

Lancaster Intelligencer.

FRIDAY EVENING, FEB. 24, 1882.

Eleven and Fourteen.

The Number in Two Families that Arrived on Two Steamships from New York.

The cabin passenger list of two European steamships that arrived to day have singular features. Probably each bears the names of families larger in number than any other families that have before left the Old World to make their homes in this country, and it is considered a strange coincidence that both should reach here on the same day. On the Inman steamship city of Montreal were Mr. Richard Christy, Mrs. Christy, Mrs. Christy, Miss Susanna Christy, Miss Lottie Christy, Master Charles Christy, Miss E. A. Christy, Miss Florence Christy, Miss Alice Christy, Master Ernest Christy, Miss Eleanor Christy, Master Bernard Christy, Miss Ethel Christy, Master George Christy.

Mr. Richard Christy is a native of England. Since reaching the age of manhood he has owned and operated a grist mill in Leicester, whose motive power was a peculiar windmill of his own invention. His bachelor home, however, he had years ago, and engaged in mercantile pursuits in Philadelphia. The miller sold his property in Leicester, and has removed here at his brother's request. The family will settle in the City of Brotherly Love.

Mr. Christy has two children buried in the graveyard at Lancaster.

By the White Star steamship Britannic came the following: Mr. Saly Raunheim, Mrs. Saly Raunheim, Master Julius Raunheim, Miss Julia Raunheim, Miss Matilda Raunheim, Miss Nancy Raunheim, Miss Nellie Raunheim, Master Leon Raunheim, Master Morris Raunheim, Master Emanuel Raunheim, Master Arnold Raunheim and servant.

Mr. Raunheim left Frankfurt on the Main two years ago, and upon arriving in this country engaged in business in Montana as superintendent of a copper mine. Fortunate speculations in mining stocks showed such handsome figures on the profit side of his ledger that he decided to bring his family here. They will remain in New York until acclimated, and then leave for Montana.

About Peaches.

Germanium Telegraph.

Edwin Satterthwaite, of Jenkintown, in the adjoining county of Montgomery, who is as well posted on fruit-culture as any one in the commonwealth, read a paper at the late annual convention of the state fruit growers' association, in which the subject of peaches and peach-growing is discussed. He refers to no less than sixty varieties which he has grown, and gives the relative hardness of the trees. He says that he has not seen the export and locality had anything to do with the bearing of the trees, but that old trees did much the best. He has no good word for the early varieties of peaches which invariably rotted upon the trees by the time they were gathered. As a landowner he recommends Amelia, Bee's Snock, Bilye's Late Comet, Crockett's Late, Early Louise, Early Rivers, Golden Eagle, Hale's Early, Harkey's Seedling, Leatherberry Late, Late Admirable, Nanticoke, Price's Late President, Prince of Wales, Snock, Snow, Thurber and Troth's Early.

He can offer no good reason why the early varieties should bear abundant crops of perfect fruit, and utterly rot at the time when they should be marketed.

As to the "early" varieties, he says as much in the dark as others, though many assume to know a great deal about this disease, but have never shown that their assumptions have been realized. Mr. Satterthwaite is doubtless correct in his opinion, that the extinction of the disease has nothing to do with the removal of the roots. That the affected trees should be removed, and as promptly as possible, is a generally admitted opinion; but he shows how utterly impracticable the removal of the roots would be, if even they had anything to do with the propagation of the disease, when it is known, as he has himself proved it to be the case, that in some instances these roots run a hundred feet! The fact is, as Mr. S. impliedly admits, the cause and cure of the disease have yet to be discovered, and in the meantime we must fight it with whatever weapons the occasion may offer and may seem to be defective.

To Destroy the Sparrows.

Germanium Telegraph.

A Chester subscriber inquires the best way he can destroy the house sparrows without shooting them. He has tried trappings, but he finds it a slow process, &c. We are sorry that he should wish to destroy them at all. We make pests of them and destroy them with winter daily. Whatever may be the case with others, we have never yet discovered that they did any damage at all, and we have watched them for years closely; but we know that they kill myriads of insects, and that we never had such perfect fruit, peaches, cherries, &c.—as they have been among us in large numbers. However, should he desire to get rid of them, poison them now when there are no other birds, by placing screenings, canary-seeds or bread crumbs, soaked in arsenic water, and scatter on a roof where the poultry cannot share it. There will be no trouble, we should think, in killing every one of them. But we fancy he will be sorry for it.

I recently or inactive kidneys cause gravel, Bright's disease, rheumatism, and a host of other serious and fatal diseases, which can be prevented with Hop Bitters, if taken in time.

Virtue Acknowledged.

Mrs. Ira Mulholland, Albany, N. Y., writes: "For several years I have suffered from chronic migratory headaches, constipation, dyspepsia, and complaints peculiar to my sex, which were entirely relieved. Price $1. For sale at H. B. Cochrane's drug-store, 157 North Queen street, Lancaster."

Physicians say that scrofulous taint cannot be eradicated; we deny it. "In-to." If you go through a thorough course of Burdock Blood Bitters, you will get it out, and you can wash. Price $1. For sale at H. B. Cochrane's drug-store, 157 North Queen street, Lancaster."

Never too Late to Mend.

Thos. J. Arden, William street, East Buffalo writes: "Your Spring Blossom has worked on me splendidly. I had no appetite; used to sleep badly and get up in the morning, and my breath was very offensive and I suffered from severe eye troubles. Your Spring Blossom all these symptoms have vanished and I feel quite well. Price 50cts. For sale at H. B. Cochrane's drug-store, 157 North Queen street, Lancaster."
