SERIOUS SATURDAY NIGHT BRAWL.

ne Man Bangerously and Two Others slightly Wounded—The Stabber in Jail On Saturday evening a young man named Charles Carr was dangerously stabled in the abdomea, Charles Spillinger in the elbow and Walter Myers in the hand, the cutting being done on South Queen street, near Vine, by a young man named Michael Gompf, residing at No.

419 Beaver street.

The facts, as stated by the young men who were cut, are substantially as follows: The young men named and Jack Weidler were in the restaurant under the Law Building, corner of Grant and Duke streets, drinking with a woman named Ann Henry. Michael Gompf and a companion named Reinhart entered the saloon and after speaking a few words with the woman left the saloon in her company. Weidler, who was intoxicated, took offense at their interference and followed them, and the others followed him. as they allege, "to see fair play." Gompf, Reinhart and the woman walked down Duke street to East King, and down East King to Centre Square, where they en'ered Zaepfel's saloon, Weither and his party remaining outside. On coming out of the salom Reinhard dealt Weidler a blow with a blackjack and knocked him down. Reinhart and the woman then ran off in one direction and Gompf in another. He was followed by Carr, Spillinger, Myers and others. The wounded men say that as they came up with Gompf he slashed backward with a knife, cutting Spillinger in the elbow. When in front of Daisz's store Gompf fell and the others rushed in on him. He brandished his kaife foriously and succeeded in cutting Myers in the wrist, and inflicting a fearful gash in Carr's abdo men. Regaining his feet he took to his neels and escaped.

Carr was carried to the office of Dr. M. L. Herr, where his wound was examined He was found to have a great gash out in his abdomen, through which the omentum, the membrane enclosing the lower intestines, protradel. This was pushed back to its place, the wound closed, and the sufferer removed to his home on West King street, where he lies in a rather critical condition. Spillinger's wounds was also dressed by

Dr. Henr; Myers's by Dr. Boyd. Gompi's Statement.

Gompi kept himslf concealed until lass evening, when, bearing that a warrant had been issued for his arrest, he called at the station house and surrendered himself to the police. He acknowledges the catting, but claims that it was done purely in selfdefence. He says that he and Reinhart each accompanied by a woman, cam up street together. His woman left him and he, along with Reinhart and Miss Henry went into Ransing's saloon under the Law Building. After taking a drink, Gompf and Reinbart left the woman in the saloon while they went out to attend to some business matters. On their return they found Jack Weidler and some others drinking beer with the woman. Compt and Reinhart took the woman away, as they had brought her to the saloon. They had not gone far until they found Weidler Carr, Spillinger, Myers and others following them and making threats.

They walked to C ntre square, and Gompf being afraid of the crowd, he and appoint, each, two colleagues from among Reinhart went into Zaenfel's saloon to see if any of their friends were there. Reinhart came out first and became engaged in a quarrel with Weidler, whom he knocked down. Weidler was soon reinforced by a targe party of his triends, among them being Charles Spillinge, who had his coat off. Reinhart and Gompf, seeing that they were outnumbered, took to their heels with the girl, and ran down South Queen street, closely followed by a large crowd. Gompi says that one of the mea hat him with his fist, knocking him down. When he was down the crowd began kicking him. In self-defense he then drew his knife and began cutting. but did not know whem he cut, as all he could do was to strike at random while lying on the pavement. When the crowd fell back he ran to his home and gave himself up as soon as he found that a warrant had been issued for his arrest. Reinhart on South Queen street began, and they were not in it. This morning Gompf was committed to jail, in default of bail, by Alderman A. F. Donnelly, to await the result of Carr's injuries and for entting Spillinger. Carr's Condition.

but he is not yet out of danger. The stab is between the pinth and tenth ribs.

COURT OF COMMON PLEAS. Second Week-Some Cases Finished.

The case of John L. Arneld vs. Mary E. Sanders and Dr. R. T. Sanders, owners, and Wm. North, contractor, was given to the jury on Saturday afternoon at 5 o'clock. After being out about a half hour they returned, rendering a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $966.05. This morning the second week of common pleas court began, with Judge Patterson presiding. When the list was called it was found that of the 30 cases down for trial 15 were ready, the others having been settled or continued. In the case of John Smith (carpenter)

vs. Mary Ideal, administratrix of Jacob Ideal, deceased, and Mary Ideal, terre tenant, alias sci. fa. mortgage, a verdict was taken in favor of the plaintiff for The case of Nathaniel Firestone vs. Leander Lindemuth, was settled. The first case attached for jury trial was that of David B. Burkholder and Annie B. Burkholder vs. Hiram H. Helman and Martha Helman, summons in slander. The defendants were not present in court nor were they represented by counsel. At a previous term the case was continued because they had no counsel. They were notified that the case would be disposed of at this term. A number of witnesses were called and they testified that Mrs. Helman had upon different occasions circulated reports to the effect that Mrs. Burkholder had at different times committed adultery. The damages at first were for $5,000, but counsel for plaintiff said they would be satisfied with a verdict in their favor for $500. The jury rendered a verdict in favor of the plaintiffs for $1,000.

Opinions Delivered. Judge Patterson delivered opinions in the following cases.

Christian Wanner, deceased, estate. Exceptions to auditors' report. Exceptions dismissed and report confirmed absolutely. John Reinhold and Leah Reinhold, his wife, assigned estate. Excertions to auditors' report. All the exceptions to both reports were dismissed and reports con- having no visible means of support, were firmed absolutely.

Cases Continued. All the cases in court in which J. Hay Brown, esq., was interested were continued to day, as Mr. Brown was compelled to go to Clearfield, having received a dis-patch that a child of his sister, Mrs. Ramey, Monthly Meeting of the Linn:can Society. At the regular meeting of the Linnwan society, on Saturday, the following donations were made :

A fine specimen of the "Frog-fish'

(Batrachus tau), six inches in length, from Mr. Frank Mettfett, through Mr. Daniel Heitshu; received from Baltimore in a cargo of oysters, and was still alive when it arrived in Lancaster, althought it must have been out of water several days. Eight specimens of the "seventeen year cicada") Cicada septemdecim), in the pupal form, by Geo. O. Hensel, florist, East Orange street, dug out of the ground, eighteen inches below the surface, and about four feet from the outside wall of Mr. H's. greenhouse, on the 13th of January, alive when received by the curators. Prof. Riley is of the opinion that they be long to his brood No. 8, and will appear the "coming summer."

A beautiful specimen of Wilson's thrush (Turdus fusceceus), found in a dying condition in East Orange street, in November ast, by W. De C. Rathvon. As this bird usually migrates in September or the beginning of October, it must have been deceived by the pleasant autumn weather, and was suddenly overcome by cold.

A very perfect Indian implement, found on a small island in the Susquehanna river, near Safe Harbor, by Mrs. A. H. Reist, of No. 119 South Queen street, through Mr. William Rochm. This relic of the red man is of an unusual form, and was probably used in "barking" trees, or in skinning large animals, or both.

Specimens of "Georgia cotton" (Gossypium herbaceum) by Mr. J. J. Sprenger, of Rome, Georgia. Height of plant, four feet six inches; spread, three feet, and contained one hundred and twenty bolls, represented as an average of the plants in he field where it grew.

Fine specimens of "Sponge" (Spongie ---) gathered on Nantucket Beach, last summer, by D. Maxwell, of Baltimore. One specimen is of a very delicate and uncommon form. Library.

During the last week some thieves have been helping themselves to some of our citizens' meat and fowls. One night they with the woman got away before the fight | paid a visit to John Marsh's hen-roost and relieved it of one dozen large chickens, and on Thursday night, between nine and ten o'clock, they made a raid on Michael Wise's, while he was in town, and took therefrom the meat of four large hogs. They gained an entrance by breaking a pane of glass and then raising the sash. ST. MARY'S CHURCH.

During the 10 o'clock mass at St. Mary's Catholic church, yesterday morn ing, Rev. J. C. Hickey, the pastor, announced that it was the last mass he would fill the vacancy made by Miss Linville at serve as the pastor of the congregation, the primary school. She will take the bishop of the diocese having called serve as the pastor of the congregation, him to a position in the pro-cathedral at Harrisburg. In a brief interview had with Father Hickey, he told a representative of the INTELLIGENCER that he did not as yet know to what position he would be assigned at Harrisburg ; nor did he know who would be appointed to the pasterate of St. Mary's. In answer to a remark that it was rumored the bishop would remove his See to Lancaster, and that Father Hickey was to be made his assistant, Father Hickey said be had heard of no such intention on his part, and did not believe it to be so. All that he knew was that at his own suggestion the pastoral relation has been severed and the bishop had directed him to report to Harrisburg. St. Mary's Fair.

During the mass yesterday Father Hickey also announced that a ladies' fair for the benefit of the church would commence on Easter Monday. The proceeds of the fair will be applied to the completion of the new school building and sisters' home; and it is necessary that these be have no suitable quarters, they having given up their parlors and community room for the use of the schools. For the purpose of devising measures for the Elmer alias "Buz" Hulsinger and speedy completion of the new building a ongregational meeting will be held at the next at 8 o'clock. Father Hickey hopes his manliness by whipping a colored girl extends a special invitation to the lady members to be present.

WEATHER INDICATIONS. WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 3C .- For the Middle Atlantic states slightly warmer partly cloudy weather, probably followed by snow during the night, westerly winds shifting to northeast and southeast and falling barometer.

NICHOLS' NOMINATION.

The Norfolk Postmaster's Commission and How the President Came to Sign it.

Nichols was sent to the Senate as postmaster at Norfolk, Va. This renomination of Mr. Nichols was not the intentional act of the president, nor was it known by the postmaster general or the first assistant. The president's attention being called to t he was greatly surprised, the nomnation having been unwittingly signed by him with many others. The postmaster general and his first assistant found that a clerk in the department had prepared the nomination without any authority and handed it in with others he had been directed to make out. The president at once directed the withdrawal of the nomination, not because he had changed his mind, but because it was not his act, but only that of either a very sharp or a very dull clerk. An investigation is to be had of the matter and it is not likely that there will be any more nominations made by the same jury exonerated young Thomas. CONGRESS.

Proceedings in the Senate. WASHINGTON, Jan. 30 .- In the Senate Mr. Edmunds reported favorably from the judiciary committee, with an amendment,

Senate bill re-establishing the court of commissioners on Alabama claims. He stated that the committee recommended payment out of moneys received from Great Britian of the losses by what is known as the "exculpated cruisers"nothing else. The bill and proposed amendments were ordered to be printed separately.

THE GUITEAU CASE. Corkbill Defending the Jury's Integrity. WASHINGTON, Jan. 30,-In the crimina court this morning the district attorney applied to the court to fix a day for hearing of arguments upon the motion for a new trial in the Guiteau case. With regard to accusations against the jury the district attorney said he could show the signatures on the margin of the Evening Critic to be a clever attempt at forgery. It was agreed that the jury should be present in court on Friday, and then the matter went over for the present. WASHINGTON, Jan., 30-It is stated with much positiveness that President Davis of the Senate will vote for the admission of Daketa into the Union. His vote will give the Republicans a majority. MARKETS.
