RELIGIOUS NOVELTIES.

THE TENDENCY TO MIX WORLDBLY THINGS.

Sensational Announcements of Dramatically Disposed Clergymen.

An Irish girl said she joined the Methodist church "on suspicion," for six months.

The Congregational church at Harlem, New York, has hit upon the novel device of a "broom drill" for the purpose of raising funds. Sixteen young ladies of the congregation were arrayed in pretty, picturesque costumes, and armed with brooms, went through the military evolution with as much precision as regulars. The show is said to have attracted a large number of young men.

The following advertisement in one of the daily papers of one of our large Eastern cities is cited by a contemporary as showing that sensationalism may "run mad." "The Salvation Army is still advancing on the enemy. Sunday a high day in camp. 7 a. m., Knee-drill; inside Barracks at 10:45, when the Blood and Fire Brigade will be present; 3 p. m. War Memorials. For the last thirty years or more, there has been a growing disposition to advertise the pulpit, much in the same manner that the performances of star actors or musical entertainments are brought to the attention of the public and for the same purpose—to attract to the performance. Sometimes a strange theme, such as the "Unmotherhood of the Ostrich in the Desert" or an odd end of Scripture, with no obvious sense or meaning is announced.

The Presbyterian church in this city as an illustration of scrupulous young man: "A story is told of a member of a certain theological seminary who was so sensitive as to any suspicion of plagiarism that he never allowed himself to make the slightest quotation without giving his authority. One day he was asked to write a paper for breakfast thus: 'Lord, we thank Thee that we have awakened from the sleep which a writer in the Edinburgh Review has called the image of death.'"

A PASTOR'S ENEMY ENTRAPPED.

Investigating the Persecution of the Rev. Dr. Carnahan.

The Rev. Dr. Carnahan, who was pastor of the First Presbyterian church in Meadville, was tried before the presbytery an several charges a year ago and suspended. He founded the Park Presbyterian church, which was soon in a flourishing condition, as a majority of his former parishioners went with him. But the trouble from his enemies did not cease. Some time ago Mr. Shryock, one of the wealthiest men who followed Dr. Carnahan from the old church to the new, received a letter bearing all the evidences of having been written by Dr. Carnahan to his son in Ohio, and which (presumably by mistake) went into the wrong envelope, while the letter to Mr. Shryock had been sent to the son. This letter which began and closed with a complimentary address to a dutiful son, contained most slanderous, obscene and spiteful allusions to Mr. Shryock, the Hon. William Reynolds and A. M. Fuller, three of Dr. Carnahan's firmest friends. Mr. Shryock laid the letter away, sealed his lips, not even telling his wife, and quietly waited for developments.

In a few weeks Mr. Shryock was accosted by a prominent business man, who asked him with regard to the letter which he had received from Dr. Carnahan, and a few questions and a short investigation confirmed Mr. Shryock in his belief that the letter was a forgery. Dr. Carnahan and several other gentlemen were informed, detectives were set at work, and suspicion placed upon a person whom we there we find given, as no arrest has been made or public action taken in the matter. Decoy letters were sent from Akron to this person, who was led into the trap without any difficulty, and this, with other means employed, confirmed them in their first suspicion. The case has been carefully worked up, and one of the best criminal lawyers in the city has been employed by the prosecution. Other persons than those criminated are supposed to be interested, and further developments are looked for.

LIVELY RELIGIOUS JOURNALISM.

An Editor Who is Not Afraid to Say What He Thinks.

Elder J. F. Weishampel's Torch of Truth.

The people's cough lozenges 15 cts. or 2 boxes for 25 cts. sent free by mail. Address J. F. Weishampel, Lancaster, Pa. Best in the market.

Two years ago Elder W. R. Covert wrote a sarcastic article for the Church Advocate, which we took to be aimed at one of our Lancaster brethren and myself, and so replied to it in the same style as it was written—as like begets like. But we learn that Brother Covert had no reference to any one, and so we cheerfully recanted what we had written, and we would not desire to do injustice to any man knowingly. And we wish this dear young brother God's blessing in his labors.

Now the poor little seventy-four year old editor of the little unpretending Torch of Truth has brought the matter to a singling choir for their services, on the pre-fended pretext that such resolutions were "running the thing into the ground." He does not seem to think that the printing of highly flattering notices of his and his countrymen's grand hospitality to any one he can draw into his house, in the paper every few weeks, is also "running the thing into the ground." But self makes a difference.

Elder S. D. C. Jackson, whom we never expected to see again, and who has been a member of our church since the side of heaven, paid our city another visit this week before returning to Decatur, Ill., where he resides, and preached in Elder Seilhamer's pulpit two of his masterly sermons. We hope he will not be slated upon our highly lauding them; for we will not criticize his manner this time, as we perceive he does not like it. It is said of his countrymen, "If you wish an Englishman to be your friend, you must praise, but never find fault with anything he says or does." Some call him doctor, and we understand that he is a medical doctor, but not a D. D.—a degreed doctor of divinity, and we are glad of it; for we don't think any preacher of the gospel of the meek and lowly Jesus ought to strut about bearing a human title like that.

THE STATE CONVENTION.

Representative Democratic Opinions.

VIEWS OF THE STATE NEWSPAPERS.

A Veteran Journal "Agits" Eckley B. Coxe.

The Wilkesbarre Sunday News-Dealer insists that the Democrats should nominate Eckley B. Coxe, of Luzerne county, for governor, and believes he will accept. If he were elected and should decline to take the oath of office on the ground that he had violated the election laws, as he did when about to be sworn into the Senate, what then? This poking into every corner to find somebody or a nobody to set up for governor is ridiculous. Mr. Coxe's very thing that seems to have commended him to a few empty-headed people, would, taken from the bottom up, make heavily against him. Charged against him, on account of having violated the election laws, and credited to him is the negative merit of having refused to swear that he did not violate the laws. He simply committed one offense and then refused to commit another. His hindsight was better than his foresight. But the man the Democracy want as their candidate for governor is one whose hindsight and foresights are so accurately adjusted that he can "drive the centre" every shot. Cumberland county has instructed for a man of this kind.

Give Us a Late Convention.

D. H. Neiman's Eastern Sentinel.

The stalwart Republicans hold their convention on the 10th of May and the Independent Republicans on the 24th of May. What the result of these two contending republican factions may end in of course no one can tell. It is just as like as not that it may be feud and distraction, and we all know what that did for the great Democratic party in 1860. It split and disorganized us completely that we have scarcely yet recovered from the injury. May it not do the same for the Republican party? At any rate it is worth while to wait and see what the result may be, especially as our prospects cannot be harmed by a little delay. Then again new men in the Democratic party are constantly being brought to the front for the various offices to be filled next fall. Let the people have all possible time to canvass their merits. Surely nothing can be lost by a couple of months' delay as the election time is still eight months in the distant.

We must make no mistake in caudities this time. The election of our state ticket next fall is within the range of probabilities, and the committee must not do anything that will lessen our chances by forcing the party to hastily put its standard bearers in the field. Let the members of the committee, for the sake of the success of the party, disregard the wishes and whims of the would-be candidates and their duty as the members of the party desire it shall be done. Certainly we do not wish our nominations made before the latter part of July or the beginning of August. That will give us three months to work up the campaign and surely that will be long enough. Mr. Boyert is still at the helm and he can, in the meantime, put the machinery in working order.

Getting Ready for the Fight.

Barton H. Knobel's Lancaster Citizen.

If the expressions of the Democratic press reflect the opinions of the various communities, as they no doubt do, then it is very certain that the party is getting into most excellent shape for the important struggle of this year. Everywhere we find but one sentiment, and that is, that in order to win, it is only necessary to marshal the districts, call into active service every Democrat, young and old, and drill them for the work of the approaching campaign. That this will be long enough, Mr. Boyert is still at the helm and he can, in the meantime, put the machinery in working order.

Who that has ever lived any time in the country but must have heard of the virtues of Burdock as a blood purifier, and all disorders arising from impure blood or deranged liver or kidneys. Price 50 cents. For sale at H. B. Cochran's drug store, 137 North Queen street, Lancaster.

Visible Improvement.

Mr. Noah Bates, Elmira, N. Y., writes: "About four years ago I was afflicted with a violent fever, and never fully recovered. My digestive organs were weakened, and I could not completely protract for days. After using two bottles of your Burdock Blood Bitters the improvement was so visible that I was astonished. I can now, though 45 years of age, do a fair and reasonable day's work." Price 50 cents. For sale at H. B. Cochran's drug store, 137 North Queen street, Lancaster.
