MYERS & BATHFON,

THE TWO VILLAGES. SUPPOSED AUTHOR THEODORE G'HARA.

Over the river on the hill Lieth a village white and still. All around it the forest trees Shiver and whisper in the breeze. Over it sailing shadows go Ot soaring hawk and screaming crow; And mountain grasses, low and sweet. Grow in the midst of every street

Over the river under the hill Another village lieth still. There I see in the cloudy night Twinkling stars of household light : Fires that gleam from the smithy's door Mists that curi on the river shore And in the road no grasses grow For wheels that travel to and tro.

In that village on the hill Never is sound of smithy or mill: The houses are thatched with grass an flowers:

Never a clock to toll the hour: The marble doors are always shut-You cannot enter hall or hut. All the villages lie in sleep. Never again to sow or reap, Never in dreams to moan or sign silent, and idle, and low they lie

In that viliage under the hill, When the night is starry and still. Many a weary soul in prayer Looks on the other village there. And weeping and sighing longs to go Up to that home from this below-Longs to sleep in the forest wild, Whither have vanished wife or child: And heareth, praying, this answer tall Patience, that village shall hold ye all.

When to Plant Corn.

Pormerly almost every farmer was anx ious to get his corn planted the last week in April or the first week in May. One of the principal reasons for this was that it was less liable to be injured by the grub and wireworm on account of its early growth. Another was that in case of the seed rotting or the plant being damaged from any cause, there would be plenty of time to replant. A trial of this method has not resulted successfully, as it is found that early planted corn is frequently delayed in sprouting by unfavorable weather; and when it does make its appearance it is yellow and stunted, and sometimes does not recover. Whereas by planting from the tenth to the twentieth of May the ground is sure to be warm and adapted to early germination, the seed starts to sprout at once and comes up strong and healthy. To combat enemies, six grains should be placed in each hill, properly separated, and then, should the plants es cape injury from the grub and wireworm by the use of salt placed around the hill after the corn is up, remove the plants above three. Again, farmers are begineach hill, they soldom are disappointed of a good crop, if well attended to. We have known a good crop of Datton 29th of the month, and produced a satisfactory crop, contrary to the anticipations of many people who witnessed the planting and watched the growing of the crop. We do not remember the number of bush els it produced to the acre, but we should have estimated it between tifty and sixty. At any rate, too early planting is risking more than the farmer should be willing to risk in the face of so many disappoint-

Five Days on a Wreck.

Two Cans of Condensed Milk the Only Food of Five Men-Two Men Lost.

The brig Jennie Morton, Capt. Granger, from Wilmington, with lumber, sprang a leak in a gale off Lookout Shoals on Feb. 4, and filled rapidly. At night she fell into the trough of the sea and turned over on her side. The men lashed themselves to the chain plates, all but William Loos, whose arm had been broken at the shoul der by a sea. He was washed off and drowned. At 2 a. m. the ship righted, but the sea broke over her continually. At 10 a. m. the steward, George Knowles, died of exposure. Deck load, rudder, upper spars, houses, provisions and water had all been swept away, and the men had no shelter.

Next day they found two cans of con densed milk. There were five of them teft. They lived on the condensed milk four days. On the 9th they managed to evening of that day came on a ship hove in sight and sent a boat to them. The wind was a gale, and the waterlogged brig was going to pieces fast. It was hard and dangerous work getting the five survivors into the boat.

The rescuing ship was the Jessie Burrill, of Liverpool, Capt Churchill. Mate William Bell and Second Mate Mandell Crocker went with the boat's crew to the brig. The Jessie Burrill arrived at New York yesterday.

How Carpenter's Name was Changed. Senator Cameron's Eulogy.

He was christened by his parents "De catur Merritt Hammond," and was com-monly called "Merritt" Carpenter until sub-equent to his removal to Wisconsin In 1851, after he had argued a cause in court with extraordinary tearning and ability, one of his associates enthusiastic ally declared that the argument was worthy of Sir Matthew Hale, and that its author ought no longer to be called "Merritt" Carpenter, but should be named "Matthew Hale" Carpenter. This declaration struck the imagication of the lawyers present, and thereafter they called their eloquent young associate "Matthew Hale." So generally was the name of "Matthew Hale" applied to him that he was actually constrained to adopt it, and thus "Dacatur Merritt Hammond" Car penter, of Vermont, became "Matthew Hale" Carpenter, of Wisconsin.

[It is rather remarkable that ex-Presi dent Grant's real name was "Hiram Ulysses" and not "Ulysses Simpson;" and that Henry Wilson's real name was Jeremiah Colbraith.

GREENE IS truly sorry to leave his numerous friends and patients, his excellent home in the Stevens House and his beautiful offices for another city, but he believes he has a mission to fulfil, viz: The establishment of a college where OMNIPATHY can be taught to the hundreds who are anxiously waiting, and hence.

MEDICAL.

ABOUT THE MIDDLE OF MARCH will open an office either in Harrisburg or Washington. He believes his income is equal to any four M. Ds. in Lancaster, and he will for a reasonable sum teach one M. D. all his methods of curing the sick and teave his practice exclusively with him. Dr. G. will be glad to have anyone call or send and get four pamphlets free, with rames of persons made well, who were affected with Dyspepsia, Consumption, diseases of the heart, brain and other parts of the body. One of the pamphlets contains a concise history of vaccination and another of Catarrh, with names of persons cured. Over five hundred persons cured of Catarrh in this city for 50 cents. The Cure

Brandy as a Medicine.

Indigestion and Dyspepsia. BRANDY AS A MEDICINE. BRANDY AS A MEDICINE.

This now much abused Alcoholic Stimulant was never intended as a beverage, but to be used as a medicine of great potency in the cure of some of the destructive diseases which sweep away their annual thousands of victime.

With a purely philanthropic motive we present to the favorable notice of invalids—especially those afflicted with that miscrable disease Dyspepsia, a specific remesty, which is nothing more or less than

then used properly, A Sovereign Remedy REIGART'S OLD BRANDY, Reigart's Old Brandy,

cite:—
A hard-working farmer had been afficted with an exhaustive Dyspepsia for a number of years; his stomach would reject almost every kind of food; he had sour eructations constantly—uo appetite—in fact, he was obliged to restrict his diet to crackers and stale bread, and as a beverage he used McGrann's Root Beer. He is a Methodist, and then, as now preached at times, and in his discourses often declaimed carnestly against all kinds of strong drink. When advised to try

Mr. H. E. Slaymaker, Agent for Reigart's Ont Wine Store, by a prominent practising physi-cian of this county, who has extensively used the Brandy referred to in his regular practice. It is commended to the attention of those at-flicted with Brandy. The aged, with feeble appetite and more or use debility, will find this simple medicine, or all their ills and aches. Be it, however strictly understood that we prescribe and use but one article, and that is REIGART'S OLD BRANDY, Sold by our enterprising young friend, if E SLAYMAKER. This Brandy has stood the test for years, and has never failed, as ha as our experience extends, and we therefore give it the preference over all other Brandies, no matter with how many jaw-breaking French titles they are branded. One-fourth of the money that is yearly thrown away on various impotent dyspepsia specifies would suffice to buy all the Brandy to cure any such case of asses. In proof of the curative powers of

Baigart's Old Brandy

In cases of Dyspepsia, we can summon num bers of witnesses—one case in particular we
