The Mulberry Tree.

How it is Cultivated by Mennonite lumi-grants in Nebraska. Correspondence of the Press, Bower, Neb.

I live near a colony of Mennonites, who emigrated to this country from Russia about seven years ago. The mulberry was introduced into their colonies in Russia by the Cza, for the purpose of silk culture and to facilitate rain fall. He compelled his subjects to buy trees of the government, and each landholder had to plant a certain number. They soon learn ed their value, and that silk culture was not the only consideration in raising thera. They found the timber very desirable for fuel. It also furnished the finest material for cabinet work, and fence posts made from it would outlast those made from any other timber. The tree soon became the most highly prized of any Russian timber tree. It also bore edible fruit which was very marketable in Russia. When the Menuonites came to this country they fetched the seed of this tree with them. The mulberry grows quite rapidly. Trees, the seed of which was planted six years ago, are now twenty feet high, and large enough for fence posts. The tree resembles the apple tree in its habits of growth. The Russians say that they grow quite large after reaching the height of fifty or sixty feet, and from three to five feet in diameter. It bears fruit very young, frequently commencing when two years old, and bears every year. Last year the trees were densely loaded with fruit, and the farmers came several miles they have permanently cured thou ands. to purchase this fruit for dessert. It varies in flavor from sub acid to sweet ; color jet black and reddish white, ninety per cent, being black. As the tree is difterent from any mulberry we know in this country, we call it "Russian mulberry." The bark is grayish white and branches drooping. The Mennenites also use it as a hedge plant, and it makes a beautiful hedge and stands shearing as well as any tree. Prof. Budd, of the Iowa agricultural college, says it is propagated more readily from cuttings than any mulberry with which he is acquainted. The Mennonites have interested themselves in the silk business somewhat since they have been in this country, and have some cocoons for sale.

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL DRUGGIST, No. 9 East King Street, Lancaster. DEIGART'S OLD WINE STORE. Brandy as a Medicine.

The following article was voluntarily sent to Mr. H. E. Slaymaker, Agent for Reigart's Old Wine Store, by a prominent practising physician of this county, who has extensively used the Brandy referred to in his regular practice. It is commended to the attention of those allighted with Indigestion and Dyspepsia.

BRANDY AS A MEDICINE. This now much abused Alcoholic Stimulant was never intended as a beverage, but to be was never intended as a overlage, but to be used as a medicine of great potency in the cure of some of the destructive diseases which sweep away their annual thousands of victims, With a purely philanthropic motive we pre-sent to the favorable notice of invalids—espe-cially those afflicted with that miserable dis-ease Dysneyals a specific remody which is ease Dyspepsia, a specific remedy, which is nothing more or less than

Brandy. The aged, with feeble appetite and more or less debility, will find this simple medicine, when used properly, A Sovereign Remedy or all their ills and aches. Be it, however strictly understood that we prescribe and use but one article, and that is

REIGART'S OLD BRANDY, Sold by our enterprising young friend, II E. SLAYMAKER. This Brandy has stood the test for years, and has never failed, as far as our experience extends, and we therefore give it the preference over all other Brandies, no matter with how many jaw-breaking French, titles they are branded. One-fourth of the money that is yearly thrown away on various impotent dyspepsia specifics would suffice to buy all the Brandy to cure any such case of ases. In proof of the curative powers of

Reigart's Old Brandy,

In cases of Dyspepsta, we can summon num bers of witnesses—one case in particular we A hard-working tarmer had been afficted with an exhaustive Dyspepsia for a number of years; his stomach would reject almost every kind of food; he had sour eructations conkind of food; he had sour eructations con-stantly—no appetite—in fact, he was obliged to restrict his diet to crackers and stale bread, and as a beverage he used McGrann's Root Beer. He is a Methodist, and then, as now preached at times, and in his discourses often declaimed earnestly against all kinds of strong drink. When advised to try Reigart's Old Brandy, in his case, he looked up with astonishment but after hearing of its wonderful effects in the cases of some of his near acquaintances, he the cases of some of his near acquaintances, he at last consented to follow our advice. He used the Brandy faithfully and steadily; the first bottle giving him an appetite, and before the second was taken he was a sound man, with a stomach capable of digesting anything which helchose to eat. He still keeps it and uses a little occasionally; and since he has this medicine he has been of very little pecuniary benefit to the doctor.—A Practising Physician.
