OUR REGULAR CORRESPONDENCE

The annual ball, held by the Shawnee fire company, in the armory last evening, was the largest ever given by them. It was and was not a success. Michael Thomas, jr., accompanied by a lady from Lancaster, led the grand march, with fiftyseven couple following. About twentythree other couples were seated around the sides, not wishing to participate in the march. Lancaster was represented by twelve couples; Marietta by five, and number of persons were present from adjacent towns. The committeemen tried hard to make it pleasant for all, but failed, as liquor got the better of some present ; so much so, in fact, that at about 11 o'clock a regular riot was started in the entry and out on the pavement. Blood flowed in profusion, and this morning the front of the armory presents the appearance of a bloody battle field. Black eyes, swelled beads, cut faces, etc., are numberless. The whole affair was the most disgraceful ever seen in Columbia. Not for a moment are the members of the Shawnee company blamed for the fight. It was started at Desch's saloon, where the men had been taking refreshments, by a party of haugers-on, who belong to no fire company. In fact it is this Two of their men after drinking their fill attempted to go into the armory without tickets. They were ejected, then cursed the whole company. Some outsiders interfered and tried to keep them quiet and the fight started. The members of the Shawnee attempted to part them and restore quiet, but without avail ; the fight then became general. The Shawnee boys deserve a great deal of credit for their impartial treatment to all, especially visitors. A policeman had been present at the opening of the fight, but thought discretion the better part of valor. Brave man that he was he fled. He is trying to get re-clected at the coming election.

Mrs. Dr. Given, of Baltimore county, Md., is visiting Mrs. Henry Suydam. About 4 o'clock yesterday two young boys named Booth and Gable were playing with a railroad cap, which exploding, cut an ugly gash in the arm of Booth. Gable's clothes were torn by the flying pieces, but otherwise he was not injured. lacob English was also hurt in the same manner last evening. His arm was terribly lacerated.

A tramp by the name of Isaac West was attacked last evening by some unknown persons, who, after beating him badly, robbed him of $20.

A FINE CONCERT.

Continental Vocalists in the Court Bouse. One of the very best quartet concerts ever given in Laucaster was that of the Continental vocalists, for the benefit of the free soup house. The several pieces of the programme which will be foun | below, were all admirably rendered. Prof. A. W. Woodward, the leader, was never in better voice, and sang the bass parts with remarkable power and finish. Miss Alice Troyer, the soprano, sang very sweetly, the Cuckoo song being loudly applauded. Miss Minnie Sehner, who has gained an enviable reputation as a contralto singer, surpassed any of her previous efforts. Of Prof. Hall's vocalism it is not necessary to speak. He is acknowledged everywhere to stand in the front rank of tenors. At short notice he took the place of Mr. the opera house to-night, with mechanical and spectacular accompaniments that are pro-Mowery, who was prevented by illness from attending, and received the plaudits of the audience. Prof. F. W. Haas played accompaniments to the several pieces in his usual finished style. The spanish ballod "No Sir" and the "Laughing trio" were honored by double encores. Here is the programme :
