The latter, in his affidavit of defense, avers that the check was obtained by a bunko operation from Isaac L. Baer, of the firm of Baer & Bro., to whom he gave it as a business transaction. Mr. Baer, who is of Lancaster, was approached while in this city in July, 1880, by a man who said that he had just come from Washington, where he had won five hundred dollars in a lottery. He induced Mr. Baer to visit a house somewhere in town -he thinks it was in Decatur street-and join in a pleasant game of cards. After playing a little while Baer was delighted

He accordingly planked down Pritchett's check, Soon after that he was told that his winnings amounted to $1,000. More commissions were expected. Baer, who had very little cash, hurried around to Pritchett's office to borrow The county commissioners hear the apsome. The latter who had been in from the country for several years, knocked the bottom out of his friend's exultation by alleging that the gain was moonshine and the players very substantial swindlers. Such, Pritchett avers, turned out to be the case and the operators got off with the check. Pritchett paid the check, he claims, to Bacr, receiving a bond protecting him against loss in so doing, and pubticly gave warning to the public in regard to the check. He says that the check was traced to two or three persons but he can-

BEFORE JUDGE LIVINGSTON :

Dr. Thomas B. Cox vs. Henry Kraber, administrator c. t. a. of Margaret Bier, deceased. This is an action to recover $926.60 pay for medical services rendered the deceased by the plaintiff during her lifetime. Miss Bier for many years resided on South Queen street and was always in delicate health. She diod in May, 1881, at the advanced age of 80 years. The plaintiff occupied a portion of her house as an office and was her phy sician. He attended her from August, 1879, to May, 1881, especially in the latter year, when he visited her daily, and claims that he was not paid. To recover the money this suit is brought.

The defense is that the plaintiff's bill is too high by far, and it is claimed that he did not make as many visits as he claims on professional business, but that he often dropped in to see the deceased to chat with her and then charged for it ; that a settlement was had between them up to November, 1880, since which time only they admit they owe him for professional services. The jury found in favor of made of animal products. the plaintiff for $507.

In the case of Jacob Reeser vs. John N. Plank the defense amended their plea and the plaintiff plead surprise, whereupon the case was continued. REFORE JUDGE PATTERSON.

Aaron Mehaffy vs. Henry S. Herr. This was an action of replevin to recover a lot of tobacco valued at $276. According to the plaintiff's testimony it appeared that Joseph Herr obtained judgment against Aaron Mehaffy for $100. He had exe-cution issued and the tobacco in question was sold by a constable. Henry S. Herr was the purchaser at $5. The tobacco plaintiff alleged belonged to him exclasively

The defense was that the tobacco in question belonged to Aaron Mehaffy and as such was levied upon, sold and purchas-ed by Henry S. Herr, the defendant.
