SATURDAY EVENING, FEB. 4, 1862.

GARFIELD.

By Mrs. Ellen Key Biunt (A niece of Francis Scott Key, resident in Wales) How beautiful it was to die as he has died, Making a calm around him by the force Of his great soul, commanding peace from strife. And changing all the discord into rest-A heavenly music heard as life departs !

How wonderful it was that the accursed hate Which smote him brought torth only loyal Like to some holy bell that being struck

Resounds with wondrous sweetness, sound

Through all the spaces to eternity. How noble was his doubtless fortitude

Which, as he lay expiring, day by day, Made him almost control his destiny, And look upon his torture with a smile

As his life wasted, in great patience, wonder His watchers watched him. They were

Of his own people, but his watchers were the world. From far-off shores and seas with pitiful Sad yearnings toward him as his star went down.

Nine times ten million souls in his own tongue Prayed to the Almighty for his single life: But he had risen too near to heaven in his great flight To stoop again to earth, and so God took him Like a star folded in more perfect light.

And he is dead, and multitudes have com-To his dead presence, and, with solemn car Moving in silence to the measured strain He loved, in mournful sweet monotony Repeated as they bore him step by step Through harvest fields of ripening tradder grain

They laid him reverently, gently down Where all the sheaves of earth are gathered a the last.

Upon his pulseless form are righly piled Wreaths, garlants, of the late yet lavish Of the perfected summer, with the exquisite thrill

Of life so fresh upon their shining leaves Banners are furled aroun I him, and the flag We love droops mourning o'er the mourning hand

And from afar beyond our land and lakes,

From the great world that watched him wonderingly Come kind farewells and tender sympathic Pity has told her tale in every tongue And kings have claimed him comrate, hand in brand. Fame has recorded him. Love has rewarded him,

Mother, wife, children and people wept over him. England accounted him

Kindred by blood. All that are great and good Have as his mourners stood

While he lay, day by day, passing away A Queen sends comforting words of cheer, And flowers to fade on his bloody bier,

God save the Queen when her last hour i near ! The North was his by birth,

The South is lds by death ! He conquered by suffering grandly borne Our long cherished strites; they are gone and

Standing together we look on his pale dead To whom we had given, the elected, a pow more great

Than any king's. Together we revere The majesty with which he laid it down At God's command. Together we shall love His memory, and each other for his sake. And for the heart so high that it " could hate

God rest him! He has rested him! Nothing can " hurt " him more. " Nothing can touch him further."

More than a king he lies With the strong blaze of the world's homage Full on his closed eyes.

American, born in the forest, The great lake for him sighs, . And England, crowned and sceptered, Loves him as he dies, He fought in the deathly valley

From morn till the set of sun, Till eighty days had run, Then be folded his arms And his day was done.

Oh, the bloom is off of the prairie. The butterfly's change is begun. The pine cone flowers eternal, The eagle has soared to the sun!

Skill in the Workshop.

To do good work the mechanic must have good heath. If long hours of confinement in close rooms have enfectied his hand or dimmed his sight, let him at once, and before some organic trouble appears, take plenty of Hop Bitters. His system will be rejuvenated, his nerves strengthened, his sight become clear, and the whole constitution be built up to a higher working condition.

An Entire Success. It has been proved by the most reliable testimony that Thomas' Eclectric Oil is an entire success in curing the most inveterate cases of rheumatism, neuralgia, lame back and wounds of every description. For sale at II. B. Cochran's drug store, 137 North Queen street, Lancaster.

Incredible. F. A. Seratch, druggist, Ruthwen, Oat. writes: "I have the greatest confidence in your Burdock Blood Bitters, In one case with which I am personally acquainted their success was almost incredible. One lady told me cess was almost increscible. One lady told me that half a bottle did her more good than hun-dreds of dollars' worth of medicine side had previously taken." Price $1. For sale at 11. B. Cochran's drug store, 137 North Queen St., Lancaster.

Mrs. Ogden, N. Division street, Buffalo, says
"I cannot be too thankful that I was induced to try your Spring Blossom. I was at one time afraid I should never be able to get out again.
I seemed to be a second edition of Job without his patience: my face and body were one vast collection of boils and pimples; since taking one bottle of your Spring Blossom I am quire cured, all cruptions have disappeared, and I leel better than I baye in a long time." Price 50 cents. For sale at H. B. Cochran's drug store, 137 North Queen street, Lancaster. Second Edition of Job.

A remedy with such a reputation as Hostetter's Stomach Bitters deserves a fair frial. If you are dyspeptic, your malady will eventually yield to it; if you are feeble, lack flesh and feel despondent, it will both build and cheer you up: if you are constipated, it will relieve, and it bilious, healthfully stimulate your liver. Don't despond, but make this effort in the right direction.

Brandy as a Medicine. The following article was voluntarily sent to Mr. II. E. Slaymaker, Agent for Reigart's old Wine Store, by a prominent practising physician of this county, who has extensively used the Brandy referred to in his regular practice. It is commended to the attention of those attention with Indigestion and Dyspepsia.

BRANDY AS A MEDICINE. This now much abused Alcoholic Stimulant was never intended as a beverage, but to be used as a medicine of great potency in the cure of some of the destructive diseases which sweep away their annual thousands of victims.

With a number additional thousands of victims. sent to the favorable notice of invalidscially those afflicted with that miserable dis-

Brandy. The agest, with feeble appetite and more or less debility, will find this simple medicine, when used properly, A Sovereign Remedy or all their ills and aches. Be it, however strictly understood that we prescribe and use but one article, and that is REIGART'S OLD BRANDY, Sold by our enterprising young friend, it is SLAYMAKER. This Branely has shoot the test for years, and has never failed, as far as our experience extends, and we therefor give it the preference over all other Brandics nomatter with how many jaw-breaking French titles they are brandled. One-fourth of the money that is yearly thrown away on various impotent dyspepsla specifics would suffice to buy all the Brandy to cure any such case of ases. In proof of the curative powers of

Reigart's Old Brandy,

In cases of Dyspepsia, we can summon numbers of witnesses—one case in particular we A hard-working farmer had been addition with an exhaustive Dyspepsia for a number of years; his stomach would reject almost every kind of food; he had sour cructations constantly—no appetite—in fact, he was obliged to restrict his diet to crackers and stale bread, and as a beverage he used McGrann's Root Beer. He is a Methodist, and then, as now preached at times, and in his discourses often declaimed earnestly against all kinds of strong drink. When advised to try

Reigart's Old Brandy, Reigart's Old Brandy,
In his case, he looked up with astenishment, but after hearing of its wonderful effects in the cases of some of his near acquaintances, he at last consented to follow our advice. He used the Brandy faithfully and steadily; the first bottle giving him an appetite, and before the second was taken he was a sound man, with a stomach capable of digesting anything which helphose to eat. He still keeps it and uses a little occasionally; and since he has this needicine he has been of very little pecuniary benefit to the doctor.—A Practising Physician.
