FRIGHTFUL RUNAWAY.

A WILD HORSE ON THE RAMPAGE.

Scarcely a scene in Centre Square—a woman's fearful scream at 1 o'clock this afternoon.

Shortly before 1 o'clock this afternoon (Mr. Amos Shenk, of Mountville, accompanied by Mrs. Gladfield, of York, drove up in front of Haberbusch's harness store, in Centre Square.

While Paul Smith, one of Mr. Haberbusch's employees, was placing the new harness in the wagon, and Charlie Haberbusch had the horse by the rings of the bridle reins, the animal took flight, broke the hitching rein by which he was tied to the post, slipped the bridle from his head, and ran upon the pavement in front of Reed, McGraw & Co.'s bank.

Mr. Smith bravely sprang forward and seized the horse by the head and was almost thrown into the air as he tried to restrain the animal.
