLANTA ABLAZE.

A Fire Which Had Full Sweep for Three Miles.
In Atlanta, Ga., a fire broke out in the fifth story of the candy and cracker factory of F. E. Block. Owing to lack of water the flames gained rapid headway and soon spread to all the adjoining buildings. Seven buildings were destroyed and the losses on stocks and buildings will aggregate half a million dollars. The principal losses are as follows: Joseph E. Brown, building, $38,000, insurance, $20,000; Harry Jackson, building, $30,000, insurance, $16,000; the Wilson house, owned by Gen. J. Wilson, $25,000, insurance $12,000; W. W. Simpson, building, insurance unknown; Mrs. M. E. Hanes' building, $10,000, insurance unknown; Howard, Wood & Co., tobacco, stock, $20,000, covered by insurance; Wellhouse & Son, paper bags, stock, $20,000, insurance, $16,000; John Stevens, groceries, stock, $20,000, insurance not known; L. Cohen & Co., liquors, stock, $25,000, insurance not known; J. K. Merland, groceries, stock, $10,000, insurance not known; Benjamin Bros., groceries, stock and insurance not known; Campbell & Johnson, liquors, stock, $1,000, insurance, $2,000; W. G. Neff & Co., soaps, stock, $3,000, no insurance; A. Haas & Bro., provision brokers, loss slight; Bradstreet's commercial agency occupied the Brown building, and R. G. Dun & Co., occupied the Jackson building, both destroyed. There were many other smaller losses. The fire was not subdued for three hours, during which time it had full sweep at all the buildings in the locality where the fire originated.

A CORPSE MUTILATED BY RATS.

The body identified as that of Charles J. Deacon, Custom House Inspector.
The dead body of a man was found hanging in an old, unoccupied barn on Heg Island, off the Lazaretto, Philadelphia, on Friday morning. The arms and legs of the corpse were badly mutilated by rats and the trunk and face were terribly decomposed, death having evidently taken place weeks ago. The remains were taken to Coroner Quinby's office in Media, where they were yesterday identified as those of Charles J. Deacon of Philadelphia, who mysteriously disappeared a few days before Christmas. Mr. Deacon was for many years an insurance broker, and was for some time a clerk of the Etna insurance company. About eighteen years ago he was made an inspector in the custom house but retained his connection with insurance companies. A few years ago he had several hundred thousand dollars' worth of property, but, becoming interested in stock speculations, lost it all. He was well-known in the Third street "bucket shops," where his salary was swallowed as rapidly as it was made. In December last the books he kept for the insurance company were examined and his cash was found to be short about $500. A few days later he disappeared and was not heard of until Friday, when his body was identified by his son-in-law, Mr. Deacon was fifty years of age and lived by wife and several children in Germantown. His habits were regular and his general reputation good until the errors in his accounts were discovered.

A COLOSSAL RAILWAY SCHEME.

The Eighteen Roads Which are to Form a Network in New Mexico.
President Strong, of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe road, has just returned from New Mexico, and it is now learned that a colossal railway scheme has been organized in New Mexico. The incorporation papers have been filed at Santa Fe. The scheme contemplates the construction of a network of railroads in the south of New Mexico, all tributary to the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe road. The name of the new corporation is the New Mexican railroad company. Eighteen different roads are provided for in the incorporation papers, and each of these has various branches. The incorporators are C. C. Wheeler, C. M. Foulke, George O. Peck, B. Wilder and A. A. Hurt.

The company has a capital stock of $37,000,000, which, the articles state, is not more than is required for the purpose of constructing the various lines of the system. Of this sum $14,555,500 have already been subscribed. The affairs of the company are to be controlled by a board of directors consisting of nine stockholders. The first board consists of the following capitalists and railroad men: H. L. Walden and W. W. Griffin, of Santa Fe; F. A. Manzanare, of Los Vegas; C. W. Wheeler, Albert A. Robinson, George H. Peck, Edward Wilder and A. J. Johnson, of Topeka; W. B. Strong, O. T. Barr and Alden Spiare, of Boston. The roads to be built are of varying length and will penetrate the richest mineral regions in the territory. One route called "Route No. 1" is from Socorro to the northern extreme of the Magdalena mountains, thence to the Gila river and thence to the western boundary of the territory. It will be two hundred and thirty miles in length and will have several branches, one of which will run to the Cochilla Negro and to Robinson city. Another route is to begin near Eagle and run to the Nimbus mountains, terminating at or near Deming.

Buy Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. It cures. To be had at all druggists for 25 cents.

It is the height of folly to wait until you are in bed with disease that may last months, when you can be cured by a timely use of Parker's Ginger Tonic. We have known sickly families made the healthiest, by its use. Write for a free trial bottle.

Frightful Misery.

Mr. Wm. Pomeroy, Bangor, Me., writes: "I have for a long time suffered from continual constipation, making my life a misery, and causing headache and general cramps. Mr. Thompson (who has been lately visiting in Bangor) has recommended Dr. Casper's Syrup. It has perfectly cured me." Price 50 cents. For sale at H. B. Cochran's drug store, 127 North Queen street, Lancaster.

Visible Improvement.

Mr. Noah Bates, Elmira, N. Y., writes: "About four years ago I had an attack of bilious fever, and never fully recovered. My digestive organs were weakened, and I could be completely prostrated for days. After using two bottles of your medicine, however, the improvement was so visible that I was astonished. I can now, though 61 years of age, do a fair and reasonable day's work." Price 50 cents. For sale at H. B. Cochran's drug store, 127 North Queen street, Lancaster.

Small Comfort.

When you are continually coughing night and day, annoying everybody around you, hoping it will go away of its own accord, you are suffering from a cold, or, perhaps, Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, an unfailing remedy in all such cases. For sale at H. B. Cochran's drug store, 127 North Queen street, Lancaster.

MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS.

MUSIC-BOXES.

MUSIC-BOXES.

Closing Out Sale, at cost of production in Switzerland, about 1-2 and 1-4 value here.

Wednesday, January 25, Grand Opening of a large shipment, having arrived too late for the holidays. They are mostly of the large and medium size and, with few exceptions, of superior quality.
