The Star Route Cases.

The circumstances of Special Counsel W. A. Cook's withdrawal from the star route cases are not apt to leave a pleasant impression upon the country.

Since the death of President Garfield I have noticed the gradual freezing out process of all the original agencies in these cases, and when Mr. Gibson was squeezed out by the change of safe combination and request for his keys, I felt then that it would not be long before I was retired from the cases.

He complains that his detectives have been removed and others imported from Philadelphia to take their places; that indictments were prepared and sent in without his knowledge, and he deems it strange that the government counsel George Bliss, should have bought the organ of the star route thieves and retained their defenders as his editors.

The new administration and its attorney general, in whom, at least, the people have confidence, are not to be blamed for wanting and selecting their own assistants in causes of which the responsibility must now rest with them.

Extortionate Freight Rates. ED. INTELLIGENCER.—In an article in the columns of your paper of the 15th inst., I see the following question, viz.: "What is the tonnage per mile on President Roberts' road for the (3) miles from Columbia to Marietta?"

It will answer that question, and sorrowfully too, that it is about 25c. per ton per mile on freight for the line of the Reading & Columbia R. R. and connections.

Some intelligent Massachusetts gentleman, student of the scriptures, recently said when he declared, with reference to the revision of 1881: "If the version of St. James was good enough for St. Paul, it is good enough for me."

MR. H. K. PEPPER'S Carlisle Valley Sentinel thinks the latter part of June would neither be a very early nor a very late Democratic state convention, and ought to meet the views of all.

WHAT a particularly pure and honest man this pure and honest John Sherman must be! The stationery for his presidential campaign was stolen from the government; and the sugar and lemons; likewise the gas fixtures for the committee rooms, flowers and perfumery.

QUITE naturally the editor of the Lancaster Inquirer finds no "profit in holding any controversy with the INTELLIGENCER." Just as naturally the Inquirer fails to make any answer to the following query propounded to it for two successive weeks by the INTELLIGENCER:

Gerrymanders.

So influential a Republican journal as the New York Times can do itself and its party no discredit, and may do some good, by raising its voice against the gerrymander, for which the season is at hand in the new apportionment of states into congressional districts.

Since the death of President Garfield I have noticed the gradual freezing out process of all the original agencies in these cases, and when Mr. Gibson was squeezed out by the change of safe combination and request for his keys, I felt then that it would not be long before I was retired from the cases.

It is very unfortunate for much-needed public information on a topic of present popular interest, that a man who occupies such a favorable position to furnish it as the governor of Utah can give no better statement of the "crisis" in that territory than is furnished by Gov. Murray's article on this subject in the last number of the North American Review.

And as the Inquirer sets up for a censor of editorial ethics and wants to know if a lie is ever justifiable it may as well answer at the outset of the discussion, why it has denied that when its editor ran for Congress he gave Levi Semmes his note for $2,000, to be paid if elected—the note, pending his defeat, being held by a mutual friend.

THE TRAIL OF BLOOD.

At the late meeting in Philadelphia the other evening John Swinton, of New York, impressively said in his speech:

To you, men of Pennsylvania, all power is given over all things within your dominion, and you can fashion everything here according to your judgment of the proper nature of things. Yours is the land of the state, if you do but know it; yours are its mines of coal and iron, if you do but take them; yours are all its swelling resources as soon as you assert your right to them; yours are its institutions, yours its laws and Legislature, if you will but lay hold of them.

OUR DEAD SOLDIERS.

A Partial List of Their Names and Places of Burial—Further Information Desired—Some Interesting Data.

At a recent meeting of George H. Thomas Post 84, C. A. R., a committee was appointed to procure a full and complete list of all deceased soldiers buried in this city, together with their rank, the company and regiment to which they were attached, the date of their death, the name of the cemetery in which they were interred, the number of burial lot and whether the grave is marked or unmarked.

That the information desired may be as complete as possible the committee desire the friends and relatives of deceased soldiers to add them in the collection of the necessary data, which will be sent to the following named persons: James A. Nimlow, Centre square; John Black, Jr., corner Duke and Church; Hiram McElroy, corner Duke and Frederick; Geo. H. Kendrick, corner West King and Dorway; H. H. Baker, corner Chestnut and Mary, or any of the following named members of the committee: John H. Metzler, H. C. Weidler, Jacob Geiges, A. J. Bletcher.

Congress having made an appropriation to pay the expense of marking all unmarked graves of Union soldiers, the committee wish to get the list as accurate as possible, that the graves may be promptly marked. Below we print an incomplete list of the dead soldiers that was made several years ago. By the use of friends, the committee hope to have it made more perfect, when a correct record, with all the data obtained, will be recorded in a book prepared especially for the purpose by Post 84.

ENGEL'S MATRIMONIAL TROUBLES. The Court Orders Him to Pay His Wife $10 Philadelphia Record. An attempt was made in the decision court yesterday to reduce an order of $10 a week made upon Charles H. Engel for the support of his wife. Engel is the man who has gained notoriety by his amours with Ida Baigh, the refractory Columbia girl, who snaps her fingers at the officers seeking her return to this city upon a bail ticket. In her testimony yesterday Engel says she has been married three years, and that last fall she was driven from her home by her husband with only a few hours notice. Mrs. Engel refused to return to her husband, alleging that she was treated like a brute. She stated that she had been informed that Engel had lived at their parish street house with Miss Baigh, and that the couple had stopped at a Harrisburg hotel as man and wife. Engel's daughter, a former wife, a young miss 15 years old, testified that she had nothing improper in her father's relations with Miss Baigh, but this was neutralized by the introduction of a letter from Engel, in which he hinted that he had been criminally intimate with Miss Baigh. This settled the case, and the application for a reduction of the order was refused.

YESTERDAY Sheriff Hill sold on the premises in Salisbury township, 53 acres of land with two story brick-boarded dwelling house, with frame kitchen and shed and other outbuildings, and a large barn, seized as the property of Marg Pittman executrix and sole devisee of Edward Pittman, deceased, to Wm. E. Engel, for $3,375 subject to a mortgage of $1,750.

Court will meet on Monday morning at 10 o'clock when the argument week will begin.

SUFFERERS BY THE FLOODS.

85,000 People in Seven States Reported Dead.—A communication to the House from the secretary of war, estimates the number of the persons made destitute by the overflow of the Mississippi river and its tributaries at 85,000, as follows: Missouri 2,300, Illinois 2,000, Kentucky 800, Tennessee 5,000, Mississippi 30,000, Arkansas 20,000, Louisiana 25,000, and states that 13,000 rations have been distributed.

The communication further states that the appropriation already made is sufficient to purchase 800,000 rations of a substantial kind, and estimates that the supply will be exhausted in Arkansas, Mississippi and Louisiana about the 21st. An estimate can be made of the time during which the necessity for Congressional aid will continue. No further demands are expected from Illinois and Kentucky, but from Mississippi, Tennessee, Arkansas and Missouri. The department has information that the necessity for subsistence will continue for a period variously estimated at from thirty to sixty days. The department has no information from Louisiana, but it is thought that it may be placed in the same category as Mississippi.
