to inquire his name. Not only is there one, but appearances indicate that there are two or three of them. On Friday night last as a young son of Mr. Wambaugh was returning home, prepared to meet the scoundrel, as he says, with a large stone in each hand, he was stopped, or rather assaulted. Not caring to hold any conversation with his assailant, he let fly one of the stones striking the cloak man fairly of the head, and with sufficient force. Instead of following up the advantage gained, he took to his heels in a direct line for home. His head must have been badly cut as a considerable amount of blood was found on the pavement next day. The following Saturday night a railroad man was stopped, but instead of Keeper Burkholder, and it was near this running away, laid down his bucket gate that Ehman was seen by Burkholder, and lamp, and piled upon him in who was on the watch, and Schoenberger such a manner that after getting several blows in his face, the cloak man took to from prison on the 1st of March, and from his heels. This occurred on Second street | which Burkholder ordered him away beabout 9 o'clock, yet another man was stopped on Third and Chestnut street at | was shown by the witness that Ehman had the same hour. The reason we say there must be more than one of these ruffians also of the bathroom and water-closet, about is, that it is hardly possible for a man to get his head cut one night and again go forth, and also that one man cannot be seen in two places at the same time. We do not publish this article with the in-tention of intimidating anybody, but that be taken from the room unless they our borough is infested with a cloakman were stolen. THE PRISON TROUBLES.

The Case of Geo. Ehman Before Ald. Wiley. The case of George Ehman, the boss baker at the county trison, who is charged by Prison-Keeper Burkholder with con spiring with Leonard Schenberger, a convict, to commit a larceny of cigars from the prison, was heard before Alderman Wiley this morning.

The testimony presented by the commonwealth was substantially the same as that taken by Alderman Spurrier last week holder, Under Keeper Albert Murr, and Jere Cooper, the prison salesman. The finding of Ehman's satchel containing 400 cigars in the barrels of potato sprouts outside the prison walls, where the refuse from the kitchen is usually carried, was rather more fully explained. The prison stable is outside the prison; the gate from the prison yard opens north near Orange street not far from the east wall of the prison yard. It was to open this gate that Ehman got the keys from Underkeeper Murr, who, as directed, notified Keeper Burkholder, and if was near this was seen loltering after his discharge fore the finding of the stolen cigars. It control of the bake house and kitchen, were he and Schonberger were when Mrs. Burkholder overheard them talking about the satchel. It was also shown that Eh man had no access to the cigar room, evoked when Mr. Burkholder in indentifythe go." It was proven that Schenberger jail and that he had no satchel when he was passed out of the front gate. It was A very pleasant surprise party was proved that the value in which the eigars given to Mr. Harry Sample last evening in were found belonged to Ehman and that were found belonged to Ehman and that key to it was in Schonberger's possession when he was arrested On cross-examination it was developed that nearly all the menial work in and about the prison is > ance the sentence imposed upon convicts by the courts. This raised a wrangle difficulty that Mr. Burkholder was afterwards enabled to get in an explanation in effect that about 125 convicts have ment; that there are only .75 cells in which to confine them; that when he entered upon his duties on the 2d of January, he found Schouberger and other convicts on duty in the bake-house, kitchen and other departments; and that he had left them there, at the request of the board of inspectors.

Dr. Lamson's Case. In the trial of Dr. Lamson, in London esterday, his counsel, opening for the defense, said he should put two propositions before the jury; first, whether the deceased died from the effects of aconitine and, second, whether the poison was wilfully administered by Dr. Lamson. He declared that no proof existed that would enable the jury to decide either affirmatively. The points dwelt upon in the cross-examination of witnesses for the prosecution have been the general ignorance concerning the effect of aconitine, the fceble condition of the health of the deceased, and the fact that, notwithstanding his feeble condition, he good than all the doctors and the medicine and so may have obtained access to chemicals with which it was known be sometimes before death was in the habit of amusing himself, and among which tined to his bed with malaria fever since Christmas, is, we are glad to say, able to be about the house.

Important scientific evidence will be given by eminent physiologists to prove that Mr. Stevenson's method of testing aconite by taste is fallacious. It will be shown that delphinia and other vegetable poisons have precisely the same taste, It will also be shown that all alkaloids found in the human body after death will poison the lower animals. It will be shown, too, that aconite is extensively used in medical-practice on the continent and in the United States for cancer, discases of the spine and other disorders. It may be admitted that Dr. Lamson administered aconite medically to the boy, and an attempt will be made to show that the boy was killed by the large doses of morphia given him by the doctors who treated him at the school. The prisoner preserves his nerve, and appears to be neither confident nor depressed.

> Amusements. Hague's Minstrels .- To-morrow evening Sam Hague's celebrated Buitish operatic minstrels will make their return visit to this city, ap pearing at Funton opera house in one of the most unique and artistic programmes ever presented by a minstrel organization. We can cordially commend this as one of the best companies that has ever performed in this city. In many respects, especially that of high class and really fine masic, it is unequaled by any other, and indeed it far surpasses more pretentious organizations. The entertainnent, whilst at all times refined, is pleasingly diversified by a vein of humor that never descends to the coarseness that too frequently mars minstrel performances. Hague's is an entertainment that ladies and gentlemen can hear with unmingled pleasure. There are thirty-nine performers, each one an artist.

RESCUED FROM DEATH The following statement of William J Cough lin, of Somerville, alass., is so remarkable that we beg to ask for it the attention of our readers. He says: "In the fall of 1876 I was taken with a violent bleeding of the lungs followed by a severe cough. I soon began to lose my appetite and flesh. I was so weak at one time that I could not leave my bed. In the summer of 1877 I was admitted to the City Hospital. While there the doctors said I had a hole in my left lung as big as a half coliar. I expended over a hundred dollars in doctors and medicine. I was so far gone at one time a repo went around that I was dead. I gave up hope but a friend told me of Dr. Ww. HALL's BALSA POR THE LUNGS. I laughed at my friends, thinking that my case was incurable, but I got a bottle to entisfy them, when to my surprise and gratification, I commenced to feel better. day I feel in better spirits than I have the past

ENGLISH COLLIERY HORBOR TO-DAY. The Lumley Saaft to Durham Falls Penning

DURHAM, March 14.—The shaft of the Lumley colliery has fallen in and one hundred and fifty miners are imprisoned. But faint hopes are entertained for their recovery.

[Durham is a maritime county in the north of England. Its general aspect is mountainous, particularly in the western part, where it is traversed by that range of hills to which the name of the English pital the Apennines has been applied. Numerous rivers, rising among the mountains in the west, flow through the valleys and empty into the ocean. Among these are the Tyne, the Tees and the Wear, all of which are navigable for a considerable part of thei. course, and have important towns and fair harbors at their mouths. The valley of the Tees, particularly near its estuary has a great deal of rich alluvial soil unde careful cultivation, or devoted to pasturage. It is here that the Durham cattle. so famous for their many excellent qualities, are most extensively reared. In the bleak table-lands of the western part, where cultivation is not attempted, are found rich veins of lead, and east of this region occurs the most extensive coal field of Great Britain, known as the Newcastle coal region: The capital city is Durham. an historic old town, an ancient Episcopa see, in external appearance at once attractive and imposing, and containing many handsome and interesting edifices, castles, cathedrals, educational institutions and the like. Prior to the opening of the col-·leries and the construction of the numerous railways which now intersect the county, Durham made little material progress, but the activity awakened by these great works gave a powerful interest to trade and population. - EDS. CONGRESS.

To-day's Proceedings in the Senate. WASHINGTON, March 14.- In the Senate to-day Mr. Morrill reported back the House bill discriminating duties ou tea and coffee, the products of the possessions of the Netherlands, with an amendment in the nature of a substitute making the measure a general one. Mr. Harrison, from the military com mittee, in response to instructions to inquire as to the propriety of increasing the appropriation for relief of the sufferers by the Mississippi floods, reported that the committee was unable even to approximate the number of such persons, the existing difficulties of communication in the flooded districts preventing them from discributing supplies. The secretary of war is of the opinion that fifty thousand people have been driven from their homes and are in need of help. It seems probable that relief must be extended for at least sixty days to come.

The committee, however, declines to re

The Auti-Polygamy Bill in the House The dead-lock in the House on the anti-polygamy bill was continued today. The Democrats insisted on having time for debate and to be permitted to offer amendments, but Haskell, who had charge of the bill, renewed his motion for the previous question, There was great confusion in the chamber. After some further noisy discussion it was agreed that the present legislative day be continued until the bill is disposed of; that the bill be open to amendment and debate under the five minute rule for one hour, and the previous question then ordered, after which au ad ditional hour will be allowed for bebate, and the bill then voted upon.

Annual Meeting of the Stockholders-The Usual Enlivening Interruptions from Lock wood and Parker. PHILADELPHIA, March 14.—The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Pennsylvania railroad was presided over this morning by Col. A. Louden Snowden, who in reviewing the history of the company, stated that since 1853, it had paid over $8,000,000 in dividends, or nine and a half per cent. per annum. The proceedings were culivened by the inter-ruptions of W. E. Lockwood- an! Edward F. Parker, and at one time Mr. Lockwood threatened to make revelations in regard to the mismanagement of the company's affairs which would throw the Nicholas Sope tract exposure into the shade. These interruptions were contin ued and a motion was made to accept the re port and thanking the officers for their fidel ity, but at the suggestion of the company's solicitor the motion was withdrawn. The reading of the report was then concluded. Judge Porter offered a resolution approving the report and thanking the officers and directing the incoming board of managers to carry its provisions into

Mr. Lockwood violently dissented, but was hissed into silence. A resolution was then adopted, and after a resolution of respect to the memory of the late Col. Scott, and endorsing the policy of the management in the matter of differential rates, the meeting ad-

LABOR TROUBLES AT PITTSBURGH Outrages l'erpetrated by the Striking Iron Workers.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., March 14 - The situation at Homestead is critical. The strikers were to have started to work at the mill to-day, but owing to a misunderstanding they have refused to resume until the matter has been arranged in accordance with what they believe to be the agreement.

This morning about six o'clock Henry Haley, a non-union man was found lying on the track badly beaten. He was taken to the poor-farm a short distance away and word was telephoned to the special police at Homstead to come to his assistance. Officers Hatch and Metcalf started for the poor-farm, and while on their way were fired upon by some persons hidden behind coal cars. The shot took effect in the bodies of both men, but neither was fatally hurt. The officers of the Amalgamated association, who deprecate such proceedings, started this norning for the scene to try and settle affairs without further trouble. A number of special police were also sent to pro tect city property in case of any serious disturbances.

ASSAULTED AND ROBBED. The Story Told by a Young Man from the Country.

Leishner, that he was a stranger in the city, that he had requested a man to direct him to Tenth and Market streets, and that instead of doing so the stranger took him in the opposite direc-tion to the docks, knocked him down and robbed him of $3 and a watch and then deliberately threw him over board. Leishner gives only an emperfect description of his alleged assailant.

PHILADELPHIA TRAGEDIES.

Death From Exhaustion—A Boy's Sur And Other Distressing Happening PHILADELPHIA, March 14.-An inquest was held to-day on the body of Jeremiah Drexel, aged 14, the soldiers' orphan, who died on Saturday afternoon, after having his frozen feet cut off, and from injuries supposed to have been inflicted by a farmer in Perry in One Hundred and Fifty Miners, for county, to whom he was indentured. The jury returned a verdict that death was the tained. result of exhaustion.
