

LANCASTER INTELLIGENCER FRIDAY EVENING, JAN. 27, 1882.

The Philadelphia Evening Telegraph is a consistent independent Republican newspaper. Whatever failings it has in that direction lean to virtue's side.

EVERYBODY seems to have drawn a prize in the lottery of assassination except Guiteau. Well, he may get a halter.

To LET.—A revenue collectorship in Lancaster county. Address, Box "306," White House, Washington, D. C.

"BILLY POLLOCK" has his reward. Where's Andy Kaufman's? ENGLISH butchers are, as a rule, notoriously conservative, while "bakers are Liberal to a man."

THE proposition to revive the franking privilege receives the same comment from all quarters: "Drop it!"

THE Eastern Express thinks that if now ex-Senator Kepner should assume control of the treasury department, it will be absolutely necessary for Mr. Whitelaw Reid to write a confidential letter to President Arthur.

THE New York State association of school commissioners and superintendents is holding its 27th annual session in Albany. Among the papers read and discussed yesterday, was one on "How can the normal schools best serve the state?"

THE Secretary of the Interior has sent to the commissioner of Indian Affairs a letter alleging Mormon complicity in Indian outbreaks in Utah and New Mexico.

THE conference between the Democratic factions at Albany has proved barren of results, neither side being disposed to make concessions, and the dead-lock remains unbroken.

THE Catholic Bishop of Newark, N. J., has revived an old order against incorrigible drunkards in his ecclesiastical jurisdiction, providing that when they have been killed by rum their worthless remains shall not be admitted into the cemeteries.

THE census committee has decided to report to the House the apportionment bill of Mr. McCord, of Iowa, without fixing any number. It is believed 319 will be adopted as the basis, in which event Maine, Vermont, Rhode Island, California and Florida would lose each a representative.

THE editor of the American Law Review, writing at a late stage of the Guiteau trial, says: "We do not know any judge on any bench and we know not a few, north, south, east and west, in the United States who would, on the whole, have fulfilled the grave duties of the judicial trust in the conduct of this trial, and especially in the most difficult task, the judicious treatment of the prisoner, with a more profound and more elevated conception of the true meaning and use of the discretion of the Court than Mr. Justice Cox."

THE LATEST NEWS.

GLEANED FROM THE MORNING PAGES. SOME PHASES OF CURRENT POLITICS. Pollock Gets the Philadelphia Collectorship.

In the United States Senate yesterday Mr. Miller from the committee on foreign relations, reported a bill to "enforce treaty stipulations relating to the Chinese"—that is, to restrict Chinese immigration.

In the House, Mr. Page, from the committee on education and labor, reported a bill to limit Chinese immigration. It was ordered printed and recommitted. The resolution in reference to the confinement of American citizens in British prisons came up as unfinished business and was discussed by Messrs. Robinson and Cox, of New York after which it went over until to-day.

Pollock for Revenue Collector. The president has nominated William J. Pollock to be collector of internal revenue at Philadelphia, and Frank Case, collector of internal revenue at Pittsburgh. It was not expected that either of these offices would be filled until next week.

GAMBETTA RESIGNS.

After a short but exciting debate the government was on Thursday beaten by a majority of fifty-five. In the evening M. Gambetta and his colleagues tendered their resignations. When the deputies assembled in the afternoon the House was packed from floor to ceiling.

By the upsetting of a hall of molten iron, in Wallace H. Brink & Co.'s foundry, at Burlington, Vermont, yesterday afternoon, the building was almost entirely destroyed. All were injured, four severely, and one or two dangerously.

On Tuesday morning the police found in a rear cellar at No. 93 Baxter street, New York, the body of a young lad frozen stiff and dead. The body was found in a box, and the man who had supplied it for shelter from the cold and sheltered there. Thursday it was discovered that the dead lad was fouly murdered, dragged out of the way and robbed.

On Tuesday morning the police found in a rear cellar at No. 93 Baxter street, New York, the body of a young lad frozen stiff and dead. The body was found in a box, and the man who had supplied it for shelter from the cold and sheltered there.

COLUMBIA NEWS.

OUR REGULAR CORRESPONDENCE. Heard from Havana. The party from Columbia who sailed from New York on the steamer "City of Cuba," Mr. and Mrs. J. F. McKim and Mr. Robert Conklin have been heard from.

The tramp question is becoming as monotonous as the old dog tax once turned out. So many of these poor fellows have been arrested for "drunken and disorderly conduct" that our citizens are wondering.

Col. Robinson's Humpty Dumpty in the opera house this evening, and the Witters. Go to the hall early and see the fine performance, its fine. Also help Mr. Witters; he needs all he can get.

After the meeting of the Cyrene commandery last evening, the members adjourned to Prof. Warren's opera saloon to partake of an order supper, which that gentleman and his good wife only know how to get up.

COURT OF COMMON PLEAS.

Cases on Trial and Current Business. BEFORE JUDGE PATTERSON. In the case of Mary A. Williams, for the use of Christopher P. Williams, vs. Michael Weir, the jury rendered a verdict in favor of the plaintiff.

BEFORE JUDGE LIVINGSTON. In the mechanics lien case of John L. Arnold against Mary E. Sanders et al., the defense continues to call witnesses to show that the work was not done as it should be.

BEFORE JUDGE LIVINGSTON. In the mechanics lien case of John L. Arnold against Mary E. Sanders et al., the defense continues to call witnesses to show that the work was not done as it should be.

BEFORE JUDGE LIVINGSTON. In the mechanics lien case of John L. Arnold against Mary E. Sanders et al., the defense continues to call witnesses to show that the work was not done as it should be.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

Looking After the Little Indians. Capt. R. H. Pratt, superintendent of the Indian school at Philadelphia, proposes to give an exhibition in Philadelphia next month, where the workmanship of the Indian boys and girls can be seen and their proficiency in education tested.

Wall Street Kings by Electric Light. Mr. A. L. Rosenstein, the enterprising North Queen street clock-maker, has had prepared in Philadelphia a photograph-plate, representing the styles in gentlemen's dress that will prevail during the coming spring and summer.

Unmistakable Letters. Letters addressed as follows are held at the Lancaster post office: Mr. J. Scott, Workhouse, "Charlottesville, Pittsburgh, Pa." No stamp.

SEEN THROUGH IT.

What a Man of Iron, Not of Straw. Philadelphia Evening Telegraph, Rep. The most earnest supporter of Butler, outside of his own county of Chester, is the Litch-and-his-home organ of Attorney-General Palmer and Governor Hoyt.

LAURETTE COLLEGE CONTINUING DEGREE.

At a meeting of the trustees of Lafayette College, Easton, on Wednesday following honorary degrees were conferred: L. L. D. upon Hon. James P. Sterrett, Associate Judge of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania; D. D. upon Rev. W. Q. Scott, class of '89, president of Ohio State University; Rev. Wallace Radcliffe, last moderator of the Synod of Philadelphia, and Rev. Henry Clay Trumbull, editor of the Sunday School Times, of Philadelphia.

SEVENTY-SEVEN FREE PASSES.

N. Y. Herald. The population of American cities. The proportion between males and females in the cities of the United States exhibited in the recent census bulletins differs so greatly from the average between them in the whole country that the figures are remarkable.

PERSONAL.

Miss Brewster, the daughter of an attorney general, is a graceful young woman, with delicate features and brunette complexion. She wears becoming costumes of ruby color at her mother's request.